For the past sixteen years she has been housekeeper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Settlemore. KING GEORGE RETURNS TO HIS CAPITAL

London, (UP)—King George V returned to his capital Monday after an absence of nearly five months in which he was recuperating from his serious illness at Craigwell House and at Windsor Castle. The king's return was almost triumphant. The streets along the route were lined with tremendous cheering crowds, bareheaded despite the raw, cold day. Queen Mary, smiling and happy, sat beside the king as he rode toward Buckingham Palace. The re-entry into Buckingham Palace, which the king left on February 9, a very ill man, was made at noon. The royal party left Windsor Castle at 10:50 a. m. by automobile. When they arrived at Kensington, a suburb of London, they changed for the open royal carriage despite the inclement weather. With regal pomp they rode down the boulevards, escorted by the life guards bearing the royal standard. The position riders were in scarlet and gold and in semi-state livery, preceded by two outriders in similar livery. From Kensington the procession rode to Hyde Park, from there to Piccadilly and St. James, through Marlborough Gate, through the Mall and finally to the gates of Buckingham Palace. The king and queen acknowledged the cheering with smiles. Thunderous greetings met them along the whole route. In Piccadilly, where the streets were cleared of all vehicular traffic, every available inch of standing room was jammed. All classes and all casts participated in the reception. RECEPTION IS GIVEN NEW AMITY MINISTER Amity—A reception was given in the parlors of the Methodist church Friday evening in honor of Rev. To The Editor:—I notice in the Journal of Wednesday that Judge Blegmund and Road Master Culver discovered an ice cold spring on the Halls Ferry and Independence road. It will be news to them that 70 years ago there was a log school house near the branch from that spring about where the O. E. railroad line runs over the old trail. The present county road was opened in 1880 and the square where the logs had rotted down was plain to be seen at that time. It was near the John Snyder donation land claim. The families of John Snyder, Leabo, Tice and some of the Jays went to school there. Leonard Judson taught school there at one time. I bought part of the Snyder and Leabo claims in 1880 and have seen the time when it was an all day job to make the trip to Salem and back. Now it can be made in an hour and have some time in Salem. Yours, J. B. Parker, 480 N. 10th, Salem, Ore.

FORD SUED FOR INFRINGING PATENT

Los Angeles, (UP)—Charging the Ford Motor Company with infringement on his invention of an oil feeder, Albert E. Nichols yesterday filed suit in Federal Court asking damages it is believed will approximate one million dollars. The complaint alleged that the automobile manufacturers were at the present time using the feeder which had been patented by him. It asked for an injunction to prohibit the use of the invention and a court assessment of damages after an accounting. An amount three times the actual damages "in view of the deliberate and willful infringement" was asked in the complaint.

OIL STORAGE TANK BEING DISMANTLED

Woodburn—A crew of 18 men has been busy the past week dismantling the large oil storage tank of the Southern Pacific company in the Woodburn yards. This tank has a 50,000 gallon capacity and was erected in Woodburn about 25 years ago. The use of large engines on this section of the road has made its use unnecessary at this point and it is being shipped in sections to Altura, California on the new cut-off. The job has been a tedious one and the innumerable rivets which held the tank together at a distance of about 1 1/2 inches were cut one by one with an acetylene torch. The work will be finished Saturday night and the parts shipped Monday. The cost of the operation will be $2500.
