2 furnished houses and some modern unfurnished houses for rent. Phone 637. Formal welcome to Salem will be accorded Eddie "Sunkist" Nelson, headliner of this week's HKO Orpheum program at the Eltham Capitol theater, when he arrives in the city at the airport at noon Saturday, according to arrangements being made by Archie B. Holt, manager of the theater. Nelson will be brought to Salem from the Swan Island airport in Portland by Lee U. Eyerly, superintendent of the municipal airport. Nelson started his career as premier comedian as a trombone player in a boy's band and found himself in Australia when most boys of his age are still in school. After appearing in minstrel work he joined a vaudeville team and later went into musical comedy for the Shuberts. His most recent success was scored in "Wolf Wolf".

TO TURN STATE VETERANS' HOME TO GOVERNMENT Roseburg, Ore. (P)—At a meeting of the soldiers' home committee of the Roseburg chamber of commerce Friday it was decided to create a project upon securing the present state soldiers' home as the site for the proposed national home in Roseburg. A bill now before congress voting two million dollars, is expected to be passed soon by the senate. The committee will come to Roseburg during the summer, according to present plans, to definitely locate the site. It is believed the present state institution offers a nucleus that can be used to best advantage to secure prompt use of the home. The site purchased by the state forty years ago is well developed, has an irrigation plant, a fine hospital that can be enlarged, and buildings that can be put into immediate use. New and more commodious structures are being built and options will be secured on adjoining land to provide as much space as the government will need. Legislative leaders who have been spoken to believe the legislature will be willing to pass a bill turning the present institution over to the government as a state home will then be necessary.

TAX BOARD NOT WORRIED OVER STATE BANK TAX Oregon's state tax commission is not alarmed at the decision by the supreme court of the state of Washington holding invalid the bank tax in that state. The Oregon excise tax, affecting banks and other financial corporations, in force this year for the first time, is protected by a constitutional provision enacted by the people in 1917, John H. Carkin, member of the tax commission, explained. "The state of Washington," said Carkin, "has a constitutional requirement that all property must be taxed at uniform rates. It doesn't allow the classification of property, and no tax such as an income tax or Oregon's intangibles and excise taxes can be imposed under it. "In Oregon the amendment of 1917 provided for the classification of property, so that different classes can be taxed at different rates. If banks were taxed in Washington they would have to be taxed at the same rates as all other property is taxed, but the courts have previously held against that, so Washington is out and injured until its constitution is changed." An amendment that would remedy the Washington situation, Carkin said, is to be voted on by the people this fall. It was defeated last year. In Oregon the amendment was voted on four times before it was adopted.

TO TEACH BLIND TO TEACH MUSIC TO BLIND AT STATE SCHOOL The appointment of Lucille Cummings to the position as piano and voice instructor in the state school for the blind is an inspiration to every Salem boy and girl to achieve success and distinction without leaving their own "home town." The appointment of Miss Cummings to succeed Miss E. Ruth How as music instructor at the institution was announced Friday by Superintendent C. A. Howard and the state board of control.

TO TEACH MUSIC TO BLIND AT STATE SCHOOL (Continued) Miss Cummings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings of Route 2. She is purely a local product, musical education and all. She is a graduate of Salem high school in the class of 1928, and was prominent there as the first president of the Girls' league, and through winning the first place for girls' low voice in the state high school music tournament. Since graduating from high school she has been a student at Willamette university. For the past five years Miss Cummings has been a voice student of Miss Lena Belle Tartar, who developed the local girl's contralto until she is now one of the outstanding young soloists in the city. Her work in piano was started with Erma Keeser and continued under Miss Frances Virgile Melton, head of the department of piano and theory at Willamette, who presented Miss Cummings in junior recital this spring. During the past two years the newly-appointed music instructor has assisted Miss Tartar as voice coach in her studio. She is the official accompanist for the American Legion auxiliary quartet, and has done professional work as accompanist. She has attracted the attention of leading musicians in Portland and throughout the northwest as a soloist and accompanist. She substituted for Miss How three weeks this past winter when Miss How was out of the city.

JOSEPH SPEAKS AT LIVESTOCK SHOW, UNION Union, Ore. (P)—George W. Joseph, republican nominee for governor was given a cordial greeting by a big throng Thursday, the opening day of the eastern Oregon livestock show. Joseph avoided policies in his address from the grandstand stressing the growing importance of the livestock and dairy industry of this section of the state. Tony D. Smith, secretary of the livestock show association said Friday that stock has never rolled in as it has for this year's exhibition and that many new exhibitors from Oregon and Idaho are here with purebred cattle, sheep and hogs. More than 150 head of horses are on hand taxing stabling facilities. Spectators got an extra thrill Thursday afternoon when the chariot race resulted in a mishap. One competing team standing leaving the other at post started still. After making the half mile circuit the runaway horse came upon the obstacle which had refused to budge and piled upon them. Several of the animals were badly hurt and one had to be shot. The driver of the running team was painfully bruised. The attendance at the show for the two remaining days bids fair to set a record.

LIQUIDATION OF WARM SPRINGS The state reclamation commission has authorized State Engineer Rhea Luper to start liquidation of the Warm Springs irrigation district by the payment of 25 cents on the dollar in cash to the district's bondholders. This payment will be made from the receipts of the sale of surplus water in the reservoir to the United States government. As soon as refunding bonds voted by the district are issued an additional payment of 29 per cent will be made from an assessment on holdings in the project. The district, which is in process of reorganization and refinancing, had outstanding bonds of $1,524,000. Of these $1,456,000 have been deposited with the state engineer by the bondholders, meaning that about 97 per cent of them have agreed to the reorganization plan. The few remaining bonds have not yet been located. Refunding bonds have been authorized in the sum of $450,000.

LEGION PARTY VISITS EUGENE TO BOOST FILM Salem went on the air at Eugene Thursday night when a group from the Dagner moving pictures, of Hollywood, and Capital Post, No. 9, American Legion, sponsors of the all-Williams valley photoplay "The Purple Flood" and of the moving picture frolic at the fairgrounds Saturday evening, broadcast a program over radio station KORE at Eugene and later appeared before the Eugene post. Jack Sherry, casting director, was master of ceremonies at both presentations. Musical numbers included an instrumental quartet, Dr. S. F. Scott and L. H. VanSlyke, guitars; H. R. (Rufe) White, piccolo and whistle and Frank Zinn, whistle and harmonica. Substituting Dick Barton for Van Slyke, the group also gave vocal numbers, with Mrs. Irene Clobert as piano solo and While his "political talk" and studio. At the Legion meeting Van Slyke, camera man, and Sherry took "shots" of a short skit to demonstrate the taking of moving pictures. The cast were Mrs. Mae Marinelli, Myrtle Lynch, Mrs. Casbeer, Paul Lee and Ralph Schantz.

AUTOISTS WITH 6 GALS. BOOZE UNDER ARREST A defective muffler on a large sedan driven and owned by Sam Pearce, a recent arrival from California, caused the arrest late Thursday of five persons. The five men, Pearce, E. Loyens, F. Cleary, Mike Bennett and Ed Larson, were returning from an expedition to the north end of the county where they admit they went in search of a thirst quencher. The quietest passed the place where the Langston child was killed near Clear Lake Thursday afternoon. Instead of proceeding into Salem, Pearce turned the car around and drove back. Traffic Officer VanDeWalker who had been summoned to the scene of the accident noticed the absence of a muffler on the machine and when he went to Pearce to ask him to have the muffler remedied, discovered a sack in the rear compartment which contained five gallons of liquor. Larson, an Indian, who was holding a sixth between his knees, told the officer the jugs contained vinegar. The men were lodged in the city jail Thursday night and were given a hearing in justice court Friday forenoon. No action was taken in the matter pending further investigation. Larson is one of the two men who drove an automobile into an open ditch in the southwest part of the city early Wednesday morning.

OPEN SUMMER SCHOOL MONDAY Summer school will start Monday morning, June 15, at the Park and Grant schools, with seasons open to all children who desire to attend. A feature of the school will be not only the drill on regular studies, but a number of extra activities designed to lead the child into fields of investigations and training in organizing their work. This work is being especially planned for those children who are taking summer school work to add to the enrichment of the school course and not because of failures or requirements. Special activities will include a study of the history of books; the study of the trip made by the Graf Zeppelin around the world; the course including a comprehensive and interesting review of geography; a study of insect and plant life for children in the second grade; an Oregon pioneer life project; and an international food show project for study of the types of foods raised in the different countries. In answer to numerous inquiries, Miss Carlotta Crowley, elementary school supervisor in charge of the summer schools, has announced that registration will be open to all Salem school children Monday morning at either Park or Grant school, and that there will be no tuition charges. The 168 children have enrolled for the studies at Grant school, and 102 children have enrolled at Park.

WILLAMETTE OPENS SUMMER SCHOOL Regular work in Willamette university's summer school will start next Tuesday morning, with registration scheduled for Monday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock. Nine courses are offered this year, including chemistry, education, English, geology, German, history, Latin, political science and psychology. Heading the faculty will be Dr. Carl G. Doney, president of the university. Other instructors include F. M. Erickson, George H. Alden, W. W. Herman Clark, Olive M. Dahl, Edna J. Ellis, Charles H. Johnson, Henry C. Kohler, and Charles L. Sherman. The regular summer school work will extend from June 17 to July 20, with a post-session scheduled between July 28 and August 15. The primary purpose in the summer session is to offer work which may be counted toward the A. B. degree, although persons who are seeking master's degrees will probably attend.

FOSHAY STOCK SAID WORTHLESS BY EXAMINER Washington (P)—"It seems doubtful if anything will be realized," on more than $20,000,000 of securities sold by the W. K. Foshay company of Minneapolis in the past three years, Ernest H. Lucas, government examiner, told the federal trade commission Friday. Lucas' statement was contained in a report to the commission on financial activities of the Foshay group of utilities companies, now in the hands of receivers. He said liabilities of the Foshay companies when they went into receivership last November totalled $19,000,000 exclusive of liabilities of affiliated companies. The Foshay securities were not listed on any of the stock exchanges, but were sold through the company's own selling organization, with the exception of miscellaneous sales through brokers. Lucas said dividends were paid almost from the inception of the business. "The income being insufficient to pay such dividends, they were paid out of capital," the commission examiner stated. "Total dividends from 1923 to October 31, 1929 amounted to $1,104,994.28."

EASTERN STAR ALIENS SEEK TO BE CITIZENS Circuit Judge McMahan Friday heard applications for final hearing of 17 prospective citizens of the United States. Helen Waser, 27, Salem, born in Philadelphia of Swedish parentage. Clifford Date, south Salem pharmacist, was taken into the Lions club at the weekly luncheon Friday noon. Alan Kaylor, former member of the club who has been engaged in business in Eugene, has returned.

TO PAY CLAIMS OF OREGON COUNTIES Portland (P)—The controller general of the United States Friday approved claims of Oregon counties previously denied a part of the amounts due them under the Oregon and California tax reimbursement act of 1925 amounting to $200,000. The treaty department will pay Clackamas county $153,953; Multnomah county $27,557 and Benton county $19,500. Curry and Jackson counties also will receive smaller payments. The receipts of the annual training ship at Park, junior high school were $289.77, according to the annual report filed in the office of the city school superintendent. Pupils registered during the first semester number 352, with 330 pupils registered during the second semester. Two exhibits were given by the department during the past school year, and a number of fixtures were made for the different school buildings. The U. S. bureau of fisheries ship "Brant" is protecting the fur-seal herd of the Pribiloff islands, on its migration northward.
