

TURKEY OUTPUT UP TO PERCENT; PRICE PUZZLES

Portland (UP)—With a turkey output greater than during any previous season, there is naturally more than normal speculation in the trade as to the probable price that will rule for the holidays.

Last season can scarcely be a criterion as to what will happen during the Thanksgiving trade for 1929, inasmuch as there are two important factors to consider.

First of all it is known that there is a decrease of fully 19 per cent in the available supply of turkeys in this territory. Then again it is noted that the birds, as a rule, will weigh considerably more than for last Thanksgiving.

Official Washington Hoping For Decisive Crash, Then Harmony

Washington (UP)—Responsible officials here are not so much concerned about the break in the stock market as they are that the business, painful though it may be to individuals affected, be over quickly.

They fear the effects of a long gradual decline filled with months of discouragement rather than sharp, quick break which will end suspense and reveal the worst without delay.

Officials in closest touch with the general financial and business situation are confident the effects of the break will not extend into general business here on the country.

TRANS-AMERICA STOCK PASSES FRISCO CRISIS

San Francisco (AP)—Trading in Trans-America corporation, temporarily suspended on the San Francisco stock exchange at the opening Tuesday morning, was resumed shortly before 10 a. m.

The opening quotation was 30 1/2, an over-night loss of 30 1/2 points. The market value of the stock was more than cut in half upon the basis of first San Francisco prices.

Montgomery street was in a furnace of excitement when it became apparent that the heavy support of Bank of Italy interests, which so far during the market crisis had maintained the price within a range of one or two points of 62 1/2, had been nullified by the overnight landlards of individual selling orders.
