

PHIL SCOTT WINS EMPTY TWO ROUND RING FIGHT

PORAT LANDS LOW; DEMPSEY GIVES VERDICT

New York (AP)—Phil Scott, the gangling British heavyweight champion, Tuesday was the possessor of a ring decision that proved nothing much of anything.

Shufflin' Phil, with an agonized lunge that seemed prompted somewhat by second thought, fell to the canvas in the second round in his bout with the black-thatched Norwegian, Otto Von Porat, Monday night, after being hit low by a left hook. After considerable hesitation and a good deal of reluctance upon the part of the referee, none other than Jack Dempsey, Scott was awarded the verdict on a foul to the accompaniment of a tremendous roar of disapproval from the crowd of some 15,000 fans.

Scott unquestionably was hit low, at least six inches below the belt, by a sweeping left that Von Porat started from somewhere near the floor. To the majority of ring-side observers, as well as to Dempsey, it also appeared that Scott was not badly hurt.

Scott meanwhile was writhing in apparent agony upon the floor. The seconds jumped in from both corners, rushing the fighters as well as Dempsey. If it had been pre-arranged, there hardly could have been any more chaos than existed for fully a minute. Newspapersmen leaped up to demand to know the decision. The judges sat somewhat dumfounded while Dempsey, in the ring as an act of good will, suddenly found himself in the midst of a situation as perplexing as anything he ever was involved in as a fighter. Perhaps for the moment Dempsey sympathized with the difficulties of Dave Barry, who gave Gene Tunney the celebrated long-count at Chicago, to the undoing of the former champion himself.

With the role reversed and the decision forced upon himself, Dempsey displayed an uncertainty that he never would have exhibited with the gloves on. After a hasty but ineffectual effort to convince Scott fighting, Dempsey rendered the verdict that gave victory to the Britisher. Thereupon he stepped from the ring to be greeted by the bores of a crowd that only a few minutes previously had given him a sensational ovation. Scott, after being administered to in his corner, also was booed lustily as he climbed from the ring.

JONES SHOOT TARTAN PLAYS AT TROJAN 11

Los Angeles, (AP)—Coach Howard Jones has warned his Trojan gridsters from the University of Southern California to take their foes from the smoky city—Carnegie Tech and Pittsburgh—one at a time.

Tuesday he planned a thorough lesson for his football experts on Tartan plays, pointing out to his proteges that after Saturday's conflict will be time enough to prepare for the New Year's day opponents, the Panthers from Pittsburgh university.

From the backfield combinations of the first and second string eleven being used in practice it is certain that Russell Saunders will start the Carnegie game at quarter, with Gus Shaver, probably taking Jimmy Musick's position at fullback, to do the kicking.

Tony Steponiak, end, who has not been in the lineup for a number of games due to a leg injury, will probably see some play against the invaders from Pittsburgh, but Jesse Hill, substitute fullback still suffering with a bad knee which was injured in the Notre Dame conflict, probably will not appear before the tournament of roses.

The other members of the team are in top condition, and coach Jones plans to pit them against the reserves in a long scrimmage Wednesday as a climax to their training for the game with the Tartans.
