NATURE CUTS UP AGAIN
"Immediately upon graduation she was married to Harrison Conso and the young people went to Boise, Idaho to live. Conso is manager of the Bristol hotel there, is president of the parent-teachers association and the mother of three children."—From item in the Statesman.

An eastern professor gives the following qualifications for the ideal policeman:
The wisdom of Solomon.
The courage of David.
The tolerance of Confucius.
The patience of Job.
The strategy of Napoleon.

The eastern specialist in policemen overlooked one bit:
The chair-filling beam of Walt Thompson.

QUINABY GOES LITERARY
QUINABY—A large crowd attended the Beuna Crest Literary society Friday evening. The following interesting program was rendered: Violin music; monologue, "The Book Agent," and four dialogues, "The Bargain Hunter," "Easy Money," "Too Much Courtship," and "Men Prefer Blondes."—Item in Statesman.

Doc Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, has gone to Hawaii for a six weeks' sojourn due to a breakdown. The doc should have waited until after the game with the state college and no doubt the breakdown would have been complete. He could have then basked in Hawaiian breezes all winter.

We wonder when the university's fifteen-thousand buck coach plans on a breakdown so he can take a six week bask, as well?

'Ae' the Irish poet-theorist has come and went. He says the country is degenerating and will be gone to the dogs in a few years unless it adopts some of his theories to try out on the small rural communities. He would have the small farmer co-operate, not only to sell prunes, but to absorb culture. Reading his poetry we presume.

A poet-theorist's theories on sociology are generally very pretty but have one drawback. The darned things don't work.

'Ae' is trying to apply theories that work in the Irish bogs to the United States. As soon as every small Irish farmer owns a flivver his co-operatives will fade out like fog before the morning sun. The old man will take the family to the talks and forget to absorb culture via the poetry route.

It looks as though this doomed nation will have to degenerate along its own lines. At least, it's a free country and the farmers don't have to read his poetry.

Crack of Pistol Stampedes Movie Crowd; Boy Held

Pittsburgh (AP)—The movie audience held its breath. At last the heroic young ranch foreman had come face to face with the scheming villain who had foreclosed the "papers" and had driven the fair Gloria and her sickly father from their home.

HOOVER BOARD TO URGE BEER BE LEGALIZED

New York News Asserts Return to Wine Also Favored in Report

Republican Ranks Split On Dry Issue As Time For Action Nears

New York (AP)—The New York Daily News, in a special Washington dispatch, claimed to have learned that the Wickersham commission has completed its report on prohibition and that it will favor the return of beer and light wines.

The News quoted "hitherto authoritative sources" as saying that the report "definitely urges the president to ask for restoration of beer and wines in his message to congress, which convenes on December 1."

Congressmen, as well as the president, will be asked in the report to lend their support on the ground that the return of 4 per cent beer and wines will help end unemployment, decrease crime and work "for the general good of the country," the Daily News said.

EINSTEIN TO COME TO COAST

Berlin (AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein, famous scientist who was named by George Bernard Shaw as one of the eight great "makers of universe" in history, has accepted an invitation to take special research work at Mt. Wilson observatory, at Pasadena, Cal. He will spend three months in America.

Einstein expects to sail for the United States late in November. He will travel strictly incognito, the name of the ship on which he will be a passenger will be kept secret, and he will remain in his cabin when the ship calls at New York on its way to California.

Einstein will be accompanied by his wife, an assistant named Dr. Meyer, and a woman secretary. Secrecy will be maintained regarding his plans so that he may have a complete rest on the voyage and avoid reporters, photographers, special interviews, hosts and curious folk, and many others who make up the crowds which the shy scientist dreads.

Garrison Sentenced 2 Years at M'Neils

NATIONS SPLIT ON WAR LIMITS

Geneva (AP)—The formidable character of the problem of limiting land war materials was emphasized Wednesday when wide differences of opinion arose among the delegates to the preparatory disarmament commission.

These differences appeared to decrease the prospects of reaching an agreement on this important issue and the drafting of a general disarmament treaty.

The American proposal for a compromise which would leave the United States free to employ her own method of direct limitation while permitting others to use the budgetary system, was discouraged by Japan but supported in some degree by France, Belgium and Norway.

Need Of Limiting Special Session Is Admitted By All

By HARRY N. CRAIN
The desire of those state officials sponsoring the suggestion of a special session of the legislature to coordinate Oregon's tax program and to provide a working plan whereby the state tax commission can formulate a permanent tax policy in shaping the tax levy for next year is conditioned upon the general understanding that the deliberations of a special session should be confined solely to a limited number of tax problems.
