

AUMSVILLE HAS ANNUAL BAZAAR AND BIG CROWD

Aumsville—The annual bazaar sponsored by the P. T. A. was held at the Aumsville high school Friday with great success. At noon dinner was served and various entertainments offered throughout the afternoon.

The popular girl contest was won by Lucille Ruettgers; second, Daisy Downer; third, Yvonne Pickett and fourth, Mabel Hall. Box of candy by Frank Clark, glee club quilt by James Taylor, friendship quilt by Elmer Tanner, turkey by Charles Clark. The total amount realized was $393. The following program was given: "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," primary room; "Youngest in the Family," Charlotte Martin; "Big Rock Candy Mountain," and "Gahve Dat Possum" by six grade boys; "Sue and Lou," by Elizabeth Clark and Doris Nicolson; "Sunbonnet Sally" and "Overall Jim," primary room; string quartet, high school, vocal solo, Elmirene Taylor accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Stephen A. Stone; songs by high school boys' glee club; violin solo, Yvonne Pickett; reading, Richard Jones; accordion solo, Walter Gethel; "The Highway Man," Doris Walling; mandolin solo, John Prospal; "Where My Caravan Has Rested," Mrs. Ella England and Harold Wiercraft.

MEIGHAN MAKES DEBUT IN TALKIES

Thomas Meighan, celebrated star of stage and silent screen, made his local debut in talking pictures, last Sunday at Bligh's Capitol theater.

"The Argyle Case" one of the most absorbing detective plays in the history of the American stage, having reached the screen is the latest vitaphone all talking production. This being Meighan's first "talking" on account of his masterful performance has established him as a favorite in the "talkies" as he is in the silent screen. Short vitaphone subjects, the talking Collegians, and Fox movie-tone news will complete this splendid program which will run Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Following "The Argyle Case" the Capitol will present "Broadway" another all-talking and singing super-special.

day, November 28, for the celebration throughout Oregon.

The proclamation says: "The turn of the year brings us again to the season when man, impelled by an age-old and world-wide impulse, has been wont to offer his human thanks to Almighty God for the fulfillment of His ancient promise that while the earth remaineth seed time and harvest shall not fail.

"Our national observance of an annual day of thanksgiving was instituted when our Pilgrim forefathers gathered together to make grateful acknowledgement for the bountiful crops on which depended their survival. Since the first American harvest, progress along innumerable lines has added to the comfort, the efficiency and the security of our lives. Manifest and great opportunities have been opened up to us as individuals, and social and economic changes have been vast.

"Let us, on this day, give thought to man's fellowship with nature in the husbandry of the faithful earth, first source of wealth."

EXPOSITION FOR BOYS PLANNED

If the interest displayed Friday night by some 25 or 30 men of Salem when they gathered to discuss plans, is any indication of what is to be expected later on, the Boys' Achievement exposition, scheduled for late December or early January, will be one of the finest of its character ever held here, persons attending the session stated Saturday. The committeemen gathered at the request of Paul Wallace, general chairman of the organization.

The exposition which is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, civic clubs and 4-H clubs will be held for the purpose of displaying results of boys' activities in nearly every line, from stamp collections to exhibits of model airplanes.

Where the show will be held and the dates for the attraction will be decided at an early meeting of the committeemen.

Work of attracting public attention to the exposition will be started at once. School children will share in this preparation through the making of posters, designs for award ribbons and in other ways.

GRANT SCHOOL PUPILS FEATURE LINEN PROJECT

Grant school opened the observance of national education week by the Salem schools with an open house Tuesday evening when a number of interested patrons called between 7:30 and 9 o'clock to meet the teachers and see the sample of work submitted by the school children. Wednesday the entire classes of the school were open to visitors and a number of patrons called throughout the day.

One of the most interesting features of the school was the linen project which was carried out by pupils in the 4A and 5B classes under the direction of their teacher, Miss Jennie Williams. A most excellent display of flax, from the seed to the finished linen fabric, was shown by the class, together with a number of interesting pictures showing different phases of the industry. A book of linen products is now being made. The 4A class also arranged a "Dutch table" showing a Netherlands scene as a demonstration of geography work.

The second grade, with Miss Anna Jensen as teacher, displayed a farm project which was started during state fair week. This activity was carried into each school week with variations from week to week.

The Grant school has subscribed for 40 copies of "My Weekly Reader" as a means of promoting interest in general reading. The copies will be used from the second to the sixth grades, each room keeping the copies two days before passing them to the next grade.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT SLATED FOR FRIDAY

Independence—The firemen of this city in conjunction with the Dallas and Monmouth firemen, will give a benefit dance in Rickreall Friday night, November 22. Two men, Stokes and Taylor, from the state fire marshals' office visited here on Thursday and were guests of Fire Chief Wood.

67 SCHOOLS IN COUNTY VISITED

County Superintendent Fulkerson has just completed her first round of the county schools which she inspects, having covered 67 schools in visitation since school opening this fall. Fifty other schools are visited by Rural Supervisor Rex and he will finish his inspections next Monday or Tuesday.

Mrs. Fulkerson expects to start on her second round next week, although inspection then will be curtailed somewhat by extra office work including work on her budget and also lining up those districts which haven't levied a special tax. Under the law the county court may levy a tax up to 10 mills for such districts as fail to levy one themselves.

Both Mrs. Fulkerson and Supervisor Rex have also done considerable extra work in connection with their visits in explaining and organizing club work to school pupils.

Dublin, Ireland, is waging a campaign against the use of Irish names in connection with goods not made in Ireland.

LINCOLN HAS OPEN HOUSE

Open house at Lincoln school Friday evening brought out a heavy array of parents to examine the work of the children and note their progress through the grades and the teachers had a display which was of greatest interest. Miss Dorothy Taylor, who is principal at McKinley school, is also principal at Lincoln and the work of preparation was done under her direction.

In the first grade room in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Daugherty a display of work done by little hands kept a crowd in that room during the evening. The room was a study in Indian lore and Indians and three small Indians were on hand to greet the visitors. Indian relics, a replica of an Indian village, a small Indian wigwam, were among the extra decorations.

In the second grade room, Miss Mildred Halseth, teacher, the Thanksgiving idea was carried out and the display of work of the pupils was very fine.

In the third grade, Miss Esther Long's room, there were some remarkably fine examples of large free hand cutting and an exhibit of corn products was interesting.

In the fourth grade, Miss Bertha Englehorn, teacher, each child's idea of boats was portrayed in pictures hung around the room, some fine samples of map drawing by the children were shown, and an interesting exhibit to the parents was a sample of each child's writing as of October 14 and of November 8 to show the improvement gained in that period.

In the fifth grade in charge of Miss Martha Batterman, Thomas Edison came in for a study. Somewhere an old photograph had been dug up as one of the showings. Each child had a small book on Edison on display and various other showings of work were on display.
