SYSTEM OF 19 TRUNK LINES PROVIDED FOR

Coast line, the Southern Railway and the Illinois Central.

Other key systems under the plan were as follows: The Great Northern-Northern Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Missouri Pacific and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, and Chicago and Northwestern.

In the west the commission proposed to take the Burlington system away from the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, which now owns it, and to erect by addition of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas to the Burlington, a new and extensive railroad structure. The Burlington system projected will include a half interest in the Great Western and likewise a half interest in the Trinity and Brazos valley and would run from the Canadian border to Mexico.

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific would be barred in another consolidation including most of their present affiliated and connecting lines. Around the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific the commission proposed another single system by the inclusion of the Duluth, Missabe and Northern, the Duluth and Iron Range, a half interest in the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific and trackage rights and partial interests in several short lines which would be associated with other merger systems as well.

The Union Pacific was left practically all of its present subsidiaries and was tentatively assigned a number of short lines. Similar treatment was accorded the Southern Pacific and among the assignments to that company of lines at present independent were the Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine.

The Missouri Pacific was definitely enlarged by the inclusion in it of the Western Pacific, which corporation is now seeking an entrance into San Francisco and was confirmed in the acquisition of the Denver and Rio Grande Western in which it is now interested.

CHEER FUND TO BE CLOSED MONDAY

wood theater. Aren't you going to visit the Hollywood district at all this year?"

Bless my soul, I have been so busy that I almost forgot that perhaps all the Salem children had not seen my show last week.

"Why, certainly, Mr. Stumbo," I replied. "I will be glad to come. When do you want me?"

"How about Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock?" he asked.

"Fine with me. Tell all the Hollywood boys and girls that I will be out there early and will bring my partner, Sourdough Charlie, with me."

Mr. Stumbo assured me that he would give two reels of real comedy in addition to the Capital Journal movies, showing me at the North Pole, and that he wanted to start the show early so that no little boy nor girl would miss the opportunity. If all the children fill the Hollywood theater, which seats nearly 500, the films will be repeated until all have seen them, Mr. Stumbo said. The theater men have sure been good to me, Mr. Adams, at Silverton; Mr. Gould, at Dallas; Mr. Nelson, at Independence and now Mr. Stumbo, of Salem.

After I show my pictures at the Hollywood theater Tuesday I am going to pack them in their tin boxes and they will never be seen again, so all you boys and girls who have not seen them had better be on hand Tuesday afternoon for this will be your last chance.

Friday afternoon I was in Independence where Ross Nelson, owner of the Isis Theater, had asked all children of that city to come to his moving picture show as his guests for a special news reel howing many scenes in the northland. This made me long for the ice and snow and I might have been homesick if it were not for the smiling faces of nearly 300 boys and girls that welcomed me to Independence.

Independence is not as large as Silverton nor Dallas, but I think all the children were at the theater for I went outside once or twice while you were watching the pictures and did not see me, but I could not find any children
