

ABRAMS HEADS MILITARY CAMP LISTERS HERE

The annual Citizens' Military Training camp at Vancouver Barracks, will be held during the period June 23 to July 19, Brigadier General Paul A. Wolf, commanding at that station, has been informed by headquarters, Ninth Corps area at San Francisco. It will afford basic and infantry training to approximately 600 Oregon and Washington youths. Of this number the quota allotted Marion county is 15.

The enrollment committee for Marion county is headed by Colonel Carlie Abrams, who will be assisted by a number of prominent citizens of Salem and other towns in the county. The complete committee list will be announced shortly.

The following physicians have agreed to serve as medical examiners and will make the necessary preliminary physical examinations of applicants without charge:

Hugh A. Dowd, Gervase; Laban A. Steever, Wolcott E. Buren, Edward A. Lebold, and Milton B. Steiner, all of Salem.

"We are fortunate as regards the period selected for this year's camp," states General Wolf, "since it follows just upon the closing of the schools and attendance at camp will thus interfere as little as possible with any plans for vacation employment the candidates may have in mind. We are already being deluged with applications from those who attended the last camp, and at the rate they are coming in I look for our quota to be over-subscribed in short order. I consider that we have here at Vancouver Barracks an almost ideal location for one of these camps, and am bent on securing a considerable increase in the number of trainees authorized."

Graduates of last year's camp may forward their applications directly to headquarters, Vancouver Barracks. Enrollment is open to young men between the ages of 17 and 24, provided they are in good health and have a normal physique and are inducted as to moral character by a responsible citizen. In the case of a minor the consent of a parent or guardian is required.

HOT DOG BEAUTIFUL TO ATTRACT TOURIST

New York (AP)—The hot dog beautiful, the weiner stand palatial, the frankfurter esthetic, will come into being for hungry automobile tourists of the coming summer, due to the efforts of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Her successful campaign against the unsightly and unsanitary roadside refreshment stands follows those of other women's organizations against bill-boards and similar blots upon the beauty of nature.

Beginning of construction of six hot dog cathedrals in New York state and in New England, is announced in Woman's Home Companion, published recently. All of these are to be built from plans by famous architects who received prizes offered by Mrs. Rockefeller. The prize competition, started several months ago, brought forth hundreds of plans, most of which envisaged the marriage of the hot dog stands with filling stations, which already have gone artistic.

The largest hot frank kennel is fashioned after the plans of Henry Ives Cobb, Jr., noted architect and son of the architectural designer of the World's Fair in Chicago, the Newberry library of that city and many other famous structures. Cobb won the Rockefeller grand prize in the competition.

COUNTERFEITERS SENT TO PRISON

Portland (AP)—Orlie C. Hale was sentenced to serve 15 months at McNeil Island prison, and his cousin, Albert McKinley Hale, six months in the county jail, by Judge Robert S. Bean Wednesday upon pleas of guilty to charges of counterfeiting. Both were fined $100.

The young men were arrested in Bend February 13 after they had passed a few spurious dollars which Orlie Hale admitted making.

Assistant United States Attorney McCulloch said the previous records of the men were good and recommended the sentences which were considered light for the offense.

RUMANIA CANCELS ILEANA'S BETROTHAL

Bucharest, Rumania (AP)—The government Wednesday sent M. Gioroesa, a minister in the cabinet, to Berlin and Pless, to notify the father of Count Alexander Von Hochberg of cancellation of his son's engagement to Princess Ileana.

SAN FRANCISCO PURCHASES BIG WATER SYSTEM

San Francisco, (AP)—The city of San Francisco plunged into the private ownership of a system of reservoirs and conduits necessary to water development ended when Mayor James Rolph, Jr. passed to Samuel Eastman, president of the company, the city's check for $41,000,000 in payment for the properties of the Spring Valley Water Company; and the last obstacle in the way of coordination of the Spring Valley system with the municipally-undertaken Hetch Hetchy project was removed.

City engineers have promised that as a result of the combination of the storage and conduit properties of the two enterprises, within three years there will be enough water for every industrial and domestic need of a city of eight millions.

The acquisition of the Spring Valley system has been urged for 20 years, in which period San Francisco and its environs more than once have faced water shortage.

The main reservoir of the Hetchy Hetchy system is located 190 miles northeast in the high Sierras; that of the Spring Valley system, 111 miles east in the foothills of the Coast Range.

One of the last large cities to emerge from private ownership of water, San Francisco voted, the bond issue at the 1928 election after the measure had seen defeat three times previously.

The bonds were bought at par by A. P. Giannini, West Coast capitalist, acting for Trans-America corporation. They will be retired at the rate of $1,000,000 a year. After interest, depreciation and maintenance have been deducted the salary scale lifted to a parity with analogous positions in other city departments, it is estimated that there will remain a net profit of from $1,300,000 to $1,500,000 a year.

Conceived and constructed separately from the city's other water project, Hetch Hetchy, the Spring Valley system is nevertheless related in many ways. The two pipe lines intersect on the east shore of San Francisco bay, so that in time either may be tapped to feed storage reservoirs within the city. Considered together, the two will form a system representing an investment of $120,000,000.

CONVICTS SEEK WRITS AS THEY PURSUE STUDIES

Albany, N. Y. (AP)—Convicts who pick up a smattering of law by poring over the penal code, especially the sections dealing with the writ of habeas corpus, are a source of annoyance to the attorney general's office, district attorney, and the department of corrections.

Nevertheless, they are allowed every opportunity to pursue their legal training in a practical way, although most of their applications for writs could be quashed on technicalities.

Now and then an ingenious question of law is raised by a prisoner to support his contention he is being confined illegally. Usually, however, their complaints are regarded by the state as ridiculous. Only two or three writs have been sustained and the prisoner allowed freedom, in the memory of Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, commissioner of corrections since 1927 and member of the department for 25 years.

Persistence is a marked trait in what the commissioner terms "sea lawyers," he told the United Press. This is especially true of the inmates of Matteawan State hospital, of which Dr. Kieb formerly was superintendent.

One inmate of that institution, Kieb believes, established a record by procuring no less than 50 writs, none of which was successful. Another once obtained three writs calling for his production in three different counties on the same day and at the same hour.

"Of course I could produce him only in one place," remarked the commissioner. "That was one of the things that brought about an amendment to the criminal code providing writs must be heard in the county where the institution is situated."

Only recently a prisoner at Auburn busied himself preparing applications for new trials and for appeals, forcing the district attorney of Onondaga county to oppose them in court on nearly a dozen occasions.

"It presents rather a serious problem at times," Kieb asserted. "Naturally the men must be guarded when they are taken to court and our guard forces are limited. It is particularly troublesome at Matteawan, since the nearest court is at Pittsburgh, about 12 miles away."

POLAND SPEEDS UP TREK TO AMERICAS

Warsaw (AP)—A Polish Emigration Syndicate to give emigrants information, provide them with tickets, and generally take care of them, has been established with a capital of $11,000.

The government has kept 60 of the 100 shares, while the remaining forty have been sold to steamship lines serving north and South America. The United States lines has joined the syndicate and will be allotted 25 per cent.

The government has reserved the right to give 25 per cent of the traffic to a Polish line in case such a company is formed for the direct transportation of emigrants from Gdynia to the United States. It is possible that for this purpose the government will enter into an agreement with the Danish owned Baltic American line to operate under the Polish flag with a subsidy from the Polish government.

Gas, Pain, Bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic Gastritis and dangerous Ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming a gas that distends the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from any reliable drug store some Bismarck Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take a little in water after each meal. Bismarck Magnesia will stop the worst gas attack quickly and without embarrassment. Taken right after eating, it prevents formation of gas and acids so there is no sourness, bloating or pain. Pleasant and perfectly harmless to use—Bismarck Magnesia does give wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your Doctor or Druggist. Try it today.

Why Few Are Fat

Excess fat has been disappearing fast in late years. So fast that excess fat is the exception now. You see that in every circle.

That change is largely due to the discovery that excess fat is largely the result of a gland weakness. A gland whose secretion helps turn food to fuel. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to combat this cause.

Their method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of a gland weakness. A gland whose secretion helps turn food to fuel. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to combat this cause.

Go do what they did—try Marmola. All druggists supply it at $1 a box, and a book in each box tells you how and why it acts.

Coughs

You know the feeling. Full of pep. Can't be beaten. Sitting on top of the world! Doing something every minute and wondering what you'll be doing next... Then suddenly a cough develops. Ambition is just a memory! You're run-down—dead tired—all in—worn out. No wonder!

For coughing use up your energy more quickly than any other bodily exertion. Don't let a cough "hang on." Medical science has proven that 15 minutes of coughing is more exhausting than a mile swim or a 3-mile walk.

Pertussin brings quicker results by a safer method. It relieves the cough by getting at the immediate cause. Made by the Special Tschneider Process, it helps to loosen the phlegm, soothes the irritation and quiets the cough.

Remember: Don't cough unnecessarily. Conserve your energy. Take a spoonful of Pertussin the moment you feel a tickling in your throat.
