FACTORIES IN RUSSIA FAIL TO FUNCTION

Moscow (AP)—Leaders of Soviet Russia Thursday were confronted with evidence of several hitches in their industrial program. Moscow newspapers published accounts of instances in which the industrial machinery had failed to function smoothly.

The newspaper "Za Industriizatsia" published a disclosure of "unsatisfactory" conditions in the farm machinery factory at Rostov, which is one of the largest in the world, and asserted the poor work done in assembling machines amounted to a "catastrophe." The paper said the superintendent of the assembling department had been discharged because he gave out false production figures. He claimed 438 machines were ready for shipment, whereas investigation showed there were only 20.

On May 25, for example, investigators at the Rostov plant found not a single moving machine under repair, but turned out although the program called for 100 motors and 110 binders. There also has been a serious drop in the production of other machines.

Some of the trouble is attributed to sabotage, but it is generally admitted unskilled workers are to blame.

Za Industriizatsia is the organ of the supreme economic council and is generally considered an interpreter of the five year plan. Moscow newspapers also point to the failure of the transportation system to fulfill its program for the latter part of 1930 and the first quarter of 1931. Transportation authorities blame the factories for failure to supply materials, while the factories blame the railways for failing to bring them fuel and other necessities.

The superintendent of the "Red October" metallurgical plant at Stalingrad has been charged with failure to carry out urgent orders for the railways and will be tried soon in Moscow.

The industrial program for the first quarter called for steel plants to furnish 117,825 tons of rails, but they provided only 37 per cent of this total.

"Gudok," a newspaper devoted to railway matters, declared Thursday that conditions had not improved in the second quarter of this year, as only 22,916 tons of rails were actually supplied during April against 74,000 tons which were called for by the program. This newspaper also asserts the rate of production of rails this year is 30 per cent less than that of 1930. This situation, together with the general dilapidated condition of rolling stock, locomotives and road beds, makes the transport situation loom as one of the most serious of the Soviet regime has thus far encountered.

Also it will be recommended that Evans be assigned to the ways and means committee, the committee on accounts and current expenses and the committee on public parks. Purvine sat as a member of all of these. ## OLD KATE DIES AT AGE OF 88

London (AP)—Kathleen McNeill, known merely as "Old Kate" to racing enthusiasts is dead at the age of 88.

For nearly three quarters of a century she sold race cards at the tracks and was a familiar figure to tens of thousands of King George and Queen Mary who both knew "Old Kate" and frequently had stopped to chat with her.

She was as well known at the races as Lord Lonsdale or Steve Donoghue, the jockey. It was her boast that she had witnessed 61 derbies. The king bought his card from her on derby day, as did the royal princes, most ambassadors and many earls and lords.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh talked to her when he saw the derby after his flight from New York to Paris in 1927.

CHAPLIN WILL MAKE PICTURE

London (AP)—Charles Spencer Chaplin, who recently refused to participate in a "command performance" before King George has accepted an offer from the British government to devise and direct a British talking motion picture, the Daily Sketch said Thursday.

The Daily Sketch said the acceptance was a result of conversations among Chaplin and representatives of the foreign office in Paris recently.

The British ambassador in Paris, Lord Lytton, proposed that Chaplin direct a film to be called "After the Mayflower," designed to be an epic of the Pilgrim fathers. Chaplin, however, rejected the proposal and offered one of his own.

He said he would write and direct a film to be called "London," dealing with the romance and mystery of the city. The proposal was accepted, the Daily Sketch said. The paper understood that as a result it was likely Chaplin would be awarded "an honor."

It was recalled that Chaplin recently refused to appear at a "command performance" in London, replying that he was a film actor and never appeared on the stage. He sent a check, however, for $1000 to the fund for actors for which the performance was given.

which they and Hal Hoss, secretary of state, are members. What either of them proposes is, from all appearance, presented by prearrangement and understanding.

Where administration issues are at stake Hoss might as well not be present.

Yet when Hoss is not present he is the target for pointed criticism of his absence and inference of neglect of his duty.

No observer at board meetings need be endowed with mystic powers of discernment to observe that Hoss is the target for a political alliance that is constantly campaigning against him, and against his possible reelection to the office of state treasurer next year.

POLING TO PREACH GRADUATION SERMON

The baccalaureate sermon Sunday night at the First Evangelical church will be compulsory for all high school graduating seniors, it was announced Thursday by the senior class advisor, Mrs. Ellen Fisher. While the two-day holiday will draw many families out of town for the high school graduates, the service will not be excused except in the case of serious illness.

Dr. C. C. Poling will preach the service in the new building of the First Evangelical church, Marion and North Summer streets. A special section will be reserved for the 200 high school graduates. Dr. Poling is taking as his text, "Give and it shall be given unto you," and will speak on false and true personal power and influence. There will be special music by the choir, directed by Mrs. Ethel Poling Phelps, and it is anticipated that Lawrence Maves, former high school graduate, will be the soloist.

The commencement program Friday morning at the Elsinore theater was being completed Thursday afternoon by Prof. J. C. Nelson, principal-emeritus at the high school. In addition to the address by Prof. J. C. Nelson, the program will include the valedictory speech by Ruth Chapman, piano numbers by the faculty representative, Elizabeth Lewis, violin numbers by Nathan Steinbock, the presentation of prizes and scholarships by principal Fred Wolf, and the bestowal of diplomas by City Superintendent George Wolf and Principal Wolf.

NEW LINE UP FOR COUNCIL COMMITTEES

William D. Evans, who was elected a member of the city council at the last regular meeting to succeed Ellis Purvine, who resigned, will be made chairman of the council standing committees if recommendations of the committee on committees are adopted at the meeting next Monday night.

At a meeting of the committee Wednesday afternoon it was decided to recommend that Evans be made chairman of the committee on health and sanitation. This chairmanship was held by Purvine.

Also it will be recommended that Evans be assigned to the ways and means committee, the committee on accounts and current expenses and the committee on public parks. Purvine sat as a member of all of these. He was chairman of the committee on accounts and current expenses, and the committee on committees will recommend that Alderman Frank Needham move up a notch and become head of this committee.

Purvine's resignation also left a vacancy on the public utilities committee. It will be recommended that Alderman C. A. Olson be made a member of this committee in his place.

The readjustment, if adopted as recommended, will make the membership of the committees affected as follows:

Health and sanitation—Evans, chairman, Olson and Kowitz. Ways and means—O'Hara, chairman, Needham and Evans. Accounts and current expenses—Needham, chairman, Evans and O'Hara. Public parks—Patton, chairman, Olson and Evans. Public utilities—Kowitz, chairman, Patton and Olson.

The members of the committee on committees, which will recommend the changes, are Kowitz, chairman, Dancy and Kuhn.

The committee on ordinances, and on public buildings and incinerator, held a meeting to consider the ordinance granting a five-year franchise to Umbdenstock, Inc., for the exclusive right to haul garbage in the city and operate the incinerator. The ordinance was introduced at the last meeting. The committee members say that it will have to be amended in some aspects although no definite decisions have been reached as to just what the committees will recommend. The ordinance bill was referred to both committees. One issue of the proposed arrangement that is being given careful attention by the committees is the rates to be charged residents and business houses for disposal of their garbage by the franchise holders.

The young blackbirds stormed the headquarters of Civita Cattolica Wednesday night, stoning the windows and committing other depredations. They tore an oil painting of the Virgin Mary from the wall, carried it into the streets and trampled on it, crying meanwhile: "Here is a traitor to his country!"

Heaving copies of the book "Il Papa" (the Pope) out of the windows, they took them to the Piazza Colonna, near the foreign office, and consisted them by a bonfire, together with copies of Osservatore Romano, the paper which has been publishing accounts of purported fascist indignities.

The march on the publishing house was without interference by the police. Later, authorities dispersed the students as they broke into small groups and began parading the streets, shouting deprecating remarks against the church.

The incident was expected to lead to an exchange of notes between the Vatican and the government and perhaps to complicate an already strained situation.

The fear of further disorders caused the Italian police Thursday to station guards at all approaches to Vatican City. The guards were so few in number that they attracted little notice. Carabinieri were posted at each end of all bridges, apparently to give the alarm if fascist students should start a march on the Vatican.

Church authorities were greatly concerned over the violence. It was taken for granted vigorous representations would be made to the Italian government, if this has not already been done.

PRIZES AWARDED VARSITY STUDENTS

One of the most important student body meetings in the Willamette university school year was held Thursday afternoon in the Warren McMillin gymnasium, when Warren McMillin, student president during the past year, turned the gavel to Charles Campbell, president for next year. Other features of the meeting was the election of certain officers and the appearance of the "Liberty Cowboys."

Every year the students vote on three persons each for the Col. Wilks prize and the Albert prize. Mrs. Alice Fisher received the Wilks prize which goes to the person doing the greatest real good to fellow students and the Albert prize goes to Sarah Dark for making the greatest progress in lines of character, service and wholesome influence. For the forensics council the students selected Ray Lafay, Charles Giannoli and Lillian Beecher, Walter for crown prince, Frank Harley. Votes were cast for song queen and yell king but no candidates received a majority so another election will be held later to decide between Carolyn Braden and Lois Wilkes for queen and Lloyd Girod and John Nelson for king.

The program of the Liberty Cow-boys was well received and applause was given the four prize winners even after they had filed out of the room. This group of boys from Liberty appeared at the community night at the Elsinore theater recently and won the local prize but was eliminated from the finals because they had received help from outside the community. Prof. Cameron Marshall of Willamette directed the group. They have been asked to reappear on the Elsinore stage.

The monthly church night basket supper of the Knight Memorial church congregation will be held in the church parlors Wednesday evening, June 2. Mrs. I. S. Wilcox of New York city, a representative of the American Missionary association, will be the speaker, and a women's quartet will sing.

Auto Skid Fatal To Portland Woman

Portland (AP)—Miss Fay Nichols, 30, was fatally injured Wednesday on the Mount Hood Loop highway when her automobile slid into an embankment. Three other women in the car were uninjured.

Mrs. Fred C. Kiehl, driving the machine, told police the front wheels of the car suddenly locked and the machine skidded across the highway and into the bank.

Miss Nichols was crushed between the bank and the car.

NIGHT POLICE ARREST THREE

Three men were sent to the county jail from justice court Thursday—two of them for vagrancy and the third charged with a felony—as the result of the operations of the Salem police Wednesday night.

Charles Logan, a victim of the drug habit, arrested after he is said to have broken into the office of Dr. Ray Pemberton in the Guardian building, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of stealing drugs and stamps, although earlier in the day he admitted the theft. Bail was fixed at $500 which he failed to furnish.

Charles Baker and C. C. Whispell were the two men charged with vagrancy. They, too, entered pleas of not guilty and were taken to the county jail in lieu of $50 bail each.

The men have been traveling together in an automobile for several weeks coming from the south. They were taken into custody by Officers Fisher and Burgess.

Approximately $50 in gold, admitted by Logan to have been stolen from dental offices in Texas, was found in his possession.

Baker admits to having served three years at Walla Walla, being on parole from there now. Whispell gives Spokane as his address but claims he has no prison record.

PORTRAIT OF POPE DESTROYED

Rome (AP)—Destruction of a portrait of Pope Pius XI by fascist students during an attack on a Catholic publishing house cast new fuel Thursday on the smoldering resentment of the Vatican toward the Italian government.

The young blackbirds stormed the headquarters of Civita Cattolica Wednesday night, stoning the windows and committing other depredations. They tore an oil painting of the Virgin Mary from the wall, carried it into the streets and trampled on it, crying meanwhile: "Here is a traitor to his country!"

Heaving copies of the book "Il Papa" (the Pope) out of the windows, they took them to the Piazza Colonna, near the foreign office, and consisted them by a bonfire, together with copies of Osservatore Romano, the paper which has been publishing accounts of purported fascist indignities.
