Stayton—While handling a loaded shotgun in his drug store, C. A. Beachamp accidentally pulled the trigger, discharging the contents of the shotgun lengthwise through a glass display case.

Damage From Fun Results Of Prankster

Woodburn—The result of Halloween pranks in Woodburn was the breaking of expensive windows in the Gula building occupied by J. F. Nathman, the Coe building and the Methodist Episcopal church. Fun, when carried to such an extent ceases to be fun and there is much indignation from people who are put to so much needless trouble and expense by thoughtless youngsters.

HOUSE IS DAMAGED BY WOMAN AUTOIST

Hubbard—Mrs. Clara Reichel of Woodburn had a minor accident Friday morning as she was driving into Hubbard. In turning the corner at Garland's barbecue she lost control of the car and it ran into the Hugh Wells residence, hitting with considerable force. The driver was not injured, nor was the car damaged beyond repair but the side of the house received the brunt of the impact.

HUBBARD PEOPLE AID IN DALLAS ACTIVITY

Hubbard—Dr. and Mrs. A. F. de Lespinaise and daughter, Marie, accompanied by Dorothy Scholl assisted the Dallas band at the first costume Halloween parade and party given in Dallas Thursday evening. The latter three were guests of the band, the former in director program given by the Mothers' circle and by the school at the school-house Thursday evening.

FORMER GOVERNOR OF DAKOTA TAKEN

LODGE COSTUME PARTY SUCCESS FOR SILVERTON

Silverton—The dress up party given at the Pythian hall Thursday evening to members by the Pythian sisters was one of the best things of its kind ever held here.

There was a Scandinavian old ladies' costume, ruffed waist, long long skirt, tufted bonnet and all worn by one of the Emil Lee daughters which had belonged to her grandmother. This costume won first prize. Mrs. Bert Meyers was garbed in a gown with a much ruffled shoulder cape belonging to Mrs. Ralph Coroden's mother. Mrs. Emil Lee wore some old-fashioned home spun clothes, the cloth of which was still beautiful, although many decades old. J. D. Drake wore a pair of home spun trousers, the cloth of which was woven by his grandmother when she was a young lady.

Three men who made splendid and fascinating looking women were Neal Cooley, Eddie Kottke and Nevil Powell. After much deliberation Powell was given first prize. Joe Staynor, large framed, tall and loose pointed, made an excellent rigger and not only looked the part but acted it as well. There were many others who were well gotten up. The whole affair was an assembly of excellent costumes.

TAX COLLECTIONS SLOW FOR DALLAS

Dallas—After three slack days of tax paying this week, Thursday was the first rush day when $22,877.00 was collected by Sheriff T. B. Hooker and his deputies, while $52,743.09 was the amount deposited with Treasurer Hamilton for taxes, by the sheriff Friday morning.

SCOTTS MILLS BOY SCOUTS HOLD PARTY

Scotts Mills—The Boy Scouts, under supervision of their Scoutmaster, Carl Millard, and Assistant, H. S. Dixon, spent Halloween evening in the gymnasium, playing scout games until 9:30 o'clock. They were then invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rich with Mrs. H. S. Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rich, as hostess. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing Halloween games. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Albert Rich and Mrs. Carl Millard helped with the serving.

Those present were Paul and Robert Shepherd, Jack Taylor, Carl Johnson, Averil Fry, Homer Millard, Orvil Broag, William Lunderback, Charles Littlepage, John Thomas, Wilson and James Myers, and Walter Scott, Floyd Shepherd and J. O. Dixon, committeemen, were also present. The Scouts are planning to move their headquarters to the gym.

Final Oat Feed Enjoyed By Nag Of Scio Section

Scio—Fred, one of the best known horses in the Scio country, has gone to the happy hunting grounds. His bones are being charred, the while Dr. Brown's foxes are feasting on the flesh that was carved from the bones.

Fred's age is variously estimated from 25 to 35 years. He had performed yeoman service under many different owners, always in the near vicinity of his birth and death. His last owner was J. B. Sanders, who used the faithful old sorrel horse about a year. Sam Gaines, who has lived in the vicinity of Scio for 75 years, had Fred during the animal's best days.

Fred had been a spirited animal in his day. Even in his dotage he could his a lively clip under certain conditions. Less than two weeks ago, according to Sanders, the horse took fright at something near Sanders' place while attached to a spring wagon. Sanders was in the rig—until he observed that the animal was headed for the large tank near the house, with no probability of missing it. Rather than remain for the violent impact, Sanders leaped from the rig and watched the crash that came a few seconds later.

Regardless of the lively stunt he staged at the close of his eventful career, Old Fred won the everlasting gratitude of many an owner and carried an eternal home in horse heaven with oats everywhere and grass up to his eyes.

MACHINE OVERTURNS DRIVER IS PINNED

Amity—Mrs. Stella Ballou, who lives a mile south of Amity, had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday morning when enroute to her school near Willamina, her car struck some loose gravel near the A. O. Deaver place one mile west of Amity, and turned turtle. Mrs. Ballou was unable to get from under the car until a passing motorist came to her rescue. The car was badly damaged, two wheels torn off and other parts badly bent. Mrs. Ballou escaped with minor injuries.

TURNER WOMEN GIVE TEA FOR AID BENEFITS

Turner—One of the most delightful affairs of the autumn season was the Halloween silver tea of the Methodist Episcopal Ladies' Aid society, given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. H. Small. Halloween suggestions and novelties, combined with bowls of yellow, white and pink chrysanthemums were used for decorations. Nearly 30 guests were in attendance.

An impromptu program with instructions from witches and black cats was cleverly carried out. Song by all, devotionals by Mrs. Fred C. Gunning, vocal duet by Mrs. W. A. Martin, and Mrs. William S. Burgoyne, readings by Mrs. C. A. Bear, piano solo, Mrs. George Naderman of Salem, and musical readings by Mrs. William S. Burgoyne. Refreshments in keeping with the Halloween season were served at the tea hour by the joint hostesses, Mrs. I. H. Small, Mrs. William S. Burgoyne, and Mrs. J. W. Hanson. Guests in the group present were Mrs. Earl Bear and daughter, Amy Eunice, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Leota Sloan, Mrs. Earl Percy of Salem, Mrs. Neal Edwards, Mrs. D. B. Parker, Mrs. M. A. Hill, Mrs. Fred C. Gunning, Mrs. Ted Whitehead, Jr., and daughter, LaVerne, Mrs. L. Roberts and children, Alice, Barbara and Dean, Mrs. C. A. Bear, Mrs. Duncan of Salem, Mrs. U. S. Talbot, Mrs. W. A.
