

SALEM QUINTET LOOKS GOOD IN DEFEATING BAKER

COMMERCE WILL FACE SALEM 5 FRIDAY NIGHT

Playing the best game it has displayed this year, Salem high school's quint Thursday afternoon firmly re-established itself as a factor to be counted on in the final analysis of the state basketball tournament when it eliminated the hard rock boys from Baker, 38 to 19.

From the moment when Sanford dropped one through the loop shortly after the game started until the final gun, wearers of the red and black held the lead. At no time during the four quarters was their advantage seriously challenged.

Whirling down the floor and eluding would-be guards, Sanford, Kitchin, Foreman and Slegmund time and time again, either worked themselves in behind the Baker stalwarts or dropped the ball in from difficult angles, while Sachtler and West could not be accused of "not choosing to fight."

Crawford, a stocky 340-lb. guard, showed himself to be a sharpshooter who would need considerable guarding when he slipped in three field goals during the first part of the game. A close check was placed on him during the second half and he was held to one goal.

Both sides displayed the first real fast break of the season during the opening minutes of the game. But this display of speed was rather sporadic, both teams lapsing into ball holding tactics at times.

At the end of the first quarter, Salem had a 19 to 5 lead. This advantage was increased to 21 to 12 at the half. Kitchin, who was being watched with extreme care was sent to the bench following the start of the final half for too many personal fouls. Foreman took his place and immediately started the fireworks anew with a fine display of footwork and basket shooting.

The mounting score of Salem apparently worked havoc with Baker, for their defense crumpled under the hard drive of the locals who annexed 7 points during the third period to 3 for the eastern Oregonians.

Baker was given few opportunities for scoring in the last quarter, while Slegmund, who went in for Bore for a while, blossomed out into first string possibilities when he engaged three field goals.

Skits and Scratches

Coach Spec Keene is thinking seriously of having the floor in the gymnasium strengthened. He figures that if Broadway of Eugene and Howell of Ashland should happen to play opposite each other, the grunting, thumping and many "mountain" would be too much. Broadway is six feet five, is 18 years old and is a sophomore. Coach Webber of the Eugene squad says Broadway is the only member of this year's squad who will be eligible next season. All the rest graduate. Seems a shame this boy Houghton doesn't have another try at it. He didn't do so well against Pendleton but careful watching had a great deal to do with that.

Members of the Salem team blossomed out in light colored plus fours. We may be a little prejudiced but to our way of thinking the wearers of the red and black are about the best looking players in the tournament.

PENDLETON HI UPSSETS DOPE, OUSTS EUGENE

Two hard fought battles Thursday night, in which one upset was registered and a second came close to being completed, resulted in Pendleton defeating Eugene 25 to 19 and Commerce ousting out Tillamook 21 to 17.

Taking the floor the underdogs by a wide margin, Coach Cramer's Buckaroos went after the purple clad warriors of Eugene in systematic manner and piled up 7 to 3 lead at the quarter. Evidently this state of affairs gave the Eugene players a case of nerves, for from then on, they passed out of bounds, missed set-ups and did virtually everything which would tend to lose them the contest. The Blacks continued to ride rough shod over their opponents and worked their lead up to 16 to 7 at the half.

Coming back on the floor after the intermission, both squads put up a spirited defensive scrap which resulted in Eugene collecting 4 points while Pendleton added but two during the third period.

Eugene put on a desperate drive during the closing minutes and required their opponents' lead to three points at one time, but the eastern Oregonians merely cinched their saddles a little tighter and pulled away.

When Tillamook, putting up a real fight against Commerce, managed to hold the Portlanders to an 8 to 8 tie at the half, fans began to speculate whether the dope bucket was going to receive another sock in the side. The final score was Commerce 21; Tillamook 17.

With the score knotted at several times during the last half, both teams put up a desperate battle for possession of the ball. With Commerce leading 13 to 11, Conover put one in to tie the count. Then Applegate flashed down the maple court to give the winners a two point lead. From this point on Commerce held the advantage, superior physical condition figuring to a large extent in the final outcome.

COLLEGE GROUP BANS TOURNEYS

Chicago (AP)—The north central association of colleges and secondary schools Thursday sounded the death knell of all intercollegiate athletic tournaments conducted voluntarily by colleges and universities.

Forming a resolution which carried a threat of banishment from the association of any institution persisting in promoting them.

In effect, this means that if a university like Chicago, insists on continuing its national prep basketball tournament, it would endanger its membership in the association.

C. W. Whitten of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the national federation of state high school athletic associations, addressed the meeting today and asked the colleges "to let the high school boy alone and let him decide on the college he prefers to attend."

EASTERN QUINTETS PLAY FINAL GAME

Chicago (AP)—De La Salle high of Chicago, exponent of the delayed offense type of basketball, and St. Xavier of Louisville, Ky., a score-at-any-price team, were paired Friday in the feature second round game of the national Catholic basketball championship tournament at Loyola university.

The Louisville five, champions in 1928, hurtled through its first round game Wednesday, defeating St. Mary of Walsenburg, Colo., 48 to 13, the second highest score of the tournament to date.

De La Salle, defending titleholder, another Wednesday night performer, defeated St. John academy, of Rensselaer, N. Y., 22 to 11.

Berlin (AP)—Ernst Neubach, who has acquired some fame writing popular song hits about beautiful girls he would like to marry, finally married one of them, the bride being Fraulein Bertha Langer, winner of last summer's international beauty contest in Vienna.

NEW HOCKEY RECORD

Montreal (AP)—Boston Bruins established an all-time hockey record when they defeated the Montreal Maroons, 2 to 1, in the longest game of record in the opening contest of the Stanley cup playoffs here Thursday night.

The teams were tied, 1 to 1, at the end of the regulation sixty minute contest and battled through 55 minutes of overtime before the winning goal was netted.

Carnera Scores 11th Successive Kayo Victory

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Mountainous Primo Carnera or Italy, scored the eleventh knockout of his American appearance, against Frank Zavita, Newark, N. J., one minute and 31 seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten round bout here Thursday night.

Zavita spotted his bulky opponent 49 pounds in the early weighing in. Primo tipped the scales at 275, Zavita 235.

A crowd of approximately 4500 persons saw the scrap in which Zavita seemed never to land a blow and used his less than two minutes of fighting time running away from the Italian giant.

LINCOLN HIGH SUCCUMBS TO NORTH BEND 5

Displaying strength which they failed to reveal against Tillamook Wednesday night, North Bend Thursday afternoon, kicked over the dope bucket to win their consolation event from Lincoln high of Portland by a score of 19 to 12. The loss of this contest eliminates the Raisplitters from further consideration in the 10th annual tourney.

The ball wouldn't perform for Lincoln, their shots for the most part striking the rim and bounding away, North Bend, working in closer, played a saner game. The Coos county champions held the Portlanders scoreless through the first quarter and the second period was well on the way before Lincoln finally found the hoop. Then it was a foul conversion by Robertson which gave the losers their initial point.

With North Bend leading 10 to 3 at the start of the last half, Lincoln started a drive with Mason holding the steering wheel, which cut down the winner's lead to a scant two baskets. Domin for Lincoln then joggled DeWeese's elbow while he was dropping one in. Not only did the shot count, but the North Bend lad converted both free chances. This break assured North Bend of the game, although they continued to add to their margin until the final gun. Summary:

PORTLAND AND VANCOUVER TIE IN HOCKEY RACE

Portland (AP)—The Portland Buckaroos stepped into a tie with Vancouver for leadership of the Pacific Coast ice hockey league when they swapped the Victoria Cubs, 4 to 6, Thursday night.

The game was by far the loosest played on the local rink this year. The score was the second highest of the season, the highest being a 10 to 6 spanking administered by Seattle to the Cubs in the Seattle arena.

The Buckaroos got right down to business in the first period and chalked up two goals. They made three in the second frame and three more in the final period.

The feature of the game was a sensational goal made by Jack Pratt, defense star, who tripped as he tried to glide between two other players, and as he fell he swung at the puck. It sailed past a very surprised goalie for a score.

Louis Coupez led the winners with three of the eight goals.
