Realtors' Wives to be Entertained

Garden and bridge parties, theater parties, a drive through the city, pipe organ recital, a luncheon, several dances, and a banquet are included in the entertainment planned for the wives of realtors from all parts of the northwest and California who will be in Salem next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday for the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest real estate association.

The convention guests will arrive Tuesday evening and early Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon while delegates are attending convention sessions, the women guests will be entertained at a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., on North Summer street. The McGilchrist's have one of the city's most attractive gardens and this is the first time this season that it has been opened to the public. Cars will take the guests from their hotels to the McGilchrist's home.

Thursday morning the women guests will be entertained at a theater party at Blythe's Capitol theater. A drive through the city and an inspection trip of the linen mills is planned for Thursday afternoon.

No entertainment to conflict with the home-town speaking contest Thursday will be arranged as it is considered likely that all guests will wish to attend the speaking contest at the Grand theater which will be one of the big features of the convention. Before the contest opens an organ recital will be given by Melvin Ogden, formerly organist at the Broadway in Portland who is now real estate salesman for the F. L. McGuire company of Portland.

A no hostess luncheon is planned for Friday at one thirty at the Elks clubhouse on State street. Bridge will be in play during the afternoon at the club house.

Entertainment for the visiting women is being arranged by a committee which includes Mrs. LeLace Ellis, chairman, William McGilchrist, Jr., and Lee McCallister. The women will be guests at the convention banquet in the armory Friday evening. Dancing will follow the banquet. On Wednesday evening the Salem realtors will entertain their guests at the regular old time dance at the armory.
