All-Day Institute Saturday

The American Citizenship department of the Salem Woman's club, under the leadership of the general chairman of the department, Mrs. Ivan Martin, will sponsor an all-day institute Saturday, November 9, in the Women's clubhouse on North Cottage street.

Last year at a similar institute sponsored by the American Citizenship department, women from as far points as Roseburg attended. Clubs affiliated with the state federation receive points on their state score cards for being represented at the institute and a number of club women from out-of-town are expected to attend.

Mrs. G. J. Frankel, of Portland, president of the state federation of women's clubs, will preside at the institute, which will be convened at 10:30 o'clock, with registration of delegates. Music will be followed by a short report on the Indians at Celilo Falls by Mrs. W. B. Johnston.

The main talk of the morning session will be given by C. A. Kells, secretary of the Salem Y. M. C. A., who will speak on Americanism and citizenship training. Mr. Kells is an authority on the subject, having twelve years of actual experience in the work. Mr. Kells' talk will be followed by a description of Indian dances to be given by Miss Grace Holmes of Portland.

A no-host luncheon at the Elks club will be held at 1 o'clock and efforts are being made to secure a luncheon speaker.

A board meeting and short business session by the Salem club will open the afternoon meeting in the Woman's clubhouse at 2 o'clock, the principal speaker of the afternoon will be Dean Roy Hewitt, who will talk on international relations. Dean Hewitt has just returned from a tour of the Orient, and his talk will be full of incidents which he saw on his trip.

Two Ensley Sons Wed Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ensley are entertaining with a wedding dinner and reception in their home on Center street Saturday night in compliment to their two sons, Merle and Clifford, and their brides. Only the bridal couples, members of the bridal parties, and a few relatives and intimate friends are being bidden to the attractive affair. Autumn flowers and bright fall leaves are being used in the living rooms of the Ensley home, and the long dining table will be centered with pink and white roses, two large wedding cakes, and with floral arches at each end of the table where the bridal couples will be seated.

The wedding of Miss Thelma Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Barnett of Turner, to Merle Ensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ensley, was a pretty service Saturday at high noon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pearcy on Fairmount hill. The service was read by Chief Justice O. P. Coshow, of the Oregon supreme court, before a fireplace banked with bright autumn flowers and fern. Yellow and pink chrysanthemums in tall floral baskets were used about the living rooms where the bridal party and a score of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom assembled.

Mrs. Earl Pearcy, who taught both the bride and groom at Turner high school, sang "I Love You Truly," and played Mendelssohn's Wedding March for a processional for the bridal party.

The bride was gowned in a modish going-away frock of dark blue crepe, with uneven hem and large bertha collar. She wore a corsage bouquet of Cecile Brunner roses and pastel-shaded sweet peas. Her only attendant, Miss Fanny Wipper of Turner, wore dark georgette trimmed with lace, and her corsage bouquet was of pink roses and sweet peas. James E. Coates served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the Pearcy home. Ices were cut and served by Miss Inez Barnett, sister of the bride, and Miss Elma Ensley, sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Ensley will leave Salem Saturday night, following the dinner and reception at the B. F. Ensley home, for a short wedding trip by motor to the north. They will make their home here where Mr. Ensley is employed in the transportation business.

The wedding of Miss Vivian Colvin of Aumsville to Clifford Ensley will be a simple ceremony at 4:30 o'clock in the parsonage of the First Christian church, with the Rev. D. J. Howe, officiating.

Miss Colvin will wear a gown of brown satin back crepe and carry an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Her cousin, Miss Eunice Lewis of Aumsville, who will be her only attendant, will be gowned in a frock of brown crepe and carry an arm bouquet of golden chrysanthemums.

Vernon Coates of Turner will serve as best man for Clifford Ensley.

After the wedding dinner and the reception at the B. F. Ensley home Saturday night, the bridal couple will leave for Turner where they will make their home.
