

DALLAS, SILVERTON PLAY FOR INTER-COUNTY TITLE

CAGE TEAMS TO MEET MONDAY AT WILLAMETTE

Supremacy of interscholastic basketball in Polk and Marion counties will be at stake Monday evening when quints from Dallas and Silverton high schools will meet on Willamette's floor at 8 o'clock. This contest will decide which of the two teams will play the winner of the Clackamas-Multnomah county series for the right to represent District No. 7 at the state championship games which are scheduled for Salem beginning March 19.

Although Monmouth won the Polk county title in the recent tournament, playing of an ineligible man cost that school their place, Dallas won the right to represent Polk county when it defeated Bethel in the play-off.

According to games this season, Silverton should take the game Monday night. Their showing against Chemawa was spectacular and showed that their long range shooting was a threat to any team.

The lineups for the deciding game will probably be:

DALLAS	SILVERTON
Vaughn	Green
Quiring	Davenport
Webb	P. Johnson
Uglow	Harwood
Griffin	E. Johnson

Ralph Coleman will be referee.

YOUNG, HALEY BOUT ATTRACTS

With a vivid recollection of their last meeting still before them Salem followers of the game of fistfights Monday were looking forward with a great deal of eagerness toward the meeting next Wednesday night, between Pat Haley of Independence and Jack Young, the punishment-absorbing Indian youth from Siletz. And unless predictions go sadly awry, these two youngsters are billed to make their successors in the ring seem like slow moving pictures, in spite of the fact that the principals in the main event have a reputation for throwing considerable leather.

Ever since the last card fans have been talking about the wonderful gameness of Young, who, after taking a terrific punch in the belly in the early part of the bout, came back fighting and was throwing wicked punches at the final bell.

Jimmie Anderson of Astoria and Frankie Monroe of Portland, have assured Matchmaker Plant that they will be in fit condition for their 10-round main event. Since this pair has fought two six-round scraps without advantage to either, it is likely that the 10-round encounter Wednesday may break up the tie.

Ruth's Earnings Nearing $750,000 Mark; Adverse View of Fans Decides Babe

New York (UP)—Several new angles in connection with Babe Ruth's new contract to play right field and hit home runs for the New York Yankees in 1930 and 1931 at $80,000 per year came to light Monday.

Ruth, it seems, was up a tree for a few hours Saturday when he issued an ultimatum saying he would retire from baseball until he got a contract for $85,000 per season. Hardly had Ruth got the words out of his mouth before he realized he had blundered. Then the Babe sought the advice of newspaper men. One of the services pointed out that Ruth's tactics were not helping his popularity with the public.

"With Miller Huggins gone and Bob Shaverky in a tough spot trying to rebuild the Yankees," Ruth was told, "you ought to be out there working your head off to help him."

"Have you heard about the unemployment all over the country?" another newspaper man asked. "Well there are plenty of fans out of work and worrying how they are going to see the opening game. They don't like the idea of a ball player kicking about $80,000 a season."

Ruth left the conference, according to word from St. Petersburg, and about an hour later had agreed to Col. Ruppert's terms which had been turned down by the Babe Friday.

Ruth now receives twice as much as any other baseball player. The four highest paid players are:

Ruth $80,000; Hornsby $40,000; Gehrig $25,000; Vance $20,000.

Ruth has received almost three-quarters of a million in baseball salaries and world series dividends since he broke in with Baltimore in 1914 for $600 a season. The exact figures are:

Total salaries $698,900; World series shares $40,497; total $739,397.

This sum is exclusive of Ruth's earnings from his newspaper articles, exhibitions in the fall, advertising contracts and other sources. These are estimated at about $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

During his major league career Ruth has hit 516 home runs. His record year was 1927 when he hit 60, breaking his previous record of 59 in 1921. He hit 46 homers last year.

FRISCO POLICE FORCE NUMBERS FORMER PUGS

San Francisco (AP)—This city by the Golden Gate has a police department famed for the tact and tolerance of its officers, but don't go out of the way to pick a quarrel with any of them.

On the force are many stalwarts who punched their way to ring fame back in the days when San Francisco was the hub of boxing and 45 round bouts were the vogue.

Today he is Captain Charles Goff, head of the traffic department, but many years ago, Charley Goff, good middleweight, traded punches with the best of them all over the country.

Over in the Southern Station, Sergeant Jack Stelzner can reel off a few fight yarns. In his younger days he fought Bob Fitzsimmons, Alex Greigains and other good heavyweights. Detective Sergeant Frank McConnell held his own with such middleweights as Mysterious Billy Smith, Al Neil and the rest of the topnotchers of that time.

Captain Tom Hoertkorn and Captain Pete McGee were welterweights of note.

Sergeant Harry Riley, welterweight, was the last one to knock out Fred "Windy" Windsor, before the latter gave up fighting and took to managing. Windsor was the first manager of Jack Dempsey.

Other members of the force known to your old time fan are Lieutenant Tommy Roach, lightweight; Detective Sergeant Jack Cannon, heavyweight; Detective Sergeant George Wall, middleweight; Corporal Fred "Dutch" Craig, heavyweight; Jim Casey, heavyweight; Charley Lloyd, middleweight.

STILL MUCH TO DO AT OREGON SPEARS STATES

Eugene, (AP)—A single comment—that there was still much to be done—was the only expression from Dr. Clarence W. Spears as he closed the first period of spring football practice at the University of Oregon Monday. The rigorous two weeks' drill, however, was but a prelude to the heavy program to extend through six weeks at the opening of the spring term of school next week.

The former Minnesota coach's introduction to the Webfoos football team was characterized by a comparatively scanty and irregular turnout of candidates. The work of conditioning the team for the gridiron campaign of next fall hindered by the press of approaching term examinations but next month the full squad of 83 players signifying their intention of reporting will be expected out.

With the addition of John O'Brien of the Western State Teacher's college at Kalamazoo, Mich., the full coaching staff will be present. O'Brien, who played under Doc Spears at Minnesota, will take over the end coaching position. The remainder of the work will be distributed to Bill Reinhart, backfield; Gene Shields, line, and Prink Callison, freshman coach, who has come over to the varsity for spring work.

TROJANS MEET HUSKIES, GAME IS DECISIVE

Los Angeles (AP)—The question of the Pacific coast conference basketball championship is to be settled here Monday night when the University of Washington quintet takes the court against the University of Southern California cagers in the third game of the title series.

The Huskies from the north, winners of their division, Saturday night posted a 36 to 31 victory over the champions of the southern section after the Trojans had won the initial clash in an impressive 46 to 31 triumph.

Expert basket marksmanship which followed the first game slump in scoring activities was responsible for the remarkable comeback of Coach Edmundson's tossers after the first game defeat which seemed to point to certain victory for the U. S. C. five, and with it the championship.

While the decisiveness of the U. S. C. win coupled with the comparatively close finish of the second game points to the Trojans as favorites, the fact remains that if Hal "Stork" McClary, giant Huskie center, and small Stanley Jaloff, his tiny forward running mate, are functioning as they were Saturday night, all may not go so well in the U. S. C. ranks.

Victory for Washington would mean the first championship for the huskies in the three years they have annexed first place honors in the northern division. Last year California halted them and in 1928 the Trojans won the title by taking the first two games.

FISH EATERS TO OPPOSE CLOSING

Portland (UP)—Organization of the Fish Eaters' league of Oregon, which opposes the closing of any of the Oregon coast streams to commercial fishermen, "that they might be made the playground of the well-to-do anglers," was announced Monday by Dr. Thomas W. Ross for member of the state fish commission. Pointing out that if steps were taken to limit the fish supply in the state, the league declared in a statement issued, that "the immediate rise in price would make this commodity unreasonably expensive for the markets, hotels, restaurants and housewives."

"The fish of our state belong to all of us, not merely to a few selfish over-zealous sportsmen who have control of the offices of the sportsmen's organizations," the statement said.

More than $40,000,000 in tolls was collected last year at the Suez Canal.
