New York (IP)—Retention with-out change of the present football rules was recommended to the Na-tional Collegiate Athletic associa-tion Tuesday in the annual report of E. K. Hall, chairman of the foot-ball rules committee.

tion Treaday in the annual report of E. K. Hall, chairman of the football rules committee.

The hall report said that the period "of real changes" is "for the time being at an end."

"The rules should be standardized substantially as they are," the report said, "and future changes should be restricted to those which make for greater safely to the players, better sportsmanship or further improvement of the text, and to changes that seem clearly to be necessary to maintain the balance and the integrity of the game substantially as it stands today."

The report came as a surprise to many football critics who had predicted a recommendation of the abolishment of the point-after-touchdown and several other rule changes.

MERGER ORDER

Youngstown, O. 4P9—Doubt that the Youngstown Sheet and Tube sompany will appeal the decision of common pleas Judge David C. Jenkins overthrowing the billion dollar sheet and Tube Bethleber of Lorden Steel corporation merger, was expressed in some quarters Tuesday. While leaders of the pro-merger faction maintained silence on their next move in the conflict with the Syrus S. Enton forces, it was known that many of the merger backers are gasted the jodge's decision as a questionable victory for Eaton, dominant sheet and Tube stockholder, because of stock value losses he sustains as a result of whinting an injunction to block the consolidation. The court's decision sutomatically dismissed suits filed by Eaton and integer fight, asking the court to place a valuation on shares dissenting in the convolidation. The corporation code provides that if a charmac and have a court fix the value.

But just around the congression-al corner is a potentially more dy-namic issue than all that have gone before. It is prohibition, upon which the Wickersham commission now is scheduled to report public-ly January 6, the day after con-gress recurvenes. Benator Borah, republican, Ida-ho, was annoyed by the suggestion of Watson and Senator Reed, re-publican. Pennsylvania, that a special session would be bad for business.

BORAH FAVORS

EXTRA SESSION

repetial session would be one for huainess.

"This talk about congress disturbing business or that a session of congress would be an unmixed evil is an effort to assign a patrictle excuse for going to Europe or going hoppe." he said. "It is a strange thing that we have been fighting to get into congress and telling the people all the things they want to do, and then making every excuse possible to go home and do nothing. I suggest they turn their salaries over to thoungry until they get back."

Borah said there was much legislative work to be done and that much of it probably would not be disposed of in this short session. He wants consideration of railroad legislation, farm relief, the anti-injunction bill, and regulation of interstate bus and power traffic. Administration plans for the present short session do not include all those items. There are indications the house leaders still oppose the Norris plan for government operation of the Muscle Shoals power and fertiliare plant. And Mr. Hoover would be expected to veto such a plan if it reached him. Senate and house conferees will meet again January 6.

Under those circumstances Senator Norris, republicar, Nebraska, whose feur with Euccutive Director Lucas of the republican national committee merely is quiescent, may be expected to side with Borab for a special session. business.
