HOOVER SCANS PROSPECTS FOR FEDERAL BENCH

Washington (AP)—President Hoover is prepared to make an early decision on the choice of a successor to the late Associate Justice Edward T. Sanford of the supreme court.

Confronted with a host of names, the president is believed by those who have conferred with him still to have an open mind. They also lean to the belief that he is scanning the southern field. Justice Sanford came from Tennessee.

Justice Sanford was a republican, but even should a democrat be named in his place it would leave the makeup of the court, five republicans and four democrats.

Several names are before the president from the south, including Senator George of Georgia; Judge Samuel Sibley of the federal court for the northern district of Georgia; Walter G. Stacy, justice of the North Carolina supreme court, and Judge John J. Parker, of the federal circuit court of appeals, fourth circuit. All of these are democrats except Parker.

White House callers also have gained the impression that the president will seek to avoid a man aligned with the extremist ranks of either liberalism or conservatism.

There are prospects of strong movements for both Senator Borah, of Idaho, and Judge William S. Kenyon, of the federal circuit court, holding an office for which they have voted an increase in salary.

JACKSONVILLE BANK FORGERY AGAIN IN COURT

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Federal Judge Bean Friday took under advisement the suit brought by the government against the Ladd and Tilton bank as the outgrowth of a bond deal in which two Jacksonville, Ore., men figured.

The bonds, nine $1,000 denominations, had been deposited with the Bank of Jacksonville by Andrew Cantrell and George Fish, owners.

During the trial it was revealed that W. H. Johnson, a bank official, had allegedly forged the names of the owners to the bonds and sent them to the Ladd and Tilton bank which in turn exchanged them for coupon bonds of the same amount from the Federal Reserve bank.

The government paid Cantrell and Fish for their bonds and sued the Ladd and Tilton bank for $9,000 damages and interest from 1920, the year of the bond transaction after it found it could not collect from Johnson.

Judge Bean said he would decide whether Ladd and Tilton bank knew the bonds had been forged. Both banks have been disbanded since.

BORAH NEVER DREW INCREASE IN HIS SALARY

Washington (AP)—It was disclosed Friday that Senator Borah of Idaho, never has drawn the increase of $2,500 a year in salary authorized for members of congress five years ago.

This came to light through informal discussion of whether a law prohibiting members of congress from holding an office for which they have voted an increase in salary would make the Idahoan ineligible for appointment to the supreme court bench as successor to the late Edward T. Sanford.

Borah has voted against all recent salary increase bills and is certain, as are his friends, that he voted against the measure increasing supreme court salaries. He, however, does not recall the vote and there was no record ballot on the bill.

"But there are some other reasons than that why I am ineligible," the Idahoan said Friday with a laugh when asked about it. He only smiled when requested to amplify.

As a result of refusing to accept the congressional salary increase from $7,500 to $10,000 a year, Borah has $12,500 in his credit in the treasury. He may draw it any time but if he does not it will stay there.

JOHN R. HINKLE, PIONEER, PASSES

John Robert Hinkle, a resident of Oregon since 1852, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. L. Daxton, on South Twelfth street, early Friday morning. Hinkle was born in Perry county, Missouri, June 30, 1843, the son of Alexander and Fanny Hinkle. The Hinkle family crossed the plains by ox teams and located on Elliott prairie in Clackamas county, where they took up a donation land claim in 1852.

Hinkle was married to Mary Alma Thomas, the daughter of a prominent pioneer family, in 1866. She died in February, 1916. Hinkle lived for a number of years near Woodburn, although he has made his home in Salem for the past 19 years.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Darling; one son, H. A. Hinkle of Portland; a grandson, L. E. Darling; a granddaughter, Mrs. Lola Hinkle Stripe, and one great granddaughter. Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 o'clock from the W. T. Rigdon and Son mortuary, with Rev. W. C. Kantner officiating. Interment will be in the Cityview cemetery.

Broken Ski Saves Finlander's Life

Belton, Mont. (AP)—Eric Solonen, a Finnish Finlander, is alive but with a broken ski.

For, if Chief Ranger Carter's ski had not broken in Glacier National park, he would not have been forced to retrace his steps to a deserted ranger cabin to make repairs and he would not have found Solonen, lost, partially frozen and about ready to collapse.

Solonen lost his way. He accidentally followed a snow covered road into the park and had been wandering around in deep snow with the temperature 35 below zero for two days and two nights.

REILLY CALM AS PENALTY PAID ON SCAFFOLD

San Quentin Prison, Calif. (AP)—Alphonse Reilly, 22, died on the gallows here Friday for the killing of Abraham Andelman, young Los Angeles shoe clerk, during an attempted hold-up a year ago.

The trap was sprung at 10:06 a. m. He was pronounced dead at 10:21 a. m.

Reilly's last words to Warden James B. Holohan were: "Warden, can I go up now?"

Warden Holohan advised him: "No, I guess it would be better for the boys to go with you."

He went to his death calmly, maintaining the apparent indifference shown throughout. He was not accompanied by a minister to the scaffold and he had refused spiritual solace in the death cell.

Friday morning Warden Holohan received a long distance telephone call from St. Louis, Reilly's former home, from Winnie Reilly, a sister. She asked the warden if there was any possible chance for a reprieve. The warden told her the chance was very remote. Then she asked the warden to give her love to Alphonse.

PLAN TO PLAY AT CORVALLIS

Salem high school students have entered a one-act play in the drama tournament to be held Friday night at Corvallis, and a group of players and members of the business staff will motor to Corvallis late in the afternoon to prepare for the presentation.

They will compete with three other high schools in the tournament, with "The Last of the Lowries" by Green as their offering.

Among student and faculty members going to Corvallis for the tournament are Miss Margaret Burroughs, coach of the production; Yvonne Smith, Fern Shelton, Ruth Howe and Alex Volcho, members of the cast; Kermit Critch, costume manager; Marguerite Harvey, production manager; Claude Martin, stage manager; Leon Perry, general manager; Joe King, president of the student body; Miss Leola Johnson, faculty member and Prof. Roy Gatke of Willamette university.

The Salem students will be allowed an hour's practice on the Corvallis stage late Friday afternoon in order to adjust lighting effects and scenery. The play was presented at the high school assembly Thursday afternoon and created a very favorable impression among the students. The other competing schools are Corvallis, Eugene and Albany. The contest was initiated on the suggestion of Joe King, Salem high school student body president.

UNABLE TO FIND NORDIC IN CHILE

Portland (AP)—The search for a blue eyed, big whiskered man, who lived in northern Chile 2000 years before 1490, ended Friday for Miss Nina Lane, daughter of the late Senator Harry Lane, who arrived here to visit her mother after spending two years in the Atacama desert.

Miss Lane sought material for a travel book about the northern Chilean country where she conducted her search for the Pre-Inca man. She found but a mummy or two and no trace of the existence of the civilized natives known to have existed in that section prior to the educated Incas.

JOHN MILLIRON OF HOPEWELL DIES

Hopewell—John Milliron, 84, died at his home here Thursday. He leaves a wife, Ed. Elizabeth Milliron, and also one daughter, Mrs. Amanda Jane Halsted, who has lived with her parents since the death of her husband 23 years ago. He has two children dead.

He had one sister in California and the following grandchildren to miss him: Carl Halsted, Pearl Colleen, Ella Van Dorn, Ethel Terrell, Hazel Heldinger, Laura Carson, Gilbert Halsted, and Lester Halsted. The time of his burial will not be announced till his sister is heard from in California.

BAILEY TALKS INCOME TAX AT LION'S LUNCHEON

Enactment of an income tax, based upon reasonable rate and exemptions of the state, in the opinion of Edward Bailey, state senator from Lane county and candidate for the democratic nomination of governor, who spoke before the Salem Lions club Friday noon. He pointed out that at present persons representing only one-seventh of the total income of the state are paying three-fourths of the taxes. Ability to pay is the yardstick of taxation and an equitable income tax best meets this requirement, he stated.

"There is nothing really the matter with Oregon as a state, but its vast natural resources are not being developed along the line of a sound and permanent program," property is not prosperous, in a great measure, to the cost of government being loaded on real estate," he continued. That the state is financially sound was illustrated by Senator Bailey in the statement that Oregon stands fifth in the United States in regard to per capita wealth and ninth in the purchasing power of the dollar.

Marketing of produce cheaply in a field of competition is necessary and every effort should be made to develop all known methods of transportation to their fullest, he said in conclusion. There is also too provincial a viewpoint and cooperation and coordination is needed as well as friendly rivalry between communities and less suspicion.

BUSY WEEK FOR GIRL RESERVES

Local Girl Reserves are preparing for a busy week, with a number of interesting events scheduled. The high school Girl Reserves will be entertained with a dinner and Irish program Wednesday night in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Thomas McGlaine, who formerly lived in Ireland, will be the principal speaker. The two junior high school groups will hold a joint meeting and swimming party Wednesday at the Y. M. C. A., with a pot-luck dinner following.

The Richmond Girl Reserves will meet after school Monday night to send a gift box to the Philippines. The project is the year's work in the committee on world friendship among young people. Two years ago the girls made Japanese dolls as the fellowship project, and last year they made Mexican bags. The Highland Girl Reserves will also meet Tuesday.

In addition to the high school and junior high school groups, the Washington Girl Reserves will hold their meeting Wednesday. Groups meeting on Thursday are Gaffield, McKinley, Pringle and the two Silververt organizations. The Silververt girls will have a luncheon to introduce their new advisors.

All of the Girl Reserve units are studying on special projects, and a number of the units are making scrapbooks or posters. A special program of out-of-door activities is being completed for the spring months.

In addition large delegations are expected from posts at Albany and Lebanon, with members in other cities not boasting a post to be present.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors are in care of Byron Conley, post commander, and A. D. Herbster. Refreshments will be served.

The regular monthly luncheon of the Salem branch, A. A. U. W. will be held at the Elks club Saturday noon. Although the appearance of Dean Virginia Judy Estery of the University of Oregon has been cancelled through her sudden illness, another speaker has been secured. Miss Grace Johnson, of the home economics department at Oregon Agricultural college, will tell of the conference of international university women which she attended at Geneva last year. With the exception of the change in speakers, the program will remain the same as previously announced.
