UNIQUE KILLING POWER TOLD OF NATIVE TRIBES

Cambridge, Mass. (P)—The secret of the "magic" which actually kills native men and women in Australia has been found by W. Lloyd Warner of Peabody museum, Harvard university. The natives are blacks, pure stone-age men and women, living, Mr. Warner says, as our ancestors probably did 10,000 to 20,000 years ago. He believes the Crocodiles in the islands and nearby mainland, where Mr. Warner spent most of the last three years alone among them, as a Rockefeller Foundation research fellow in anthropology.

He whose wife is unfaithful may ask the Shaman to kill her with black magic. A time when she is absent from camp is chosen. Upon return she is informed her soul has been stolen.

Actually nothing has happened, but she and everyone else believe the following events took place in her absence. The Shaman met her, thrust a sharp stick into her heart from beneath, drank of the blood and with it her soul. "What have I done?" he asked. "You have stolen my soul."

Then he twisted her tongue and she no longer remembered anything. Nearing camp he magically cut her body in two pieces several times.

All this is imagined—but earnestly believed. "But," said Mr. Warner, "I saw a woman die with absolutely nothing the matter so far as I could determine. When she returned everyone believed her dead—her soul stolen. She believed it too."

The wailing of the other women was dreadful. She did not rest and probably did not sleep. Her breathing grew rapid. As the tide went out, she became weak, and stronger as it came in. She died on the third day as the tide went out.

"Of course she was suggestive. I do not say that every person can be killed. But certainly all would become very ill."

ASKS $5450 FOR HITTING HORSE

A black horse and a dark night are two main factors responsible for a suit for damages in circuit court for $5450 brought by Villa Wilson against Roy Solum and the first case to come before a jury Monday in the July term of court.

The accident which occurred last September, was said by the plaintiff to have happened when Solum allowed his black horse to stray out of bounds on to the Silverton-Scotts Mills road. She stated she suffered severe injuries including a large gash on the hip, a gash on the knee, a severe blow on the back and other injuries.

The defendant admits the general circumstances but says the accident was due to the plaintiff's own negligence and that she was driving at reckless speed without proper lights.

500 ACRES BURNED NEAR MT. JEFFERSON

Bend, Ore. (P)—Fire that swept over 500 acres of pine timber on Squawback ridge 25 miles north of Siletz in the Grandview district, was put under control Sunday morning. The fire started Saturday afternoon about 1 o'clock, in a district not frequented by campers or fishermen. Cause of the blaze has not been discovered.

The Deschutes-Jefferson fire protective association assembled a crew Saturday afternoon when smoke from the fire spread into the Jefferson district. The blaze was controlled with little difficulty during the night. Damages to the timber was not great, since the fire raged through dry grass and did not work its way into the trees. The blaze was the first of any size this year.

The Deschutes national forest was free from fires during the Fourth of July week-end although thousands of vacationists were in the reserve.

SIX VICTIMS OF ALABAMA RACE CLASH BURIED

Emelle, Ala. (P)—Rifles and pistols were sheathed Monday as this strife torn village completed the burial of its dead—two white men and four negroes—slain in disorders arising from an Independence day debt dispute.

Four other negroes, each with a prize of $300 on his head, still were at large, but virtually all of several hundred white possemen had given up a three day manhunt, instituted after a negro family engaged in a gun fight with a white family over the payment for an automobile battery.

Official rewards which have been posted for the four negro fugitives, Governor Dill Graves said at Montgomery, "are not merely for negroes who killed white men" but would be paid "for the arrest and conviction of anybody, white or black, responsible at Emelle."

An unidentified negro man at Viola, Ala., and a negro woman, were the last two killed. They were shot to death Sunday when the commands of white searchers were not obeyed. Previously Grover Boyd and Charlie Marrs, both white men, were killed and in turn a negro was lynched and another fatally shot. Both of the negroes were kinsmen of Tom Robertson, who, with three sons, fled and has not been apprehended.

PRESIDENT TO PASS UP TRIP TO WEST COAST

Portland, Ore. (P)—President Hoover will probably abandon his western trip for this year, Senator McNary said on his return to Washington Monday after spending a week-end at the President's Rapid camp, according to a dispatch from the Oregon Journal's Washington correspondent.

"After discussing the matter at some length," McNary told the Journal's correspondent, "it is my opinion that the President will forego his visit to the national parks and the western country until next year. He is tired and worn by the long legislative season, which has continued with little interruption since he was inaugurated."

"When the western trip was first projected, Mr. Hoover had not expected that the long term of congress would last as it did. It would be impossible to arrange to start before the early part of August, and making the trip this year would involve considerable strain."

"While the President has not fully decided, I believe that both he and Mrs. Hoover feel that it would be wise to postpone the journey until next year. Mrs. Hoover is just getting about again after an injury caused by a fall, and it looks as though the plans will be abandoned. This is a matter of regret to the President and Mrs. Hoover, arising from the causes I have mentioned."

10 DAYS JAIL FOR OLD LICENSE

Failure to equip their cars with the new license plates brought two motorists into justice court Monday. One of the drivers drew a 10 day jail sentence while the other paid a $10 fine. However, the jail sentence was not due primarily to failure to purchase new plates.

Carl Fadden, 18, is the youth who will spend the next 10 days at the expense of the county. Fadden told a traffic officer that he had applied for a license and that he had left the receipt at home. The officer checked up on the boy and found that he had not applied. During the hearing it developed that Fadden's driver's license had recently been revoked for a period of six months for reckless driving and that he not only was driving a car with improper plates but that he was driving despite the fact his license had been revoked.

Earl Greipentrog, the second youth to plead guilty to driving a car with improper plates paid a $10 fine. He, too, told an officer he had applied for new plates. Investigation proved he had not.

SAYS HOOVER FAVORS USE OF WILLAMETTE

Portland, Ore. (P)—Senator McNary said Monday, after a week-end visit with President Hoover, that the president probably will back the plan for development and visit with President Hoover, next session of congress, according to a dispatch to the Oregon Journal from the Washington, D. C., correspondent.

"The Oregon senator said the president will back McNary bill, which will authorize advancement of federal funds for construction of navigation works and power incidental to this development. He pointed out the president appreciates the competitive conditions as between waterpower and coal and between the various water power projects and knows the conditions which favor the development of Umatilla rapids."

McNary gave as another encouraging note for Oregon, the report that the president favors full utilization of the navigation possibilities of the Willamette river. He believes that through construction of wing dams and rivetment the course of the river can be controlled and canalization effected in a degree suitable for the commerce of the valley.

404 FATALITIES COST OF THREE DAY HOLIDAY

Chicago (P)—This year's celebration of the Fourth was a triple-jeopardy affair—Friday, Saturday and Sunday; and the nation paid with 226 additional lives for the extra fun she had.

The three-day holiday altogether cost 404 lives.

Fireworks and toy pistols killed 39—a small percentage of the total, yet regarded as large in view of the restrictions against fireworks in most parts of America. The automobile took 178 lives, and 121 persons were drowned. Airplane accidents, heat, heart attacks induced by holiday excitement, lightning, and other causes connected directly with the holiday resulted in 78 deaths.

The Fourth of July itself was a day of moderate temperatures in most sections of the country, a circumstance having considerable to do with holding down the number of deaths from drowning and prostration. The week-end, however, saw a mounting mercury, with consequent increase in lure of bathing beaches and a consequent increase in deaths by drowning and prostration.

In the Chicago territory Sunday there was such congestion on the many beaches as had never before been seen. Conservative estimates were that more than 700,000 persons sought relief during the day at the Lake Michigan bathing places and along the Chicago shore. The Oak street beach, where Gold Coast and Ghetto meet in bathing suits, was dense with men, women and children most of the day.
