Woodburn-There were 259 ch-tries in the 3rd annual Flower Show of the Woodburn Garden club which was held in the assembly room of the public library Friday and Sat-urday. The exhibit was noted for the high quality of blooms and the many new and rare varieties of dah-lias and gladiol shown, grown from expensive tubers and bulbs. The display was very colorful and well arranged and many persons visited the show, which was highly success-ful.
