VANCOUVER TO LOSE BARRACKS TO FORT LEWIS

Vancouver, Wash. (AP)—The possibility that Vancouver barracks, an army post since 1942, might be abandoned and the 50 officers and 930 enlisted men garrisoned there, moved to Fort Lewis, Wash., was suggested here by Brigadier General James H. Reeves, commandant, in addressing the chamber of commerce. General Reeves upbraided the city for attempting through federal legislation to gain control of a narrow strip of land separating the barracks from the river.

The city plans to erect a line of wharves along the strip of land. The officers, General Reeves explained, make their homes near the barracks and would not care to be situated near a line of docks. He also attacked the city for cutting a street through the barracks and for attempts to so plot another street.

General Reeves denared Fort Lewis, with 96,000 acres of ground, would make an ideal place for training troops. Vancouver barracks, on the other hand, he said, is crowded, and even if it were divided into headquarters with a personnel of 75 officers and 120 men, could be exchanged for the seventh infantry now occupying the post.

The general said removal of the seventh infantry would take an annual payroll of $1,500,000 from the city.

A report of the theft was not made until Tuesday. The ring has a flower carved center, with diamond and amethyst setting.

LAST MAN'S CLUB REDUCED TO THREE

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—The Last Man's club, organized 45 years ago by 314 members of B company, first Minnesota volunteers, will hold its annual dinner next Sunday, but what once was a joyous banquet will be this year only a quiet dinner by three old men.

John F. Goff, 86, Peter O. Hall, 91, and Charles Lockwood, 87, are all that are left of the gallant company. This year they are dining at the home of Goff's daughter. In other days the dinners were held at the inn in Stillwater, Minn., but now the survivors have become too feeble to make the journey there.

In the center of the table Sunday night will be the bottle of wine which was obtained at the first gay gathering and which is to be drunk by the last living member to be used a toast to his departed comrades.

INSURANCE MAPS TO BE CORRECTED

In order that their maps may be brought down to date, the Sanborn Map company will send a force of men to the city within the next 30 days to check the numbers on dwellings and business houses. Word to this effect was received Tuesday by Homer Smith, local insurance broker. The Sanborn maps were thrown out of joint by a recent renumbering campaign instituted by the city. It is to correct this defect that the recheck will be made.

Persons who have not put up the numbers assigned them, and as required by the city ordinance, are urged to do so, in order that the Sanborn maps may be correct when completed.

Prior to the city's renumbering campaign, the Sanborn people made an offer to do the work, but no action was taken in the matter, Mr. Smith states. The Sanborn map acts as a "Bible" for insurance men here.

Convention Sidelights

Something that even some of the wisest delegates didn't know was told them Monday evening when F. P. Kenkel, of St. Louis, Knight of St. Gregory, gave his official report of the activities of the Central Bureau. The Central society, said Mr. Kenkel, is the only organization in the United States to maintain a chaplain at an institution. This organization maintains a chaplain at the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex.

"This is the most enjoyable convention I have ever attended and Salem is the finest convention city we have found," said Willibald Ebner, the national president of the Catholic Central society, informally Monday afternoon. Mr. Ebner also volunteered the information that he has been attending conventions for the past 48 years.

A Wisconsin luncheon was held on the parish grounds Tuesday noon. All of the 18 delegates from the state of Wisconsin were present.

Because she cannot make proper train connections, Mrs. Mary G. Hawks of Newark, New Jersey, president of the National Council of Catholic Women, will not arrive in Oregon until the convention closes, according to a wire which the Women's Union president, Mrs. So-

COUNTY PAYS $40 FLAT FOR STUDENT HAUL

Marion county will pay the Salem school district a flat rate of $40 per pupil for a year's transportation to Salem, high school, decided the district boundary board Tuesday morning after a conference with W. H. Burghardt, school clerk, and R. W. Tavener, acting superintendent, who represented the Salem district.

"When the district boundary board decided several months ago that the county 'would pay $40 per pupil for a year's transportation to Salem, high school, decided the district boundary board Tuesday morning after a conference with W. H. Burghardt, school clerk, and R. W. Tavener, acting superintendent, who represented the Salem district."

John A. Sullentrop of Colwich, Kansas, the man who looks like Lindbergh, says that this is his sixth convention and "the best yet."

Not only an efficient and inspiring presiding officer, but an excellent singer, as well as Willibald Ebner, the national president of the Central society, Tuesday morning Mr. Ebner led the entire delegation in singing "Arch Lebe Hoch" in special honor of Archbishop Howard, who arrived shortly after ten o'clock to spend the entire day at the convention.

One of the delegates from Eugene could not refrain from advertising the special program, "Sunset Trail," during the long break in Salem. The long side burn of one of the delegates, Dr. R. Rheinhardt, member of the faculty of the University of Oregon, was the cause of much comment around the convention halls.

Among the inspiring sights of the convention is to see the entire delegation of the two societies at eight o'clock mass in St. Joseph's church every morning. Many of the delegates are at committee meetings until late in the evening but find it possible to arise for the spiritual exercises. Visiting priests may be seen going to the parish church and the Sacred Heart academy chapel to commence their masses as early as five-thirty in the morning.

A "national choir" might be said to have sung the Gregorian chant at the Requiem High Mass for deceased members in St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning. Because the regular church choir was unable to be present a group of the delegates who are members of choirs at home offered their services. The celebrant of the Mass was Rev. A. Mayer of St. Louis, the spiritual director of the Catholic Women's union. The server was Rev. Pius O. F. M. of San Francisco. Charles Kork of Butler, N. J., past president of the central society, was organist, and the singers included Mrs. Frank C. Kueppers of St. Paul, Miss Amalia Otzenberger of New Uig, Minn., J. P. Rehme of St. Louis, Joseph Adler of New York City, Leo G. Prange of St. Louis, William Biehl of Madison, Wis., George Kunkel of Lafayette, Indiana, Louis J. Schoenstein of San Francisco, Felix Stoenling of Fredericksburg, Texas, W. A. Berger of St. Cloud, Minn., H. J. Horman of Tacoma, Wash., F. J. Dockendorff of LaCrosse, Wis., and John P. Dahm of Chicago.

Automobiles for the visiting delegates will be provided through the efforts of the chamber of commerce for a tour of the valley before reaching Mt. Angel college at 4 o'clock where lunch will be served the visitors. Nearly 50 automobiles will be in the parade. There will be parked on the south side of Chemeketa street facing east at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with the tour starting promptly at 2 o'clock.

Canada's only delegate at the Central society national convention, Rev. Father Ch. A. Kierdorf, O. M. I., who represents the Volks Verein of Canada, has been honored with a full delegate's privileges and credentials. This is the second year that the Canadian Volks Verein has been represented at the national convention. Father Kierdorf's home is in Winnipeg, Manitoba, and he holds the office of immigration secretary, V. D. C. K. in Winnipeg.

CHINESE CONSUL AGREES TO GO

San Francisco (AP)—Agreements signed by Ying Kao, Chinese vice consul here, and his wife, center of an international sensation because $500,000 worth of opium was found in her baggage, to leave this country by August 5, were forwarded to Dr. C. C. Wu, Chinese ambassador Tuesday.

The promises were made at the request of Kuomintang, semi-official organ of the San Francisco Chinatown.

They were intended as pledges of willingness to abide by the order of Dr. Wu at Washington recalling Ying Kao.

Suen Poon, chancellor of the Chinese consulate here, who also was implicated in the case, agreed to leave by August 5, if his innocence could not be proved before then. Poon was ordered recalled when similar action was taken against Ying Kao.

However, the trio has not yet been released of charges brought against them by the United States government. The envoy and Mrs. Ying Kao were arrested and released on $10,000 bonds each after complaints were issued accusing them of violating the Jones-Miller act by a conspiracy to smuggle.

The final account of Effie G. Moon, executor of the estate of Arthur H. Moon and Mary P. Moon, will be heard September 3 at ten o'clock ordered Judge Siegmund.

DRY LAW RAID KILLING GRILLED BY LUTHERANS

Fort Wayne, Ind. (AP)—An attack on "dry raid killings" was made at the international convention of the Waltham League, by J. G. Gallmeyer, Fort Wayne, president. The convention will conclude Tuesday.

The Lutheran church of which the Waltham League is a young people's organization, "believes in regulation through Christian influence and not through a policeman's club," Gallmeyer said.

Rounds of applause greeted the president's address as he defended modern youth. He declared "that the present generation is as fine and chaste as that of any age, although there is constant danger of certain groups forcing their conception of morality into laws and not only placing them upon our statutes but writing them into the constitution of our state and nation."

"We view with disfavor the killing of American citizens under the guise of constitutional right when by these very acts the basic protection which our constitution affords, is denied these citizens."

"We, as a religious organization, object to the mixing into state affairs by religious bodies and the trying to use the arm of the state to enforce adherence to their viewpoints," Gallmeyer said.

WHEAT PRICES SURGE HIGHER

Chicago, (AP)—Wheat prices fluctuated wildly here Tuesday as the Chicago pit surged with the largest volume of trading in its recent history and the season developed into a contest as to whether new long contracts get in their orders as fast as the old holders made realization offers.

Monday's eight cent advance was the inspiration for tremendous profit taking, in spite of the fact that there was no abatement in the crop damage news from Canada and the American northwest. At midday futures deliveries of wheat were selling from two and five eighths to two and seven-eighths cents below Monday's close, July and December $1.35, September $1.29 and November $1.45.

Speculation to the spring wheat crop of northwestern states and the prairie provinces of Canada, due to a long period of high temperatures and light rainfall, has been the cause of a world-wide bull movement in wheat, advancing price around 40 cents a bushel since the latter part of May. The department of agriculture estimates the world's supply of wheat will be about 200,000,000 bushels less than in 1928.

GROUND TO DEATH IN MERRY-GO-ROUND

La Grande, Ore. (AP)—While his young wife stood helplessly by, Harold Eugene Reed, 29, of Yakima, Wash., was ground to death in the gears of a carnival merry-go-round at Elgin, Ore., Monday night.

Reed, operator of another concession, went on top of the merry-go-round, it was said, to aid in finding lightning trouble. He slipped, struck the large gears and was rolled through them. His back was broken and he was terribly mangled.

Reed was married nine months ago. He started his carnival career in April of this year, three weeks ago joining the Wrightman Amusement company.

KITTENS' FOREPAWS LIKE HUMAN HANDS

Marshfield, Ore. (AP)—Kittens with forepaws resembling human hands are the latest addition to the world of freaks. Mrs. Roy Cederstrom of Coos Bay Tuesday told of the birth of four kittens, each with their forepaws flattened. Some, she said, have as many as four "fingers" and each has a sort of thumb.

Other than walking with flat forefeet in a peculiar manner, the kittens are normal. Mrs. Cederstrom said.

Engineers of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company will be accompanied by W. J. Culver, county roadmaster, when they make a survey trip Wednesday of the proposed route of their underground conduit through Marion county, a necessary link in their new conduit for Portland to San Francisco long distance lines. The county court ruled last week that the telephone company must lay its conduit ditch at least 25 feet from the center of the road bed along the county roads through which they asked a right of way.

Horta, Azores (AP)—Major Casimir Kubala, painfully injured himself, tried in vain to rescue his comrade, Major Ladwik Idzikowski, from their burning plane, the Marshal Pilsudski, when it crashed in Graciosa island Saturday night ending a trans-Atlantic venture.

The first complete account of the disastrous termination of the two Polish fliers' brilliant attempt to fly from Le Bourget to New York was given to the Associated Press Tuesday by a witness, one of those who sought to save the lives of both airmen.

His narrative revealed that both Kubala and Idzikowski were found strapped inside their plane, which was upside down in a corn field, near the village of Santa Cruz. Idzikowski's legs appeared to be broken, and so pinned beneath him he could not be extracted from the cabin before the gasoline tanks exploded and set the plane afire.

Those attempting the rescue believed Idzikowski was already dead when finally the advancing flames made them desist. Kubala, slightly dazed with fumes from the gasoline tank, which had been opened to permit dumping, attempted to rush into the cabin, a virtual cauldron of flame for one last effort, but the crowd held him back.

Major Idzikowski's body was not removed from the plane until daybreak Sunday, a military guard standing by all night. A ceremonial funeral was given it Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m.

The Polish training ship Iskra arrived at Santa Cruz at 8 p. m. Sunday and the body was withdrawn from its vault and placed aboard Iskra for transportation to Poland.

The Iskra will bring the body and Major Kubala to Horta. Major Kubala's condition has caused no anxiety. He received painful injuries to the head.

FALLS TO DEATH FROM FAULTY SCAFFOLDING

Faulty scaffolding is responsible for the death of one man and serious injury to another since Monday afternoon and the injury last week of a third.

While painting a house at 1974 Hazen avenue about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon Felix Weimann, 52, living at 2107 North Commercial, fell to his death when the scaffold slipped from beneath a ladder. Weimann struck the concrete on his face and died within a few minutes. Persons living in the vicinity found him breathing when they arrived. He was dead before the Golden ambulance could reach the scene of the accident.

Weimann was unmarried and was the owner of considerable real estate in the city. The house upon which he was working was his own property. He is survived by his father, Andrew Weimann, of Salem.

Stepping from a scaffold which was not protected by a guard rail, Peter Philippe, 65, of 650 D. street, fell about 25 feet to the gravel and railroad tracks while working at the old Kings Products plant in North Salem at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Philippe received a fractured right leg, a possible broken shoulder and internal injuries. He was rushed to the Salem General hospital by the Golden ambulance.

When the scaffold broke while working at the peak of a two-story barn for Ed Coesh near the old boys' training school late last week, he received a fractured leg and head injury. Fracture was taken by ambulance to the Willamette Sanitarium.

One tenth of the money received from the sale of her property at Brooks and Highland avenue will go to the Church of God, her good dishes and clothes to her daughter, her pictures to those whose names are written on the backs, $50 each to some close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson of Portland and to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, and the remainder of her estate valued at $6,500 to be divided among her three sons and three daughters, according to the terms of Mrs. Mary C. Baumgardner's will admitted to probate in the local court Tuesday morning. Mrs. Baumgardner died here July 16 at the age of 83 years. Her estate will be appraised by Ross Goodman, J. J. McDonald and F. P. Runcorn.

PETE REINHART BANQUET GUEST

Los Angeles, (AP)—Loren W. Mendell and R. B. "Pete" Reinhart, holders of the world endurance flight record which they set at Culver City, Cal. last week, were feted at a private banquet here Monday night given by the Portland Oil company for the fliers, newspapermen, airport officials and aviation leaders of southern California.

The banquet was the first reception for the aviators since their landing last Friday after a flight of 248 hours, 43 minutes, 22 seconds. More than 400 guests heard an array of speakers including Major Carl Spata, commander of the famous tribute Mark endurance flight pay tribute to Mendell and Reinhart.

The fliers are appearing throughout the week at a theater here and may tour the Pacific coast on a vaudeville circuit, it was announced.
