LIPTON BLAMES MACHINE AGE FOR FAILURE

Mechanical Efficiency of Enterprise Amazes Veteran Challenger

Says if Cup is Lost Will Not Again Compete Because of Age

By CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, Jr. (Copyright, by United Press)

Aboard Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, Erin (Sp)—Sir Thomas Lipton told me Tuesday that Shamrock V, is the last of its illustrious line, and that if he loses this year he will never challenge for the America's cup again.

"I wish I had known that Enterprise was to be a product of the machine age, for then I could have equipped Shamrock in some similar manner. But I am too old for the mechanical age," Sir Thomas said.

We chatted for almost an hour in a private cabin aboard the Erin, and he expressed disappointment in the showing of Shamrock which has lost two successive races to Enterprise. But he has not given up, nor is he trying to detract from the victories which Enterprise has won.

"It would be beyond the conception of our rocking-chair fleet at (Concluded on page 11, column 7)

200,000 FACE DEATH IN HONAN BY STARVATION

Shanghai, (AP)—Two hundred thousand people are facing death by starvation near Cheching, Honan province, as the result of warfare bandit depredations and floods, said a Chinese press dispatch Tuesday from Cheching.

The entire number was doomed unless immediate aid was given, the city authorities informed, the nationalist government at Nanking.

The afflicted area, within the zone suffering from warfare for six months has been reduced to famine principally because of continual levies of the various war lords.

Militarists, said the dispatch, have taken foodstuffs, carts, mules, cattle and seed grains, rendering the people incapable of sowing crops and otherwise preparing for the winter. Bandits and floods completed the destruction.

Washington (AP)—The American gunboat, Cahut, was fired upon last Saturday by Chinese "communists" about 200 miles above Hankow on the Yangtze river, American Consul General Frank P. Lockhart reported to the state department Tuesday.

The Cahut returned the fire with eleven 3-inch shells and 200 machine gun rounds, the consul's message said. The gunboat was escorted by the steamship Iping of the Yangtze Rapid company, an American concern. There were no casualties on the gunboat.

Lockhart said that similar attacks occurred the same day on French, Japanese and British vessels along this stretch of the river and these vessels returned the fire.

Good Evening!

Sips for Supper

By DON UPJOHN

Our recent observations—and along some lines our observations are very keen—lead us to believe that one of two things is happening to the girls around this city. They have either quit reducing or have started wearing their winter undies.

IN 1932 (From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch) Slogan for Mr. Hoover's next campaign: He kept us out of work.

According to Ripley some chap held a silver dollar in his mouth for 67 years. Maybe that's where Sid Elliott has been hiding his famous first dollar through the years.

All the lights on the courthouse clock have twinkled out but one—the one on the east side. And you can't see the clock from that side because the building is in the way. There's a chance for the county court to do one illuminating thing, anyway.

Julius Meier is reported to be afraid to help out the Oregon Linnen Mills for fear it might look like a political gesture. We suggest that he give $50,000 to the linnen mills, then accept the governor's salary for four years when he is elected, and nobody would be out anything. And he'd grab off the Salem vote at the same time.

We seem so helpful to Julius a couple of human hop toads—Homer Foster and Asabel Bush suspected—slipped a four foot "Meier for Governor" sign on the front of Old Betsy, our well known auto yesterday. We drove it around town for two hours before Young Lips discovered it and tipped us off. We're glad all the boys had a good laugh, Asabel and Homer especially. But it's a doggone long lane that hasn't a bramble bush in it somewhere.

Just for that we expect to bill Julius for two hours' advertising and hope he sends us up a nice, new suit of red flannel underwear for the hard winter coming on.

Incidentally our column showed its great pulling power when we mentioned the "Meier for Governor" sign on Homer Foster's car. He said this morning already 25 people had showed up asking for signs and they are still coming strong. We got one we pulled off our car somebody can have.

Sunday night we saw Milton Sills do a great piece of acting at the Elsinore in a play called "Man Trouble" and this morning we read he's dead. Just like losing an old friend we have known for years on the screen.

We're glad it was tennis and not golf he was playing when he passed on.

TED GEISKING DENIES CHARGE

Geisking denied killing Lingle and said he did not even know him, but according to police he admitted he had been a whiskey runner.

Vacation of Street Again Postponed To Legalize Procedure

Bellingham Attorney Accuses Former Rum Runner and Agent

Defense in Lyle Trial to Close Case Late Today or Tomorrow

Seattle (AP)—Testifying for the defense in the Lyle-Whitney trial, A. C. Durham, Bellingham attorney, Tuesday accused Alfred Hubbard, former rum runner and undercover agent, of attempting to extort bribe money from him.

Durham was the first of the character and impeaching witnesses to be introduced by the defense in an attempt to counteract the testimony of government witnesses who have accused four former prohibition officials with accepting bribes and profiting like liquor dealers.

All of the defendants, Roy C. Lyle, suspended dry administrator, William Whitney, former legal counsel to the dry unit, and Earl Corwin, and Richard Fryant, former agent, have testified in their own defense, and their attorneys announced that their case would probably be rested late Tuesday or early Wednesday.

Durham declared that when he was attorney for defendants in the Clyde Regan case in Whatcom county in 1928, Hubbard, then working in the sheriff's office, told him he could keep the case from going to trial. (Concluded on page 10, column 5)

MOLALLA YOUTH FIRST FATALITY OF DEER SEASON

Molalla—Deer hunting claimed its first victim of the season in this section of the state Monday when Victor John Kokek, 16, was accidentally shot and killed while hunting in the vicinity of Twin Buck camp about 35 miles south of here.

He was in company of Barney Helvey and Dick Howland, who planned to be gone several days. Word of the tragedy was telephoned from a lumber camp late Monday afternoon by Helvey who had to tramp five miles through the brush.

The boys had shot a 5-point buck seven times with a .303 rifle. In order to bleed the animal, it was decided to move the carcass so that the head would be down hill. The rifle was in the way and young Kokek grabbed it by the barrel to move it when the trigger was discharged by some brush. The bullet pierced his neck, ranging upward, killing him almost instantly. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kokek, living south of here, and several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be held from the Eberhart parlors Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Father Jonas, of Canby, officiating. Interment will be in the Russellville cemetery.

Golden Dawn Wins First Prize For Cocktails

London, (AP)—"Golden Dawn" today came to England—a nation burdened with unemployment and economic depression. "Golden Dawn" consists of equal parts of orange juice, apricot brandy, calvados and Booth's gin with a dash of grenadine, and it won first prize in the short drink class in Britain's first international cocktail competition.

T. Buttery, head of the cocktail bar at the Berkeley hotel, designed the prize winner. Unsuccessful entries ranged from the highly alcoholic "Blue Paradise" to the "Don Bradman" named after the famous young Australian cricketer who is a strict teetotaler.

A pink cocktail containing the yolk of an egg, gin, and cherry juice started as a hot favorite, but failed to beat Golden Dawn.

PREPARE FOR HEARING CROSS STATE LINE CASE

Portland (AP)—J. Stanley Payne, assistant chief counsel for the interstate commerce commission arrived here Tuesday to begin work on the cross-state railroad hearing, set for September 29 in federal district court.

The commission, after lengthy investigation of the transportation needs of the state, ordered the O. W. R. & N. line, subsidiary of the Union Pacific, to build in line from Grants to Croswell lake. The cost of the proposed development is $15,000,000.

The railroad company, claiming that the project would be highly unprofitable, has taken the matter to the federal courts.

Though he has never seen the country, Payne followed the case from its instigation and will lead the fight to uphold the commission's order. Attorneys for the public service commissions of Oregon and Idaho, who recommended the line to the interstate commission, will be intervenors in the trial.

BACK TRACK TO SEA FATAL TO EXPLORERS

Flier Finds Sir John Franklin and Men Vainly Sought Mainland

Traces of Raold Amundsen Found in Cairn At Magnetic Pole

Edmonton, Alta. (AP)—Returning from his flight to King William island, Major L. T. Burwash, Canadian explorer, Tuesday advanced the theory that Sir John Franklin and his 128 men perished on the Arctic island 85 years ago while backtracking to their ships after a vain attempt to march overland to civilization.

This theory, he said, was substantiated by the discovery of sites of camps of the lost explorers and groups of graves. Relics of the expedition, broadcloth, tent material and rope, were recovered. No trace was found of the Franklin ships, the Erebus and Terror, believed to have been wrecked along the western shore of the island.

In addition to his flight to King William island, Major Burwash and his pilot, W. F. Gilbert, mapped more than 2,000 miles of coast-line within the Arctic circle, made an inspection of copper claims in the far north and landed at the magnetic pole and checked a possible shifting of the pole.

At the magnetic pole, some 1,200 miles north of Winnipeg, they found (Concluded on page 10, column 4)

GRAIN BUYER AT THE DALLES UNDER ARREST

The Dalles (AP)—Collapse of the grain buying and speculating business of John A. Hardin, active here for a number of years, brought criminal charges of larceny by bailee, which caused the buyer to be lodged in the Wasco county jail Tuesday. He was released just before noon on $5,000 bond.

The collapse of the business will spell financial ruin to a number of Wasco county grain growers and extremely strained circumstances to others. The amount of loss will be more than $20,000, although an audit now being made of Hardin's books must be completed before any figure can be reached.

Hardin's downfall was blamed by him on the falling grain market, and charges are that he used wheat consigned to him as margin for speculation. According to the grain buyer, this is a common practice among those in that business, but he became so deeply involved that he could not recoup his continued losses.

Hardin has filed voluntary petition for bankruptcy. His attorney said Tuesday that his assets would pay only a small percentage of the liabilities. Hardin held consigned wheat from The Dalles, Dufur and Maupin in Wasco county, and from Madras in Jefferson county.

Several growers who had consigned all their wheat to Hardin have stated in the last few days that they, too, face insolvency as a result of the crash, their sole quick asset being the wheat which Hardin is said to have used for margin in his speculation.

FARM PRICES SINK 3 PERCENT TO LOW LEVEL

Washington (AP)—A three percent recession of farm prices from July 15 to August 15 was said Tuesday by the department of agriculture, to have sent the farm price index below the lowest level reached in 1921.

"This decline followed a sharp break in the farm price level the preceding month. As of August 15 the index was 108 compared with 111 on July 15, with 123 on June 15 and 143 a year ago.

"From August 15 to September 10, however, price advances at primary markets outweighed declines, although cotton and wheat failed to maintain their gains into the first of September. The gains have been most noticeable in hogs, cattle, potatoes and butter," the department said.

"Hog prices advanced on a lighter volume of marketings and prices of eggs, butter and wool also advanced from their very low levels in July. But considerable declines took place in apples and potatoes, which because of light crops in 1929 had not declined to the same extent as other commodities earlier this year, and beef cattle and sheep and lambs declined to new low levels."

Washington (AP)—Recommendation that the Northern Pacific Railroad company and Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company be authorized to construct jointly a branch line in Gray's Harbor and Jefferson counties, Washington, was made to the interstate commerce commission Tuesday in a proposed report by Examiner H. C. Davis.

The roads originally were authorized to build the line from a connection with the existing line of the Northern Pacific at Aloha to a point on the north bank of the Hoh river, about three miles northeast from Spruce, approximately 67 miles. Last March, however, the applicant requested the commission to amend its certificate and permit certain changes in the route, extending the branch from Moclips to a point on the north bank of the Hoh river about six miles northeast of Spruce, a distance of about 87 miles. All three ships flew the Norwegian and Swedish flags at half mast. As the Isbjorn came into the harbor all ships lowered their flags in salute. The coffin containing the bones believed to be those of Frankel was immediately taken to a nearby hospital where experts will examine the relics.

He confined most of his visit in Paris to sight-seeing. He expects to make his first stop in Germany at Baden Baden.
