

THANKSGIVING DAY BRINGS FOOTBALL NEAR END

FEW IMPORTANT GAMES REMAIN TO BE PLAYED

New York (AP)—The 1929 football season ends Thursday except for a dozen or so games Saturday and a few widely scattered games in December.

Six eastern games of importance were scheduled Thursday, topped by the New York university-Carnegie Tech clash at Yankee stadium and the traditional Pennsylvania-Cornell game at Franklin field, Philadelphia.

The N. Y. U.-Carnegie Tech game was expected to attract more than 50,000 and the Penn-Cornell game close to 70,000.

Other eastern games included the Columbia-Syracuse game at New York, Brown-Colgate clash at Providence; Pittsburgh-Penn State contest at Pittsburgh; West Virginia-W and J clash at Morgantown and the Temple-Villa Nova battle at Philadelphia.

Many outstanding games were scheduled down south, with the Tennessee-Kentucky battle at Lexington the stand-out. Unbeaten, only by the slimmest of margins, Tennessee was expected to win but Shipwreck Kelly and his running mate Covington, were expected to give Tennessee considerable trouble.

Tulane faced Louisiana State in another important southern game. Among the other big southern games were the Alabama-Georgia game at Birmingham; North Carolina-Virginia contest at Chapel Hill; V. P. I. V. M. I. battle at Nashville; Vanderbilt-Sewanee clash at Nashville; and Florida-Washington and Lee game at Jacksonville.

In the southwest the annual Texas-Texas Aggies game at College Station and the Arkansas-Oklahoma Aggies game at Stillwater were the big attractions in that section.

The annual Missouri-Oklahoma battle at Columbia and the Nebraska-Kansas game at Lincoln were on the big six's program.

Another big middle western game was the Marquette-Kansas Aggies intercollegiate duel at Milwaukee.

In the far west, St. Mary's, the only major eleven in the country with a perfect defensive record, met the University of Oregon at San Francisco.

The big game in the Rocky Mountain conference brought together the University of Utah, champions of that region, and the Utah Aggies.

FIGURES PROVE PURDUE'S WORTH

Lafayette, Ind. (AP)—One of the principal reasons why Purdue university won the western conference football title this fall was revealed here Thursday when season statistics on the Big Ten games were released.

The Boilermakers' backfield, Harmon, Welch, Yunevich and White—averaged 4,521 yards each in the 234 times they carried the ball from scrimmage. That, it is believed here, constitutes a record.

Glen Harmon, half back, was the leading ground gainer of the record ground gaining backfield. He took the ball from scrimmage 99 times and gained 468 yards, an average of 5.3 yards per try. Yunevich gained 372 yards in 77 attempts, and Welch advanced 268 yards in 67 tries.

The Boilermakers scored 12 touchdowns during the season on running plays from within the five yard line and six on runs of 25 yards or more. Ed Riek's 73 yard sprint against Mississippi was the longest Purdue run of the year that resulted in a tally.

Basketball Succeeds Grid Game At Willamette; Only One Place To Be Filled

Now that the Whitman football game is a thing of the past, gridiron equipment at Willamette university is being packed away in moth balls to await another season and the basketball paraphernalia is being dug out of the storeroom. Practice for the coming hoop schedule will begin in earnest next week.

Although no official call has been sounded by Coach Keene, he has expressed enough grief on his hands taking care of the Bearcat football squad, several of last year's crack team have been out on the crack floor for some days trying their footwork and shooting eye.

Adams and Seales, two scintillating forwards, Hank, one of the best guards in the conference, and "Doc" Gibbon, reserve, have been doing their pre-season stuff for some time. Ed Cardinal, the big center, has been making history on the gridiron and has not been allowed to let his mind drift from forward passes, punts and fuch.

There are a great many fans who predict that Cardinal will have a big year at center. They point out that the aggressiveness picked up while playing end on the football team will give him just what he needs to make him an outstanding pivot man.

Willamette lost but one player through graduation—Ledbetter. This year's freshman crop of this year will add up has not been determined, but Peterson of McMinnville seems to be the outstanding player of the incoming frosh.

Among the pre-season games already arranged is one with Ashland normal which will be played in the south sometime near Christmas.

PORTLAND GOALIE OUT FOR RECORD

Portland—Hockey enthusiasts who attend the Portland Buckaroo-Seattle Eskimo contest at the Coliseum this Thursday night may witness the breaking of a world's record for goal tending. Andy Aitkenhead, sensational new goalie for the Bucks is prepared to break the present world mark of goal tending.

The present record is held by Turner, for three years goal tender for Duluth, who played through 227 minutes without the puck having been slid past him once. Aitkenhead now has played through 192 minutes without allowing a score. All he needs is but 36 minutes of Thursday night's game.

Portland continues to head the league but Seattle is pressing the Bucks hard for the leadership.

FOOTBALL AND GOBBLERS MIX IN HUGE DISH

San Francisco (AP)—Football ranked with the turkey gobbler Thursday as the big dish on the Pacific coast. Far western teams will mix it in more than a dozen games, including a Pacific coast conference clash, and an important interstate contest.

The feature of the day in this area will be the meeting of St. Mary's unbeaten warriors with the University of Oregon's eleven at Kezar stadium. The St. Mary's line has been uncrossed this year, and the only mark on its otherwise perfect record is a scoreless tie early in the season with the Bears of the University of California.

Oregon also has claims to honors this season, having been defeated only once. The northern line-up is a heavy and formidable one. Their non-conference rivals, however, are the fierce Thursday.

Pierce combat will take place on the gridiron at Los Angeles, where the Grizzlies from Montana and the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles meet. Each eleven seeking to wrest its first conference win of the season. The battle will mark the close of the 1929 season for both teams. Coach Bill Spaulding's northerners, outweighing their southern rivals eight pounds to the man, were favored slightly on the basis of a better record.

The Vandals of Idaho university and a team from the southern branch of the institution will fight it out at Pocatello. Arizona and Whittier come to grips at Tucson.

WINNING AGGIES WELCOMED HOME

Portland (AP)—The victorious Oregon Agricultural college football team was welcomed home Wednesday night by more than 200 Portland football fans and O. A. C. alumni.

Only 20 of the 32 who left here for Detroit, where the Beavers downed Detroit 14 to 7 last Saturday, returned to Portland. Eleven others stopped off at points en route to spend Thanksgiving, while the twelfth player, Snowy Gustafson, end, will arrive here later.

Snowy, it was said, became hungry when the train stopped at Rock Springs, Wyo. He got off to get a sandwich and when he returned the train had gone. The train on which the Beavers traveled was delayed, because of the check of the Portland limited near Cheyenne Monday night.

The team was royally entertained here Wednesday night. Because of the late arrival of the train, a banquet planned for the team was called off.

Boy With Vision But 20 Per Cent Normal, Develops Into Passer

Chicago (AP)—With the aid of Amos Alonzo Stagg's patience, environment has conquered heredity in the case of Ben Wattenberg, an almost blind football player who gave two of the most amazing forward-passing exhibitions seen on western gridirons this season.

Wattenberg's visual index, according to doctors, is 3 1/4-4, while 20-20 is normal, making Ben's sight about 20 per cent effective. But after three years trying to find a spot for a youth whose faithfulness in spite of his handicap, appealed to Stagg, the old man made Ben the outstanding passer of the conference since Bennie Friedman.

Perhaps he tossed them by ear or smell, but Wattenberg shot seven times for 76 yards and a touchdown against Illinois, and came back last week to really show what he could do.

Against the huge Washington eleven, he fired 15 successful passes out of around 30 attempts, for gains totalling more than 230 yards, and made possible four out of Chicago's five touchdowns.

Wattenberg did not play football in high school, but turned out for the Chicago team during his sophomore year. He didn't get anywhere the first season, but improved during his second season, enough to cause Stagg to have a special let-me with built-in glasses, made for him. The experiment failed because Ben could only see straight ahead and the glasses became foggy.

This year, Stagg needed a passer so bad that he finally tried Ben; and firing at maroon blurs, Ben delivered for Stagg.

ROCKNE STAYS BEHIND, IRISH MOVE ON ARMY

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—The Notre Dame football team has held its last practice session of 1929 and was ready when it left here Thursday, to face the Army in the season finale Saturday.

Cheered on by the Notre Dame band, the Irish went through their final practice Wednesday during a heavy snowstorm. About 3,000 students watched the Ramblers run signals and drill on methods of stopping Chris Cagle, the Army's star back.

Coach Knute Rockne, who was unable to accompany the team east because of a leg infection which has caused him much trouble for more than a month, has given the players several talks this week and expects them to finish the season unbeaten and untied, the outstanding claimant for national gridiron honors.

CANTONWINE DEFEATS HANSEN BY FORFEIT

Portland (AP)—Howard Cantonwine, Iowa heavyweight wrestler, won over Charles Hansen, Omaha, here Wednesday night in a forfeit when Hansen was unable to return for the third and final fall after having been injured when thrown from the ring by Cantonwine.

Hansen took the first fall in 46 minutes 20 seconds with a backward body slam after a sensational exhibition of wrestling in his first appearance here. Cantonwine ended the second session of the match in two seconds when he tossed Hansen out of the ring, the Omaha man landing on his back across bare boards.
