MONMOUTH TO SEE SENIORS IN THE IVORY DOOR

Monmouth—Stage committees for the O. N. S. senior class play "The Ivory Door," by A. A. Milne, have been chosen and are busy preparing costumes, settings, etc. for the play which will be presented February 28. To those who have never worked on the stage, things which are utilized in making realistic settings are not realized. Lead pipes become tall gold lamps, gold leaf paper serves as heavy brass, old paper is used as glass, stone walls are constructed of powdered asbestos, and wrought iron is very satisfactorily made from telephone wire.

"The Ivory Door," are three settings, the first and last in the gorgeous throne room of the make-believe kingdom. The second setting is outside the walls of the castle, and the third is in the court yard and the entrance to the castle.

A large staff of workers is required to stage the production. The committees for this part of the work includes: First setting: Gweneth Dike, chairman; Pauline Chase, Laurena Horn, Marie Conser, Ella Sampert, Catherine Fleming, Lavona Andrews, Laved Backholder. Second setting: Sylvia Oasheim, chairman; Margaret Miller, Waldo Riches, Katherine Halloway, Lillian Maki, Earl Chamberlain, and Lucile Henkle. Third setting: Zella Davidson, chairman; Gladys Bentley, Esther Lundjars, Wilma Horn, Vergie Glen, William Kelly, Constance Floemington, Helen Esert and William Zell.
