The Salem airport has not been sufficiently advertised abroad, Lee U. Eyerly, superintendent of the enterprise believes, for every few days or oftener aerial traffic, seeking an entrance to the Portland or some other nearby airport turns back, landing on some other field, unaware of the facilities available to airplanes and passengers here, according to a statement Monday.

While it is well known throughout the state as a class A airport, and the federal department of commerce, it is but little known outside the state. The federal department, according to representations made here some time ago, was to have published the facts concerning the Salem airport and to have given them wide circulation among the various landing fields and aerial traffic interests throughout the country. To date, however, but little apparent results have been noted.

C. E. Wilson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, stated Monday that he would arrange a conference with Eyerly in which they would attempt to work out a plan whereby facts concerning the airport could be included a little more fully in literature sent out by the chamber, and that information of this character would probably be directed particularly to airports and flying services in nearby states.

PHONE, STEEL SHARES BREAK; MART DECLINES

New York (AP)—A sharp break in American Telephone and Telegraph, a loss of more than 2 points in United States Steel and general weakness in the copper group were more than sufficient to turn the trend of the stock market from advances to declines Monday.

Meanwhile a few issues held early gains that had brought them into new high ground for the year. These shares, including Radio Corporation, J. I. Case, Vanadium and Fox Film "A", with gains ranging to 9 points, topped the list in the late trading when the list was definitely turning lower.

The new week began with an appearance of rising confidence. Buying orders had accumulated over the week end in many issues, and in the early trading initial gains were extended. However, that bulge selling cropped out with the result that irregularly developed. Around noon the list was rallying substantially but from then until the close professional bears hammered away at the weak points, until the entire market turned down.

REDS THREATEN SLAUGHTER OF MISSIONARIES

Shanghai (AP)—A letter received from one of the eleven American Catholic missionaries, who for many weeks have been held prisoners in the Kiangsi province city of Kanchow, said that communists and bandit besiegers had threatened "when Kanchow falls, to kill every foreigner within the walls for robbery of our prizes."

Although the walls continued to halt the Reds, the latter, according to the letter, which was dated April 4, had notified Kanchow authorities that they considered the foreigners responsible for their failure to capture the city. Defense of Kanchow, the missionary said, continued to be in jeopardy and immediate danger of its capture.

Meanwhile the Reds have withdrawn part of their forces from the siege and "while awaiting Kanchow's fall are busy plundering the surrounding country, looting villages and kidnapping hostages. Scores of young women have been kidnapped and many rather than submit intend to commit suicide as soon as an opportunity offered," the letter said. Numerous foreign missions in South Kiangsi have been attacked and the missionaries fled.

The missionaries said that wealthy classes are suffering the especially heavy burden of the communists and in one village 35 land owners were shot as a warning to surrender their property without resistance. The letter continued that Reds are confiscating lands, destroying title deeds and establishing communal governments. "This has resulted in great danger of food shortage for the coming year since the fields have not been planted."

"It is only a matter of time until the entire southern part of Kiangsi province passes from government control," the letter concludes. "The future is indeed bleak."

DELAY BLAMED ON LONGWORTH FAVOR SUSPENSION OF RAIL MERGERS

Washington (AP)—Unqualified approval of the Couzens resolution proposing to suspend all railroad consolidations until congress enacts additional legislation covering them was voted Monday by Chairman McNary of the interstate commerce commission, before the senate interstate commerce committee.

Saying the Couzens proposal in its present form, "is in line with what the commission has recommended for some five years," the commission chairman dissented from the position of the majority of the committee.

Ten of the eleven members of the commission have declared themselves favorable to legislation to regulate railroad holding companies, but unwilling to endorse suspension of the direct consolidations, as directed by the transportation act of 1920.

After a lengthy parliamentary wrangle, Vice President Curtis ruled that senators could use their discretion in criticizing decisions of the commission. "That's no rule," Press reported.

"I'll make it a rule," the vice president retorted sharply.
