

PACIFIC ALL SET TO TAME WILLAMETTE BEARCATS

SPECTACULAR GAME LIKELY FOR BEARCATS

Coach Keene's Willamette university Bears by virtue of their 12 to 6 beating at the hands of Whitman last Saturday will enter the contest with Pacific university at Portland Saturday afternoon facing an uphill scrap against a confident, smooth-working squad of Badgers under the leadership of Coach Jenne.

However, the setting for a highly spectacular contest is there, since a win for Pacific would mean a tie with the Missionaries for first place while Willamette can afford to take plenty of chances, the Bearcats having already been shut out of the coveted position. Coach Jenne's men are coached to use spread formations and "boogie" plays, with "Buss" Atherton, elusive Badger backfield man taking the spotlight.

Coach Keene expressed the opinion Friday that his team had the ability to beat Pacific but whether the Bearcats would put forth the effort remained to be seen. A shift has been made in the wings of the squad with Sinclair and Kaiser, two freshmen getting the call for the start. The remainder of the line will be regular with James and Carpenter at tackle, Smith and Phillips at guard and Ackerman at center. However, Karl Weisner may take Carpenter's berth while Dave Drager is sure to see plenty of action as a guard.

Fred Paul, one of the best passers on the team will start in the backfield with Erickson, Pete Gretsch and Red Lang as his running mates.

The show is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock in Multnomah stadium. A special train of students and Salem townfolk will leave Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

TURNER QUINTS WIN AND LOSE

Turner—While the Turner high school girls' basketball team reared a win over the Seio team Wednesday night by a 23 to 17 score, the boys' squad was not so successful and met defeat at the hands of the Seio sharpshooters, 30 to 9.

The girls' game was a battle all the way, with the Turner team leading the game in the first half by scoring 16 points to their opponent's 10. Each team scored seven points during the second half.

The boys' game, while resulting in a lopsided score, was also hard fought. The score at the end of the first quarter was Turner 4, Seio 0. During the second period the visitors led the basket and answered 14 points while Turner was able to add but a single marker.

The last half found Seio shooting baskets accurately. For Turner, Stewart, Smith and Garner were each credited with two points. Long, Mumper and McDonald were high scorers for the visitors with 10, 11 and 9 points respectively.

Lineups were Turner—Stewart and Chandler, forwards; Neer, center; Smith and Garner, guards; Tappan and Denyer, substitutes. Seio—Long and Miller, forwards; Mumper, center; McDonald and Gresham, guards; L. Young, Kruml, Sims, W. Young and Gallagher, substitutes.

Cecil Martin refereed both games.

The pictures will be run off beginning at 8:45 o'clock. The exhibition will be followed by a dance.

NOTRE DAME AND ARMY TO BATTLE ON FROZEN GRID

Chicago 49—Notre Dame will face its ninth try in its campaign for national football honors Saturday, tackling Army's undefeated eleven on the ice-studded gridiron of Soldier field.

Unless the weather, which was cold enough Thursday to keep about 40,000 persons away from the West Virginia-Oregon State Shrine benefit game, has the same effect Saturday, the contest, the Army's first in the west against its favorite inter-sectional rival, will be played before an American record attendance of 125,000.

Do not think we are a 5 to 1 shot," Major Sasse said. "They seem to think that way around here, but we had two comparatively easy games in playing Kentucky Wesleyan and Ursinus, while Notre Dame had a tough time getting by Northwestern. I wouldn't be surprised either if those Wildcats didn't take something out of Notre Dame.

The famous Irish were almost snowbound in South Bend Thursday but Coach Rockne ordered a workout and field indoors. No attempt was made to do anything but add a little polish to the squad's all-around game. Rockne was bearing down on the psychological end of the preparation.

Army's confidence was strengthened by the knowledge that Polly Number, Suarez, Humbert, Messinger, Bowman and Carlmark, again are in shape, giving one of the east's best line its full power. Notre Dame's cripples, Kassia, Brill and Kurth, also have recovered from the bumps received last week and all, except possibly Brill, will be in the starting lineup. Rockne also was undecided as to whether Dan Hanley or Larry Mullins would start at fullback.

BUCKAROOS PLAY TIE WITH SEATTLE

Portland 49—The Portland Buckaroos Friday held first place, by a one-point margin, in the Pacific coast hockey league standings. The Buckaroos played the Seattle Eskimos through three regular periods and a 10-minute overtime period to a scoreless tie here Thursday night. Victory for Seattle would have put the Eskimos in first place with a two-point margin.

The game was played under the off-side rule of last year which allows players to cross the blue line ahead of the puck. Goalsies of both teams were kept busy fending off the puck. Kemp, Eskimo goalie, performed especially well in making almost impossible saves on short shots. Andy Aikenhead saved the Portland net from dents by blocking numerous long, hard shots from the blue line.

ALABAMA IS CHOSEN TO PLAY COUGAR ELEVEN

SOUTHERN TEAM SELECTED FOR NEW YEARS TILT

Los Angeles 49—University of Alabama Friday was extended an invitation to represent the east in the annual New Year's football game at the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

Earl Foster, graduate manager of Washington State college, the representative of the west, extended the invitation to the Crimson eleven.

Tuscaloosa, Ala. 49—President George H. Denny, of the University of Alabama, said the Crimson Tide would accept the invitation to play Washington State at Pasadena, California January 1.

KITZMILLER IS NAMED ON ALL PACIFIC SQUAD

San Francisco 49—The United Press presents Friday its all-Pacific coast football team, picked by sports editors and writers on metropolitan newspapers from every section represented by contending factions.

The team represents a consensus of newspaper writers, rather than the opinion of any one or more correspondents of United Press, which simply collected and counted the votes.

Selections were solicited only of writers who have personally seen most of the players they picked perform. Several writers had seen virtually every candidate named in action.

First team: Arbelbide, Southern California, and Euting, St. Mary's, fullbacks; Edwards, Washington State, and Sawyer, Washington State, and Beckett, California, and Baker, Southern California, guards; Hein, Washington State, center; Duffield, Southern California, quarter; Kitzmiller, Southern California, and Pinckert, Washington State, halfbacks.

Second team: McCallip, Oregon State, and Maxwell, Washington State, ends; Hall, Southern California, and Christensen, Oregon, tackles; Colbert, Oregon, and Farrell, Washington State, guards; Tass, Santa Clara, center; Mohler, Southern California, quarterback; Stennett, St. Mary's, and Ellingsen, Washington State, halfbacks; Rothert, Stanford, fullback.

The first team, from end to end, was the result of virtual unanimity among selectors, but the fun began when there was a backfield to select. There was one almost common choice—Ernie Pinckert, U. S. C.'s great blocking back—and a heated argument for the rest.

Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon's "Flying Dutchman", barely won a halfback spot from such brilliant claimants as Ellingsen, of Washington State, Stennett, of St. Mary's, and Rothert of Stanford. One writer had selected him as all-coast quarter, and this vote was added to others favoring him a half to give him the edge.

Schwartz, at fullback, was easy, because dissenters were divided in their allegiance to Stennett and Rothert.

Duffield found himself closely pressed by his brilliant teammate, Orville Mohler. Duffield got a close call. Several writers confessing they were unable to find a trait in him that was not balanced by some corresponding talent in Mohler, and finally recalling his previous years of stellar service to support the theory that his increment of football brains entitled him to the call.

Spectacular Game Won by Salem High From Chemawa 11

In a game packed full of thrills which kept the big holiday crowd on the edge of the benches for nearly the entire period of play, Salem high triumphed over Chemawa at 14 to 6. The victory closed one of the most successful gridiron seasons in years for Salem and gave the red and black the championship of the Willamette valley.

The Indians representing a dazzling array of lateral passes, end runs from kick formation and crisscrosses, constituted a threat throughout and it was not until Don Sugar crossed the goal for the second touchdown in the final period after a sensational 50 yard trek down the side of the field did victory seem assured for Coach Huntington's players. Franklin, Hesse and little round Meschem time after time, behind well executed interference clipped off 5, 10, 15 yards, but Salem held in the pinches and worked out of dangerous holes although the Redskins at one stage of the game advanced the ball to Salem's 5 yard strip where it was lost through lack of a few inches.

After Giese took the opening kickoff and ran it back to midfield, Salem started a march which did not end until Sugar went over for the first touchdown. Chemawa checked the advance momentarily on their own 30 yard line but Kitzmiller drifted back and hurled a neat pass over right end to Foreman who was chased out of bounds on the 17. Kitzmiller went through left tackle to the 10-yard strip. With a first down on the Indians' 7, Salem backs smashed it over in four tries. Sugar promptly kicked goal.

Chemawa took a hand in the serious business of advancing the ball shortly before the end of the first period, when the Indians took the ball after an exchange of punts on their own 45. From this point Meschem and Hesse through a series of smashes and end runs took the oval to the Salem 5, where it was lost on downs. This marked the high tide of the Chemawa offense, the Indians failing to approach closer than 27 yards to the Salem goal thereafter.

During the second period Salem advanced the ball to the Chemawa 29 yard line only to lose possession when Hesse intercepted a forward pass. This advance into Chemawa territory was brought about through the blocking of a Chemawa punt and a race back through Redskin territory by Giese who recovered the ball.

Chemawa staged a sustained offense in the third period with a series of razzle dazzle plays but this was halted after it reached the Salem 27 when a Chemawa man was caught holding. The resulting penalty put them well out of danger. A play later Sugar grabbed a forward pass and ran it back to the Chemawa 42.

Duffield along into the fourth period it looked like the scoring for the day was over. It was not so however, for Sugar, bursting through the left side of the Chemawa line, started his flight after the last would-be tackler had been taken out by his teammates. It looked like a touchdown right there but a redskin came up fast from behind to shove Sugar out of bounds on the Chemawa 12. Temporarily disorganized, the Chemawa line crumbled to let the charging Japanese boy through on the first effort for a touchdown. The score was brought up to 14 to 6 by Sugar's placekick.

Salem continued to play on an even basis with Chemawa although Coach Huntington ran in several replacements, during the closing minutes of the game.

Starting lineup:
Chemawa: I.E. Adams, LT. Othen, Archambeau, LG. Coffey, Weeks, C. Reid, Churchill, RC. Quarry, Jones, RT. Comzier, Miller, RE. Giese, Mutschman, Q. Foreman, Hesse, LH. Sugar, Wilder, RH. Kitzchen, Meachem, F. Weisner.
Referee, Lamb; umpire, Sparks; head linesman, Crauser.

CARDINAL CREW FAVORED OVER DARTMOUTH 11

San Francisco, 49—East will again meet west Saturday to provide the Pacific coast's feature in intercollegiate football.

The contestants are the "Big Green" team of Dartmouth, and the Indians of Stanford. Both teams went thru a light workout Thursday and then called a holiday to celebrate Thanksgiving. Another light workout Friday, and they will be ready for Saturday's clash. In Thursday's feature western games, the favorites came through with victory, by a wide margin in one instance and by an extremely narrow edge in the other.

In Los Angeles, the southern California Trojans continued their habit of beating conference opponents by big margins by defeating the Washington Huskies 32 to 6.

In San Francisco, the favored St. Mary's Gaels barely passed through, with a 7 to 6 victory over a fighting Oregon team led by Johnny Kitzmiller. An attempted conversion by Kitzmiller after the northwesterners scored their touchdown failed when his place kick hit an upright of the goal post and bounced back, and an apparent touchdown by Oregon in the last quarter was ruled out by the officials. Steve Firtch, Oregon end, appeared to have caught a pass from Kitzmiller, over the St. Mary's goal line, but it was ruled he dropped it before he had the ball in his possession.

Independence—Playing on a frosty field, the Independence football team was swamped by Silverton high here Thursday, dropping the game by a 42 to 0 score.

Respect For His Players System Of Hollingbery

Philadelphia, 49—Kindness and respect for his players is the only "real system" used by Coach Oria "Babe" Hollingbery in developing at Washington State university one of the strongest football teams in the country.

The Cougars, champions of the Pacific coast, are here for a battle with Villanova on Saturday, their first gridiron contest in the east. The game is to be played on Mt. of the unimproved. The Cougars' later will represent the far west at the tournament of roses in Pasadena.

"I don't follow any system of strategy," Coach Hollingbery said Friday. "I teach my players the fundamentals of offense and defense. I give a lot of attention to the line, it's the line that wins football games. But the only real system I have is kindness and respect for my players."
