

SUNDAY SCHOOL COUNTY LEADER BURIED MONDAY

Funeral services for Ethel Caroline Klampe, 25, were held from the Rigdon mortuary Monday with interment in the Belle Passi cemetery at Woodburn, Oath occurred at Labiah Center Prilay following an illness of a year. She was married to Hollis F. Hanes of Labiah Center, September 27, 1927, who survives.

For three successive terms she was president of the Marion county Christian Endeavor union, resigning in July of this year because of ill health. She was elected president of the Evangelical Christian Endeavor society at Jefferson when only 13 and held office for years. She was converted at twelve under the ministry of Rev. E. G. Hornschuch and received her early education in the Jefferson public schools, graduating from the eighth grade in 1918 with the highest average grade in the county. She also received highest honors when she graduated from the Jefferson high school four years later.

Mrs. Hanes began teaching school at the logging camp of the Silverton Lumber Co. at Mehama in 1922 where she also organized a Sunday school. In 1923 she was elected teacher for district No. 143 at Labiah Center, where she organized a Sunday school and Christian Endeavor society. The following year she taught the third and fourth grades at Jefferson.

Besides her husband she is survived by her parents, W. F. and Jennie Klampe and three sisters, Grace, Frances and Arlene, and two brothers, Valmer and Leslie, all of Salem and another brother, Chester, of Oshkosh, Wis. For the last year she had been serving as correspondent for the Capital Journal.

LUMBER FIRM TRUCK IN ACCIDENT AGAIN

Turner—A new Ford truck owned by the Turner Lumber and Manufacturing company, was badly damaged in a wreck on the highway near the girls' industrial school.

The accident occurred when a sedan was driven onto the highway out of a blind cross road directly in front of the truck, which was being driven at a moderate rate of speed. The driver, Cecil Martin, was unable to avoid the crash, although applying brakes and sliding the wheels a considerable distance. Both the truck and sedan were damaged to the extent of around $125 each for repairs. The driver of the sedan, an elderly man, received a fractured rib and was considerably shaken up. Martin received only slight chest bruises. Traffic was held up on the highway until the wrecked cars could be moved. The Turner Lumber and Manufacturing company also had a truck that was entirely demolished sometime ago in a train wreck.

West Salem—Miss Evelyn Emerit of Pratum preached at the morning service in the Ford Memorial church Sunday. In the evening Rev. Mickey, a superannuated minister of Salem, had charge of the service.

The pastor, Rev. M. A. Groves, Mrs. Groves and young son are away on their vacation, which they are spending with Groves' parents in Roseburg.

ZONE MATTER SPECIAL ORDER

By passing a motion made by Alderman Purvine at Monday night's meeting of the city council, the petition of T. W. Campbell for a change of zone on 24th street so that he may establish a grocery business within a residence building was made a special order for the next council meeting.

The city planning commission recommended adversely on this. Several weeks ago the council instructed the planning commission to prepare an amendment to the zoning ordinance whereby this could be taken care of without actually changing the policy of the commission and the intention of the ordinance. The commission has been unable since to get a quorum.

Since Campbell is said to have the necessary names and property representation on his petition Purvine said the council would have authority to act.
