HANGAR BIDS WILL BE EYED BY COMMITTEE

To make a recommendation on bids submitted two weeks ago for construction of the hangar at the Salem Municipal airport the airport committee will meet before the council meeting Monday night.

The award apparently lies between A. J. Anderson and A. A. Siewert. While Anderson was the lowest bidder there is a matter for adjustment in regard to the type of door to be used. Anderson's bid was $13,800, with a deduction of $2955 if concrete floors and apron were not used. Siewert's bid was $14,142, with a deduction of $3734 without concrete floor and apron.

An application will probably be made before the council meeting Monday night by the Shell Oil company for permission to lay a line and equipment for gasoline conveyance at the airport. This authority was given at the last meeting to the Associated Oil company, but it was not granted as an exclusive privilege.

A resolution will be introduced Monday night to change the rules of the council providing for a plumbing committee as one of the standing committees. It will substitute an incinerator committee instead. The reason for this change, which was authorized by preliminary action two weeks ago, is that the duties of the plumbing committee have been taken over by the city building inspector.

Millionaire, Wife And Pilot Die When Speed Boat Crashes

Alexandria Bay, N. Y. (AP)—W. Charles Lipe, Syracuse millionaire manufacturer, his wife and Ford Dodge, his pilot, are believed to have drowned when their speed boat crashed into a pleasure boat in mid-channel of the St. Lawrence river Friday night.

The Lipe craft, the "Giggle" smashed at full speed into the excursion boat "Thousand Islander" and sank almost immediately. The Thousand Islander, her hull damaged, raced with its 60 passengers shoreward and was beached on a ledge six feet under the river surface.

The excursion boat, commanded by Captain Devilia Rogers, was returning from a trip to beauty spots of the immediate vicinity and was brightly lit, its searchlight was playing about the lake. Lipe's speeding craft rounded an island point and plowed into the bow of the pleasure boat.

"I didn't see the other boat approaching," said Captain Rogers, "the first thing I knew our bow was struck. Then I saw bodies from the other boat thrown high into the air."

The Thousand Islander passengers were ordered to don life preservers as a precaution.

Lipe and his party were bound for the Thousand Island yacht club from their summer home on Nemabbin Island. They were identified from the name plate on his boat which was found imbedded in the steamer.

Many boats were on the scene Saturday seeking the bodies of the missing and Alexandria bay authorities sent out Ogdenburg, for divers. The Thousand Islander boat is a 60-footer, one of a fleet employed in carrying sightseers.

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—W. Charles Lipe, believed to have perished with his wife and their pilot Friday night in a collision with his speed boat and an excursion boat, in the St. Lawrence river, inherited a large portion of a fortune of more than $5,000,000 from his father, Willard C. Lipe, one of the leaders of the Gear Industries of Syracuse.

WOODBURN IS GIVEN AWARD

Elbert Bede of Cottage Grove, Dr. A. B. Starbuck of Dallas, and Morton Tompkins of Yamhill county served as a board of arbitration Friday in awarding to Woodburn in its dispute with the Canby school district relative to the transportation of school pupils. The meeting at which the decision was rendered was held before State School Superintendent C. A. Howard and was attended by 35 persons.

The decision upheld the Marion county boundary board, which favored the Woodburn route for the said pupils. It was also decided that the pupils both of Marion and Clackamas counties. It was rejected, however, by the Clackamas county board, although the Canby route would have accommodated only Clackamas county pupils.

GASOLINE TANK CAR TURNS OVER ON STREET HERE

Ten thousand gallons of gasoline, contained in a tank car, were sent skidding across the pavement at Court and Front streets about 10 o'clock Friday night as the result of the rear truck on the car splitting a switch.

The accident occurred as a south bound Oregon Electric freight train was proceeding over the company's front street freight tracks. The forward wheels passed over the switch safely, but the rear ones took to a side track, the car turning over and was dragged sideways several feet before the train was halted.

Escaping gasoline, leaking from the overturned car made a hazardous situation as a lighted cigarette or a spark might have touched off the 20,000 gallons of gasoline which were in the wrecked car and one immediately forward. Switching crews were unable to remove the second car, which remained on the track, owing to the fact that the coupling between it and the wrecked one was distorted.

A Southern Pacific wrecking outfit from Albany was brought to the scene about 12:30 Saturday afternoon and the tank was rolled into an upright position after which the gas was pumped into automobile trucks and taken to a storage tank.

The Southern Pacific tracks were not blocked by the accident.

Police were on guard during the night and forenoon warning smokers to stay away, while a canvas was spread over the car and water sprayed on this to keep the car from absorbing too much heat from the sun's rays.

PRIZE AWARDS FOR CLUB WORK AT FAIR LARGE

Nearly $5,000 in scholarships and premiums from the state fair board, Governor I. L. Patterson's special prizes, and numerous other specials will be awarded to the boys and girls in 4-H work, when they exhibit at the Oregon State fair, September 23 to 28, according to Mrs. Ella S. Wilson, secretary of the fair board.

A group of the young people who have been outstanding in this work, which will include two boys and two girls from every county in the state, will be here during fair week as guests of the state fair board. They will live in the beautiful concrete dormitory, will be responsibly supervised, and will not only have this opportunity of seeing the whole fair, but will learn to know each other, and find out what other districts are doing. Everything will be furnished them except bedding, which each must provide for himself.

Governor Patterson's awards will be divided among the state champion pig club member, who will receive a $50 registered gilt, the state champion sheep club member, who will be awarded a $50 yearling ewe; the highest girl in sewing, who will receive a Martha Washington sewing case and a low rocker, and the girl highest in cooking, who will receive a pressure cooker.

Besides the numerous premiums and scholarships to the annual summer school at the Oregon Agricultural college, there will be many special prizes including a purchased Oxford lamb, a Jersey calf, a Holstein Jersey calf, a Guernsey calf and a combination seeder and wheel hoe. These are only a few of the extensive awards for competition.

In previous years each county's exhibit has been showed altogether. While this has many advantages, the state club leaders believe that the work will be shown to greater advantage if the same kind of work from each county be exhibited together, in order that judges and audience can gain a better idea of comparative values. This system will be tried out this year for the first time, according to J. W. Critch, superintendent of club work, who is in charge of the arrangements for displaying.

Others in charge of the state work are H. C. Seymour, state club leader, Corvallis; Helen Cowgill and L. J. Allen, assistant club leaders, also of Corvallis, and R. C. Keuhner, The Dalles, assistant.

UNDERWRITERS NOT REQUIRED TO PAY DEFICIT

Positive assurance that the men who underwrote the 11th annual state convention of the American Legion would not be called upon for any contribution arising from a possible deficit in convention finances was given Saturday by H. C. (Pod) Mason, executive chairman. Letters are being prepared to this effect by convention headquarters, which will be maintained at the armory for a day or two next week.

A detailed financial statement will be presented the commission as soon as a few more details are completed. That there will be a slight deficit is conceded but the margin between receipts and expenditures is so slight that Capital Post No. 9 will be able to meet the obligation without calling upon the underwriters.

Work of winding up the convention accounts is progressing rapidly with some small bills yet to be presented. As soon as these are taken care of the commission will consider itself disbanded. A complete report will be given at the next meeting of the post.

CHIEF TAKES MAN ON UNWILLING RIDE

Chatham, Mass. (AP)—Police Chief Everett Eldredge visited a local automobile salesroom as a prospective customer.

"Take that car out for a spin and try it," suggested the salesman, pointing to a machine which was parked, with motor running, in the yard.

Eldredge hopped in and drove away.

Shortly afterward he re-appeared.

"I wouldn't buy a car that knocked the way this one does," he complained.

At this point, Leo Leblanc, grimy faced mechanic, crawled from beneath the automobile. It developed that he had been working under the car and during the trial run, had saved himself from injury by holding himself suspended between the drip pan and an axle.
