In an interview the county judge stated that on June 17, 1930, R. L. Hovick was appointed by the court following his nomination by the republican party and was duly sworn in. The following day, June 18, he posted a $5,000 bond and was elected without opposition at the November election. Hawkins further states that Hovick's certificate of election and his qualification carrying a notary public seal is at the moment on file in the county clerk's office. At the present time his work is being taken care of by W. L. Larsen, a graduate engineer, whom he appointed as his deputy.

DISTRICT ROADS FOR SILVERTON MEETING TOPIC

Silverton—At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce Saturday evening the question pertaining to locating several roads in the Silverton vicinity was widely discussed. One particular road in discussion was the new market road up Drift Creek into the Victor Point district on which, it has been assured complete grading will be done to the Victor Point corner this coming summer. Next year, 1932 it is planned that this road will be graded to the Union Hills district. Another road talked about was the Silver Creek Falls loop. The chamber and other interested parties are working very closely with the county courts towards providing the most desirable roadway in this district, which will be located so as to offer the greatest scenic value to the tourist.

Among other roads discussed was the Cascade Highway which has been placed on the county highway map as a market road and which is practically all graded and partially paved from Station to the Clackamas county line near Marquam. This highway is being actively sponsored by a special committee composed of the best representatives from all of the counties through which it passes.

Dr. P. A. Loar of Silverton, president of the Cascade Highway association is working for its early completion. The southern terminal is Eugene, and the northern one is Portland. This route, following closely along the foot-hills of the beautiful Cascade shortens the distance between these two cities about 26 miles. Intersection with the Santiam Highway, for which the county court has already appropriated $100,000, will be made at Station. This will place Portland about 75 miles nearer Bend than does the present route over the McKenzie Pass and there will be no grades over 6 per cent. Exponents of the Cascade highway claim that its completion should divert a goodly part of the traffic now passing over the Pacific Highway, and in so doing, will relieve it of a great portion of the wear and tear it is now suffering. The state highway commission's reported plan for the widening of the Pacific Highway between Salem and Eugene which Dr. Loar and committee states would be unnecessary if the Cascade Highway were in operation within the next three years.

Fire Chief Whitman declared that ten feet would be ample room to use the hydrant and the ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance changing the non-parking strip to 10 feet on the west of the hydrant instead of the present strip, which extends in front of the building. Mayor Broyles made the appointment of Theodore Nehl as city marshal to succeed himself. On motion Street Commissioner Moir was instructed to post notices for the construction of a concrete sidewalk on the east side of First street from Grant street to Hayes and from Hayes to Garfield, abutting the property of J.
