BUTTER PRICES YET MIXED UP; EGGS STEADY

Portland (AP)—So many complaints are being made regarding the unwillingness of the Portland produce exchange to follow supply and demand in the butter trade that its quotations are no longer generally accepted as a market factor.

With practically all of the sales of cubes on the open market from ½ to 1¼ cents pound under the established prices on the produce exchange the situation here is becoming more or less desperate to country creameries who are forced to pay the price established here for butterfat.

While there was no open change in the price of eggs for the day, some business continues to be done at shaded figures. Undertone of the market appears a trifle easier.

While the trade in general inclines to the idea that only medium hens are scarce, one buyer went out with an advance of one cent for lights which was immediately followed by other operators.

Quite heavy sales of cranberries continue to be made in the local trade with both northwest and eastern stock participating. Some very poor locals as well as very poor eastern stock offering.

Good demand for cauliflower continues in the local trade with carlot buying held around 65 cents crate for ones although some other cash buying for northwest shipment is reported at 70-75 cents crate.

Topheavy appearance is continued in the market for celery. Shipping business is at a minimum owing to congestion of supplies in the midwest and east. Rejected cars are being sold at extremely low figures.

Last of the season's fresh halibut is now arriving here from northern waters. The trade is getting quite a supply and prices are down to 20 cents for medium.

There is every promise of an acute shortage of native or Olympian oysters here for the coming holiday. In fact a shortage is apparent all along the coast. Transplanted or large stock is in ample supply.

Country killed lambs are cleanup but are slower.

Dressed hogs are fairly steady as are veal of quality.

Chinook salmon is scarce around 18 cents with a scarcity of silvers at 14 cents pound.

Crabs are very scarce.

Sharp advance in the price of California artichokes is confirmed. Only nominal supply here.

The regular California steamer with vegetable specialties, was late in arriving.

Good demand continues for hothouse tomatoes and cucumbers at recent advances.

NEW LOW RECORD FOR BROKERS LOANS

Washington (AP)—A new low record in brokerage loans since publication of these figures started in 1926 as made in the week just ended when loans on stocks and bonds to reporting federal reserve member banks in New York City amounted to $2,185,000,000, the federal reserve board announced.

Loans during the week ended November 19 showed a decrease of $50,000,000. The previous low mark in these loans was made in the preceding week, when they totalled $2,235,000,000. The record high of $6,804,000,000 was established on October 2, 1929

A year ago loans amounted to $3,587,000,000 and two years ago to $5,157,132,000.

KIDNAPING GANG JAILED, LOS ANGELES

Wilson, 41, Tong Long, 32, Jack McNeil 37, Ray Sealock 26, Ben Nicholas 28 and Paul Cook, 32.

Chitwood said the prisoners organized the plot to kidnap Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times which recently was revealed by police after the publisher had been placed under guard. No attempt was made to carry out threats against Chandler.

Investigators said two wealthy citizens had been kidnapped and had paid ransom, but did not make reports because of threats against their lives.

The suspects, taken in raids on isolated hideouts, will be paraded before victims of holdups Friday in an effort to obtain further identification. Police said narcotics were found in the apartments raided. They said they had information the gang members held regular meetings and maintained an arsenal for use in crimes plotted. The cache was not discovered.

Fingerprints and descriptions of the prisoners were dispatched to Chicago, New York and Kansas City authorities for possible identification.

BEND WILL ENJOY WINTER SKATING

Bend (AP)—The local winter sports organization, the Skyliners, have spent considerable time preparing a skating rink for this winter's use. The site of the rink is about five miles from Bend at the abandoned location of the Tumalo fish hatchery. A lake, 225 by 125 feet, is to be constructed.

H. H. DeArmond, Deschutes county judge, has volunteered the use of a grader to keep the road to the site open after winter snows fall. It is planned to hold a formal opening of the new skating rink as soon as cold weather sets in.

Gervais—Albert Stohx left for Elko, Nev., Thursday where he will visit his brother, George, who is stationed there with a railroad bridge crew.

PRICE OF WHEAT TO STAND FIRM MILNOR CLAIMS

Chicago (AP)—The federal government has taken steps to prevent the present wheat price levels from dropping lower although a further decline in domestic prices appears unwarranted, George S. Milnor, president of the grain stabilization corporation, said Friday.

"Although the stocks of wheat shown in the visible supply are large," Milnor said, "there is no congestion in any of the terminal markets and farm stocks of the grain are decreasing rapidly owing to heavy feeding, therefore hedging pressure is negligible and a further decline in domestic prices seems unwarranted."

With wheat selling at the lowest price in 25 years, flour prices fully reflecting those of wheat and with bread lower than for many years, the consumer is receiving the full benefits of complete deflation, he said.

"As the grain stabilization corporation has taken steps to prevent further decline in wheat prices, it may be assumed that consumers of wheat products, with reasonable safety, may make purchases for their seasonable requirements, thus protecting themselves against such advances in the market as might come through many underlying factors."

The advances might come, it was explained, through such factors as greater bread consumption, substitution of wheat for corn in livestock feeding, huge losses to corn and forage by drought, reduced acreage sown to wheat and many hazards through which the growing crop must pass before it can be harvested.

The Stabilization corporation, affiliated with the federal farm board, recently pegged the price of December wheat on the Chicago exchange at about 75 cents a bushel, purchasing all grain offered at that price.

CHICAGO GRAIN CLOSES HIGHER

Chicago (AP)—Wheat Friday rose to nearly 6 cents a bushel above the low prices current November 10. Absence of unusual pressure to sell was an outstanding factor, rather than buying urgency. It was estimated export purchases of Canadian wheat have totaled upward of 2,500,000 bushels since Monday and there were intimations Russian grain vessel charters might be cancelled or utilized for substitution of ore.

Wheat closed unsettled ⅝ to 1⅛ cents a bushel higher than Thursday's finish. Corn closed ⅝ to ⅞ cent up with oats 1½ cents advanced. Under scattered selling, provisions eased in the late trading, and closed unchanged to 7 cents lower.

Chicago (AP)—Substantial new upturns in wheat values took place early Friday following a fresh advance of ⅞ cent in bids on the part of farm board allies. Rust reports from Argentina were also a bullish factor and so, too, were statements from the grain stabilization corporation that consumers may now safely purchase their seasonable requirements. Opening ⅛-¼ cent higher Chicago wheat future deliveries showed additional gains later. Corn started unchanged to ⅛ cent up and subsequently held near to the opening figures.

3 DAIRY CO-OPS EFFECT MERGER

Portland (AP)—Three leading dairy associations of the Pacific coast, with a membership of about 70,000 producing dairymen, doing an annual business of about $50,000,000, were combined in one Friday, following the merger effected at a session Thursday night. The three associations are the Interstate Dairymen's association of Oregon, the United Dairymen's association of Washington, and the Challenge Cream and Butter association of California.

The merger, sponsored by the federal farm board, from which financial aid will be received, is expected to equalize the market and improve the quality of butter produced.

FRENCH SOOTHSAYER PREDICTS NEW WAR

Paris (UP)—Madame Praya, soothsayer who predicted a World war in 1914 and announced that the French would stop the Germans at the Marne three days before the battle, declared today France would again defeat Germany in another World war which will start in Poland "a few years from now."

"Germany," she explained, "has entered into an era of disorder and anarchy, evidently very menacing for France. I do not believe, however, that France is in immediate danger. Germany will weaken herself in internal fights which will increase her poverty and unemployment.

"The conflict, in which Poland will be the first victim, appears to me to be several years distant. It will, however, generalize itself quickly and all of our New Europe will become involved. France will fight and I do not see her beaten."

Turning from the political to economic reading of the future, Madame Praya said that the general world depression would continue six or eight months.

MRS. LIBBY IMPROVING

Jefferson—Mrs. Blanch Libby, who has been seriously ill with inflammatory rheumatism for the past three weeks, is slightly improved.

Red Cross Goal Is Set at $4000

Albany, — Four thousand dollars is the goal of the annual Linn county Red Cross membership drive, which opens Armistice Day, November 11, it is announced by S. V. Smith, campaign chairman following a meeting of the executive board. The organizations throughout the county are being lined up ready for the opening day, it was announced.

TURKEYS SCORE CENT ADVANCE

Portland, (AP) — Turkey prices ranged a cent higher Friday, top quotations to producers ranged from 24 to 26 cents a pound for prime young toms. Receipts for Thanksgiving trade have been light so far with producers holding back for a higher market. Dealers anticipate suddenly heavier receipts starting Saturday or Monday with resultant top heaviness of supplies at the last and consequent weaker prices all around than now holding. Dealers are having difficulty filling orders for shipment north and south. However, visible country supplies are held to be sufficient for the season's needs.

WOOL MARKET REMAINS QUIET

Boston (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston Saturday will say:

"The wool market continues spotty but generally quiet so far as actual sales are concerned, with rather more inquiry reported in some quarters. There have been some further sales of scoured supers to woolen mills on the basis of lower prices reported a week ago. Worsted wools have been rather slow of sale with demand favoring the finer qualities at prices which would show little change for the week. Medium wool prices are little changed.

"Foreign markets have changed little for the week. There has been a steady demand for Merinos in Australia and South Africa at firm rates. Crossbred offerings from South America have changed little in price.

"The manufacturing position seems to have changed little during the week. Delevopments are disappointingly slow. One wonders how much longer buyers can hold off. Meanwhile, mills are determined to keep inventories down.

Mohair is slow and hardly changed."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

RAILROAD LIST ADVANCES UPON CLOSING RALLY

New York, (AP)—Railroad stocks came to the forefront on the stock exchange late Friday to feature a market or rising prices. Stocks closed with substantial gains in all divisions.

There was considerable irregularity in the first hour and for a time the market appeared to be on the verge of another reaction. The bull forces conquered and forced shorts to cover.

The late move in the railroads followed group advances in the motors, motor equipments, mercantile shares, harvester shares and chemicals. Leading industrials made new highs on the movement headed by U. S. Steel and Westinghouse Electric.

The move in rails was stimulated by several factors, the most impriant being an analysis by Dow-Jones and Co saying that the roads in the final quarter should make a much better showing in net operating income, as compared with last year than they did in the first nine months.

Declaration of the regular dividend on Gulf Mobile and Northern preferred helped. Prospects of other carriers maintaining dividends at the present rates were considered brighter, B. and O. which will share in the $50 extra by Cincinnati, New earlier in the week, soarded nearly Orleans and Texas Pacific declared 7 points. Atchison rose more than 4 points, N. Y. C. 6; New Haven nearly 3 and Pennsylvania nearly 3, while gains ranging above a point were made by others of the group.

Trading volume was small in the early trading but it increased. The sudden spurt in rails sent shorts scurrying to cover and turnover increased in this division.

Another feature of the day was a concerted rise in various stocks whose companies center around the Chicago area. The harvester issues made large gains, especially Case which at one time was up 5 points.

Chrysler was a feature in the motors where General Motors, Studebaker, Overland, Yellow Truck, and Mack Trucks participated in the advance.

Several large blocks appeared on the tape during the course of the trading. They included 15,600 Chrysler at 20, up ⅝; 5,300 Yellow Truck at 12, up ⅝; 13,500 Petroleum Corporation of American at 10½, unchanged and 10,000 Aviation Corporation at 4, up ¼.

Bonds firmed up with the exception of the German issues which were held back by indications of a moratorium in the making for 1937. Wheat gained in all markets and other grains were higher at Chicago. Cotton held a few points down. Call money held at 2 per cent.

NORRIS THREATENS SPECIAL SESSION

tion to matters which are either in conference or on the senate calendar."

Norris explained he preferred particularly to the bills to permit government operation of Muscle Shoals, to restrict injunction powers of the courts, and for unemployment relief and to his resolution to abolish such short sessions of congress as this one."

"I am anxious," he continued, "to give the senate an opportunity to redeem party pledges. If the administration will withdraw its opposition we will do it. If these bills are not acted upon it may be necessary to force action by special session which can easily be done. The machine republicans who hitherto have blocked the resolution to end short or lame duck sessions may have to take a bitter does of their own medicine."

Norris said the only constructive program before congress was that offered by the progressives and in effect his statement was a challenge to President Hoover to continue opposition to those bills. Norris outlined 24 years of concurrent legislative work which had brought three of the projects to the present stage. The anti-injunction bill represents two years work; Muscle Shoals has been pending 12 years; and the Short resolution is now in its tenth year, having been passed by the senate five times but never accepted by the house.

On its last appearance in the house, Norris said the approved senate resolution had been kept for 10 months on the desk of Speaker Longworth.

TRUTH IN MEAT BILL FAVORED

Range cattle men in Oregon favor proposed legislation that will permit the grading and marking of meats according to the "truth in meats" plan sponsored by O. M. Plummer, secretary of the Pacific International Livestock expedition and member of the national meat board, says Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian.

"There is a complaint by many of the range breeders who raise only well-bred beef animals that they do not realize the true worth of their produce because they are forced to compete with dairy cow beef that is sold to many shops," Lytle said.

He said that Oregon State college has conducted an educational campaign for the instruction of housewives in the selection of meats. While this has done something toward insuring a more just return to producer, Dr. Lytle said, the fact that most meats are ordered by telephone causes much dairy cow meat to reach the consumer's table unless top prices are paid.

"It is planned to enact legislation," he said, "that will optionally permit those slaughterers of meat who choose to employ a board-approved veterinarian to health inspect the meat and stamp it, and also grade and stamp it so that the quality will be shown."

ARMY ADOPTS RUBBER TIRES

Washington (AP)—The rumble of artillery caissons on steel-rimmed wheels probably will be replaced by the swish of rubber tires on concrete roads in any future war, it appeared from the annual report of Maj. Gen. Harry G. Bishop, chief of army artillery.

Describing the new and revolutionary developments in artillery since World war days, Bishop said the army, during the past year, had built and tested two super-modern 75 mm. gun mounts. Both are capable of all around and aerial fire. Also, both have pneumatic tires, anti-friction bearings and sprung carriages.

Plans are being made for a similar gun in the 155 mm.-8 inch howitzer class. It will have a pedestal type mount and will be capable of elevations between 0 degrees and 65 degrees and of traversing 30 degrees on either side of the center. Further, it will be capable of going into and out of position quickly. Weighing 5,000 pounds less than the present 155 mm. gun used by the army, it will be able to cross lighter bridges in safety.

Other modern additions to army artillery during the past year have been caterpillar tractors for two motorized divisional field artillery units and 24 four-wheel-drive cargo trucks, Bishop said.

DECLINE SHOWN IN LUMBER OUTPUT

Seattle, (UP) — Operation in sawmills of the northwest have declined steadily during the past few weeks, according to a report of the West Coast lumbermen's association. A total of 303 mills operated at 41.69 percent of capacity last week, compared with 45 per cent for the previous week, and 65 percent during the early part of 1930.

New business was reported as 2.45 per cent under production, and shipments were 6.16 percent under. Orders received during the 17-week period ending November 15 exceeded output by 2.76 percent.

Orders in the rail trade stayed approximately the same last week with domestic cargo orders decreasing 2,000,000 feet, export 4,000,000 feet and local 2,000,000 feet, in comparison with the previous week.

Mill inventories have been reduced 6.19 percent during the past 25 weeks, and continued reduction of production from now until after January 1 is expected to further decrease inventories.

Production at 228 mills totaled 109,131,518 feet, with orders for 106,461,792 feet and shipments of 102,468,313 feet.

SHIPPING GAINS

San Pedro, Cal., (UP)—Shipments of tile and clay products from Santa Catalina island are materially increasing cargo receipts at Los Angeles harbor. The shipments average nearly 100,000 Mission roof tile and 45,000 hollow building tile each week.

Most of the tile is being shipped to Phoenix, Ariz.

STORY OF MAN TO BE SHOWN AT CHICAGO FAIR

Chicago, (AP)—The mounds, ruins, temples, religious symbols and other traces of cultural attainment comprise the language in which the archaeologist and anthropologist read the story of the progress of human culture.

While the Chicago World's Fair in 1933 will have as its central theme the conquests of a Century of Progress made possible by scientific achievements in transportation, the telephone and radio, lighting, machine of production, medicine and education, back of all this is the story of man himself. This is the theme of the anthropological exhibit.

Twelve acres have been reserved for the story of man's culture on American soil.

Social organization, ceremonial life and artistic ideas show the same regional differences, and if man's body is studied it becomes apparent that physical type likewise shows variations, according to Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole, professor of anthropology at the University of Chicago.

When the American Indian cultures are plotted on the map they fall into nine distinct culture areas north of Mexico. These range from the primitive hunting groups to settled agriculturists.

In connection with these groupings the Anthropological Exposition is designed to answer questions concerning the relation of culture to environment, the effect of trade, warfare, inter-marriage and migrations on institutions and physical types.

In the allotted space the separate groups will be arranged in geographical relation to one another, and with native Indians and Eskimo present to depict their daily life and tribal customs. These groups include besides the Eskimo, the California Indians of the North west coast, the Blackfoot hunters of the great plains, the pueblo builders and the nomadic Navajoes, exp
