12 Table Luncheon Thursday

The Oriental room of the Marion hotel, the scene of many delightful social events, presented a most charming appearance Thursday when Mrs. Palmer Macdonald and Mrs. Wayne Ledner entertained prominent matrons and maids of the capital city with one of outstanding bridge luncheons of the spring season. Great baskets and urns of pink and yellow anemones formed an effective background for the 12 small luncheon tables. Bowls of sweet peas and delicate-colored flowers centered the tables.

Mrs. William Scandling and Mrs. Conrad Paulus assisted the hostesses in receiving the guests and about the room.

Following the luncheon, both contract and auction bridge were in play at the twelve tables.

Guests of Mrs. Loder and Mrs. MacDonald for the affair were Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. J. H. Callaghan, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry, Mrs. T. A. Roberts, Mrs. Gus Hixon, Mrs. W. E. Scandling, Mrs. Ercel Kay, Mrs. Conrad Paulus, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Miss Rowena Eyre, Mrs. Jack Elliott, Mrs. James Young, Mrs. Brazier Small, Miss Charlotte Zeiber, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. Otto E. Johnson, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mrs. James Linn, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Mrs. W. H. Lytle, Mrs. Homer Green, Mrs. Roy Simmons, Mrs. Velma A. Miss Davies Honor Guest

Complimenting Miss Marie Davies whose wedding to Donald Smith of Marshfield will be solemnized June 12 at Ashland, a pre-nuptial shower was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Beckett on North 13th street. Appropriate games entertained the guests, followed by the presentation of presents to Miss Davies, and the serving of refreshments.

In the group were Miss Davies, Florence Waldo, Esther Blinner, Betty Darley, Virginia Richmond, Lottie Robbins, Lella Kimsey, Irma Barber, Grace Quackenbush, Ethel Elliott, Florence Stewart, Grace Hendrickson and the hostess, Mrs. Emma Beckett.

Miss Davies is a teacher at Park school.

Surprise Party For Mrs. Bauer

Mrs. Charles Bauer, who with Mr. Bauer will leave for their new home in Tacoma the latter part of the week, was the guest of honor at a delightfully informal surprise party given Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Seelars in the Royal Court apartments. Members of Mrs. Bauer's bridge club were guests for the afternoon and held a surprise gift shower for Mrs. Bauer following the tea hour.

Those present were Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Ben F. Pound, Mrs. Will D. Evans, Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. William McQuilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Erwin Smith, Mrs. Lyman Steed and the hostess, Mrs. Seelars.

The club group also met for their regular club luncheon Tuesday at the Ben F. Pound home with Mrs. Pound and Mrs. Seelars as hostesses. Mrs. Roy Byrd was an additional guest. Prizes went to Mrs. Byrd and to Mrs. George Alexander.

Plan Dance Friday Night

The Willamette valley division social club of the Portland General Electric company will sponsor a dance Friday night at Castilian hall. Members from nearby valley towns are expected to attend and members of the Portland club have been invited as special guests.

Officers of the club, in charge of dance arrangements, are John Verdieck, Mason Bishop and Miss Mary Heenan.

Livesleys Leaving For Culver, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley are leaving Friday for Culver, Indiana, where they will attend the commencement exercises at the Culver Military academy from June 5 to 10. Their son, Tommy Livesley, will graduate this year from the academy. A second Salem boy, Charles Kay Babson, also is in the graduating class at the academy.

The Livesleys are giving their son a small car as a graduation present and Tommy and a Portland boy will drive west. Mr. and Mrs. Livesley probably will go on to New York before returning to Salem.

Mrs. Livesley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. DeBerk of Vancouver, B. C., are staying at the Lovelock home, Fairmount hill during the absence of the local people.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Shanks attended the Silverton Hills Sunday school convention held last Sunday at the Silverton Hills community house. Mrs. Shanks was the convention speaker.

Bridge Tea Compliments Mrs. Smith

Honoring Mrs. Albert C. Smith, worthy matron of Chadwick chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Ralph Mercer entertained with an attractive bridge tea Wednesday afternoon at the W. T. Rigdon home on North Winter street. The smart social event was in compliment to Mrs. Smith's wedding anniversary.

Miss Lella Rigdon assisted Mrs. Mercer during the afternoon.

Six tables of bridge were in play in the spacious rooms of the Rigdon home. Additional guests called at the tea hour. A profusion of colorful spring flowers, with iris predominating, were arranged in great baskets about the room.

Mrs. Smith was presented with a guest prize, and the card prizes went to Mrs. Frank Crawford for high score and to Mrs. J. J. Tallman. A tea prize was presented Mrs. Ralph Thompson.

Guests bidden by Mrs. Mercer and Miss Rigdon in compliment to Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mrs. J. O. Russell, Mrs. D. X. Tea, Bridge Party For Mrs. Power

Mrs. Frank Chapman and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at the Chapman home in the Royal Court apartments with an informal tea complimenting Mrs. Kenneth Power. Mrs. Power is leaving Friday evening for Appleton, Wis., where she will visit with her parents during the next two months.

Iris, columbine and sweet peas were used in profusion about the living rooms, and the tea table from which the hostesses served, assisted by Mrs. Dolph Craig, was centered with a basket of sweet peas flanked

Club women motoring to the school for the program were Mrs. S. M. Endicott, general chairman of the institutions department; Mrs. J. C. Tibbitts, chairman of the blind school division; Mrs. Ida F. Shadle, Mrs. Josephine Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kershner and Miss Alva Kershner.

The program included such orchestra numbers as "The Sleigh Ride" by De Rubertis, selections from Mlle. Modiste by Herbert; "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by Jessel; "Move up Johnson" by Laurendeau, featuring Mr. Larson with his trombone; Hungarian Dance by Brahms; four favorite airs from the musical farce "High Jinks" and the overture "Hungarian Lustspiel" by Bela. Alexander S. Melovidoff, accompanied by Mr. Turney played a violin solo.

Graduating Nurses Honored at Picnic

Complimenting the graduating nurses of the Salem General hospital, all members of the hospital student body motored to Neskowin Wednesday for an all day picnic. Fifteen nurses were in the group.

The three graduating nurses at the hospital are Virginia Parr of Oskaloosa, Iowa, Etta May Wells of Independence, and Doris Thompson of Los Angeles.

A second social event planned in honor of the graduating group will be a staff banquet at the hospital next week. Baccalaureate services will be held June 28 at the First Methodist church and the graduating exercises will be held June 29 at the Unitarian church.

Mrs. Winn Honor Guest at Luncheon

Mrs. William C. Jones entertained at a luncheon Wednesday noon in honor of Mrs. Ralph B. Winn. Mrs. Winn is leaving Friday morning for Chicago, where she will spend the summer. Prof. Winn, who has been instructing at Willamette university, will spend the summer on the coast.

Covers were placed at the luncheon for Mrs. Winn, Mrs. Egbert S. Oliver, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Leslie Sparks, Mrs. Herbert Rahe, Mrs. Cecil Monk, Mrs. M. P. Panek, and for the hostess, Mrs. Jones.

Several other informal affairs have complimented Mrs. Winn during the past several days.

Program under Auspices of Club

Under the auspices of the institutions department of the Salem Woman's club, a program was given at the state school for the blind Wednesday night by the Chemawa orchestra. Ruthyn Turney directed the orchestra, with Mrs. Turney at the piano.

Club women motoring to the school for the program were Mrs. S. M. Endicott, general chairman of the institutions department; Mrs. J. C. Tibbitts, chairman of the blind school division; Mrs. Ida F. Shadle, Mrs. Josephine Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kershner and Miss Alva Kershner.

The program included such orchestra numbers as "The Sleigh Ride" by De Rubertis, selections from Mlle. Modiste by Herbert; "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by Jessel; "Move up Johnson" by Laurendeau, featuring Mr. Larson with his trombone; Hungarian Dance by Brahms; four favorite airs from the musical farce "High Jinks" and the overture "Hungarian Lustspiel" by Bela. Alexander S. Melovidoff, accompanied by Mr. Turney played a violin solo.

Mrs. C. A. Downs entertained members of the MacDowell club study class at her home Wednesday evening. The group studied the early folk music of England, Ireland and Scotland. Mrs. Grover C. Bellingher contributed a paper to the evening's program. Refreshments were served later.

Miss Thielsen in Eugene Program

University of Oregon, Eugene—Nancy Thielsen of Salem, with splendid assistance from Harold Ayres, accompanist, and Victor Bryant, flutist, both of Eugene, Tuesday night sang a thoroughly enjoyable song recital before an admiring audience in the Music building auditorium. The beauty, power, range, and control of her soprano voice, the discriminating interpretation she gave the many pieces, and her charming, graceful presence all contributed to a sterling performance.

Three engaging airs by Donauy, written in tuneful antique style, introduced the audience to a voice vibrant, mellow, and under control at all times, a voice of sweetness and astounding breadth.

In Italian, French, German, English, Miss Thielsen seemed equally comfortable. Crisp enunciation, convincing emphasis, and mastery of the poly-lingual program were appreciated by the audience. Miss Thielsen is a senior student of the voice department of the school of music, and her work Tuesday night reflected his thorough-going methods of coaching.

A typical Brahms group of three songs provided a medium for the soprano's interpretative and dramatic accomplishments.

Aballeff's "Russian Nightingale," with many elaborate embellishments, was done in a sparkling style, with flute obligato by Victor Bryant. Both in the Aballeff song and David's "Charming Oiseau," Miss Thielsen and Mr. Bryant excelled with difficult cadenzas, echo effects, lacy figures, staccato syncopations, and fluid harmonies in thirds. Mr. Bryant achieved a mellow tone, and followed Miss Thielsen faultlessly through arpeggios and intricate melodic patterns over a wide tonal range.

"Lied Maritime" by D'Indy was emotionally representative of the sea and its remorseless power over man. Miss Thielsen's voice full and vibrant, and her interpretation intelligent, Paladilhe's "Psyche" abounded in the unusual tone progressions of modern French composition.

There was conversational intimacy in "Bon Jour, Suzon," an airy Delibes song. There was a smile in her voice as the soprano sang.

In the accompaniment to Lalo's "Leclaire," Ayres achieved fine tonal effects which sustained the measured phrasing of the singer, and Bachelet's "Chere Nuit" brought forth an integration of melody and piano accompaniment which suggested the finality, the complementary sufficiency of night.

Miss Thielsen handled her lovely voice with exacting splendor in Carpenters' "Serenade." Her vibrant quality thrilled the listeners in "The Past Sings," a number by Watts, as in Paladilhe's "Psyche," in the previous group.

A tender lullaby was Ronald's "A Sheepfold Song." Seemingly Asiatic harmonies lent much to the beauty of phrasing which the singer gave this pastoral serenade.

"Pierrot," composed by Pauline Brigham, a graduate student in the school of music, proved a cheerful, lively ballad. Miss Thielsen's interpretation was gay and colorful, and the audience demanded a repetition of the number.

"Joy" by Roberts, was the closing number. It radiated the spirit which its title suggests, and Miss Thielsen lost not a grain of its beauty in a flight of vocal radiance. Her voice was fresh and strong, and its power and volume gave convincing emphasis to the song, a lyric of joy.

Mrs. Roy E. McCallum and small son, Robert LaRay, of Port Townsend, Wash., are guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Hoagale. Mr. McCallum will join them in a few weeks and they will visit his parents at Alpine, Ore.

A program given by Willamette university students under the direction of Prof. Herbert E. Rahe entertained members of Chapter G of the P. E. O. sisterhood and their guests Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. T. Wain.

New officers of the Salem Women's club will be installed Friday afternoon at a meeting of the club (Additional Society on Page 7)
