

TWO HOOP GAMES TO BE PLAYED AT WILLAMETTE

BEARCATS AND SALEM TO MEET STRONG TEAMS

Salem high school's basketball squad will be without the services of its regular center, Graber, when it takes the floor at 7 o'clock Saturday evening against the strong Aberdeen, Wash., quint. Graber, who has been ill for the past several days, is well on the road to recovery but will not be strong enough to get into the fray. His place will be taken by West, a boy with possibilities but who is still some what awkward. The remainder of the team will be on hand, with Pettit and Kitchin starting at forward and Bob Kelly and Sanford holding down guard duty.

The game will be played on Willamette's floor and will be the first of a double header, the second game being between Willamette and Elats City Oregon Aggies.

Coach Huntington's boys have played but one game this season—that which they lost to the alumni in December. Saturday night's game is expected to be a real test.

Willamette is expected to put up a better game, than it did against Oregon Aggies Friday night when the Bearcats were defeated 34 to 25. Inability to make good on their close shots defeated Coach Keene's outfit. They had plenty of opportunities to score but couldn't come through. If they get started to jumping them in during the second game the result is likely to be different.

Chicago, (AP)—The long haired boys of the House of David basketball team will meet the bobbed hair girls of the Taylor Trunks here in a game Wednesday night. And while the fury of the game may cause the "fur to fly" the team from Benton Harbor hopes to come out with its collective hirsute adornment intact.

Knowing of woman's reputed penchant for hair pulling, the King David players plan to braid their locks, it is said. On the other hand, tickling will be barred, and anyone making a noise like a mouse will be put off the floor.
