The bride wore a Grecian model in apricot transparent velvet with a long tulle veil of the same shade banded with Bohemian lace and caught by clusters of orange blossoms. Her only jewels were a long string of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Miss Hazel Kirk of Monmouth Normal faculty, the only attendant of the bride, wore a colonial model in pastel blue chiffon and a quaint blue tulle cap. She carried the appropriate old-fashioned nosegay.

Peter George McDonald, brother of the bride, was best man. A magnificent arch of calla lilies led to the altar, where Rev. Father George C. Chabot officiated.

Mendelsohn's wedding march was played for the bridal party. After a quiet reception for immediate relatives, the young married couple left for a short wedding trip north. They will be at home to friends after March 4, in their home at Dundee.

SOAP-BUBBLES vs. SERVICE

TAKE this big package of soap-bubbles in your left hand. Take this smaller package of White King in your right. Which is the heavier? ... Well, you see how it is!

The answer is that White King's granulated form permits it to pack closer in the carton, like sugar. So you really get more for your money from the smaller package. The suds are more significant than size. And when it comes to actual washing value, White King Granulated Soap admits no equal.

White King's economy will surprise you. A teaspoonful* in a basin of water for fine lingerie—a cupful* for the washing machine. And it's absolutely pure—anything water won't hurt, White King won't. At your grocer's.
