

CLUB OUTING AT RICKREALL BRINGS CROWD

Dallas—The second annual picnic for the boys and girls of the 4-H club, held at Rickreall park Wednesday, drew a large crowd, numbering 249.

J. R. Beck, the county agricultural agent, was in charge of the day's entertainment of which games and contests occupied most of the time. Members north of the Hawthorne highway competed with those to the south as the highway is the approximate dividing line of this county's members. Those to the south were the winners. Special prizes were made possible through the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, the Monmouth, and Independence creameries.

George N. Angell, editor of the Oregon Farmer, led in the singing of the club's songs, and J. B. Critch of Salem, state superintendent of public instruction, gave the only address of the day. His subject was "Reliability."

The number of members now enrolled to 500 boys and girls throughout the county.
