Lenten Season Impresses Social Coteries and Club Groups In Coming Week

THE LENTEN season has cast its reflection over social activities during the next fortnight, and while club sessions and concerts and informal sports will provide a variety of interest the major social functions will be scattering. Many bridge clubs and informal parties will entertain, but aside from the Ordway-Millard nuptials Sunday at the home of Miss Millard's parents, outstanding events will be few.

This week-end will be enlivened by impromptu social affairs for the younger sets home from colleges and universities for the sprnig vacation. The basketball tournament and the "S" club dance in compliment to the visiting teams at the state tournament will draw from the ranks of the young folk Saturday night.

Monday night a benefit bridge party, sponsored by the Kappa Delta sorority members and alumnae in Salem, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Wright on Stewart street. Miss Eloise Wright, of the house at the Corvallis campus, is here for the spring vacation, and together with Mrs. Harris Lietz will be in charge of the benefit. Other alumnae members in Salem are Miss Nina Maggini, Miss Hazel Phillipi and Miss Wilma Coursey.

The third district convention at Hillsboro Thursday will attract a number of club women not only from the capital city but from the nine counties listed in the federation. Mrs. William Fordyce Fargo of Salem is president of the third district an dshe will preside at the all-day session. The main addresses will be made by Mrs. Charles Bilyeu of Dallas, president of the state federation, and Mrs. Saidie Orr-Dunbar of Portland, chairman of public welfare for the national federation. A business session with reports of officers and department chairman and musical numbers will occupy the major portion of the day. A no-host luncheon with luncheon conferences will be held at noon.

The regular meeting of the Salem Woman's club will be held the following day, Friday, in the Woman's clubhouse. The prorgam will be supplied by the Portland Woman's club and a large committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edgar T. Pierce will serve tea.

The Woman's clubhouse will be a busy place during the coming week, for several other club sessions will be held there, including the social meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club Wednesday night. At that time Dr. David Bennett Hill will show his pictures of Oregon scenery, and there will be other program features.

The grand council fire for Campfire girls will be held next Saturday night, March 28, at the Y. M. C. A. Campfire members from many other districts will join with Salem members in the elaborate ceremonials.

Miss Margreta Millard To Wed Mr. Ordway At Pretty Ceremony Sunday

OUTSTANDING in pre-Easter nuptials will be the lovely wedding Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard on D street when their daughter, Margreta, will become the bride of Ed Ordway of Portland, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Ordway of Astoria. About 60 guests, relatives and intimate friends of the bridal couple, have been invited from Salem, Astoria, Portland, Corvallis, Dallas, Sheridan and McMinnville for the ceremony.

The service will be read by Dr. B. Earle Parker of the First Methodist church in front of an improvised altar placed before the French doors leading from the spacious living room of the Millard home to the smaller living room. The altar will be banked with palm, fern and spring flowers in pastel shades. Tall floor candelabra will flank the altar. Floor baskets and smaller baskets and bowls of dainty spring flowers will be arranged in profusion about the living rooms and banking the fireplace. Soft candle lighting will be used effectively.

Professor T. S. Roberts will play the wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn. Immediately preceeding the ceremony an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Archie Millard of Portland, will sing, "O Promise Me."

Miss Millard will have her sister, Mrs. Neva Kibbe, as her only attendant. Miss Millard has chosen a beautiful formal afternoon frock of blue silk lace with smart matching jacket as her wedding gown. She will carry a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and pastel-shaded sweet peas. The matron of honor, Mrs. Kibbe, has selected a formal afternoon gown of flowered chiffon in delicate tones, with a large bertha collar of peach chiffon. Her arm bouquet will be of sweet peas with a few roses, tied with a harmonizing ribbon.

Richard Newton of Portland will act as best man.

Immediately following the wedding will be an informal reception. Miss Evangeline Millard will greet the guests at the door and Mrs. Fred Buchanan of McMinnville will receive the guests. Mrs. Lou Ballantyne of Dallas and Mrs. B. B. Herrick will assist about the living rooms, and Mrs. Ruth Briedwell and Mrs. Harold Millard will be in charge of the upstairs room.

An effective arrangement of a pastel colored flower wreath with four pale blue tapers in silver holders has been planned for the tea table where Mrs. T. S. Roberts and Mrs. Roswell Conner of McMinnville will pour and cut ices. Miss Lola Millard will be in charge of the dining room and Miss Wynnetta Guthrie of Corvallis, Miss Ruth Briedwell and Miss Georgia Spencer will assist in the serving.

The bride-to-be has selected a smart costume of russet with black hat and black accessories for her going away costume.

The young couple will leave for a short wedding trip in California Sunday night. On their return they will make their home at 155 East 19th street North, Portland.

Miss Millard was exceptionally prominent during her high school days in Salem. Later she attended a Portland business college and has since been employed in Portland. Mr. Ordway studied at the Oregon State college in Corvallis and is now connected with the Southern Pacific offices at Portland.
