

LOCALS

A large increase in industrial accidents during the past week was reported Saturday by the industrial accident commission. One fatality resulted, Harold Peterson, logger, whose residence is Chico, Calif. It was reported that the total accidents numbered 678, about a hundred in excess of the usual number reported.

You end all doubt as to a complete reliable and economic Electric Refrigeration when you buy the Westinghouse at Gahldorf's. 141

J. H. Lautnerman, owner and manager of the Argo hotel, and vice-president of the Oregon State Hotelmen's association, and W. A. Cummins, manager of the Senator hotel, and secretary of the Stage Terminal Hotel company, have both been elected delegates to the international convention of the Hotel Greeters of America, and are leaving Sunday for Vancouver, B. C., where the convention is being held.

Paint, wall paper, art goods, Hutcheon Paint store, 154 S. Com'l. 141

An effort to collect delinquent pledges made by contributors when the Y. M. C. A. building was erected five years ago will be made according to an agreement reached Friday night when the building committee consisting of Joseph Albert, T. M. Hicks, Dr. C. C. Findley and W. I. Stanley met to consider the matter. Many persons failed to pay anything on their pledges while others are considerably in arrears. Many of these are amply able to take care of the matter, it is believed. Renewal of old notes will be asked in instances where subscribers are unable to pay now.

Modern dance, Crystal ball room every Saturday. 141

C. P. Bishop, Salem merchant who recently returned from a visit to Atlantic coast cities and the national chamber of commerce, will address the chamber of commerce forum luncheon Monday. Bishop will speak on "How the east differs from the west."

Skating, Dreamland, every Sunday, 7 to 10 p.m. Ladies free. 141

Plans for the formation of a troop of Boy Scouts at Wacoona were laid Friday night when O. P. West, executive of Cascade area council and W. L. Hayward, of Seattle, regional executive, attended a banquet and meeting at that place. A Mr. Davies will have charge of the new troop.

Biggest, best old-time dance, Crystal Every Wed. and Saturday. 141

W. L. Hayward, regional executive of the Boy Scouts, who has been in Salem during the past 10 days in connection with the financial campaign of the Scout movement in this district, left for his home in Seattle Saturday. A trip to Scout headquarters in New York will be made by Hayward soon. Although a full report on the campaign here is not available, West states good progress has been made toward completing the budget. A meeting of the solicitors will be held next week.

Save money on home furnishings. Buy them Saturday at the Furniture Auction Sale, Market Furniture Co. Sales at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., 7:30 p.m. 141

The proposed climb of Bald mountain in the Coast range Sunday by the Chemeketa under the leadership of W. M. Hamilton depends upon weather conditions Sunday morning. However, Hamilton states he will make the climb regardless of the state of the weather if other members of the hikers want to go. The road between the city and the point where the cars are left to start the climb is reported in good condition, having been graveled during the past year.

Three big Furniture Auction Sales Saturday at the Market Furniture Co. Sales at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., 7:30 p.m. 141

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. C. Smith, of Salem, escaped injuries at East 17th and Rex avenue in Portland Friday when the automobile, in which they were riding with Gordon Allen, 167 King street, Portland, struck one driven by William Bell, about 4 of Stanley station. Bell was driving alone and his machine was overturned. He was taken to a hospital suffering from a bad skull fracture. Allen was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and bail set at $500.

Plan to attend the Furniture Auction Sales at the Market Furniture Co. Saturday. Sales at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., and 7:30 p.m. 141

Complaint for foreclosure has been filed in circuit court by W. H. McDermoney against Henry L. Bents. Judgment for $5000 is also asked. Involved in the complaint is also the insolvent Willamette Valley Mortgage Loan company.

Storage Auction Sale, Monday a.m. June 15, 1931, 11 a.m. sharp. Capital City Trans. Co., 226 State St., Salem, Ore. 141

Margaret E. Weddle has been named executrix of the $3000 estate of James Edward Weddle.

Dance Saturday night at Tumble Inn. Old time music, always crowded. 141

Circuit Judge Hill will be in Salem Monday to hear the contested divorce case of Bohia against Bohia.

Lawrence Davies, who is the Philadelphia correspondent for the New York Times, is in Salem with his family to visit relatives of Mrs. Davies and to attend Willamette university commencement. This year is the 10th anniversary of Davies' class at the university. After graduating from Willamette he was with the Portland Telegram for several years, and later represented American newspapers in Europe. After returning to the United States he was with the Times in New York, later being assigned to the Philadelphia bureau of that paper.

An electric refrigerator built to render minimum service not just to sell. The Westinghouse at Gahldorf's, 325 Court St. 141

Mandate has come down from the supreme court to the county clerk in the case of American Trust company against James W. Mott, corporation commissioner in which Mott was appellant. The lower court is reversed, the mandate decreeing the American Trust company is not a trust company and comes under the provisions of the blue sky law.

Shoe repairing half soles, ladies' 50c, 75c; men's $1, $1.50. Men's rubbers 45c. Ladies' 25c, 35c. Jacob Vogt, 979 S. Commercial. 142

Decree of foreclosure has been granted in circuit court in the case of Earl A. Olson against Jack Larsen.

Dry planer wood. Fred E. Wells, Inc. 141

Application to have the case of John Glas against Roy Rae on the trial docket has been filed with the county clerk.

Storage Auction Sale, Monday a.m. June 15, 1931, 11 a.m. sharp. Capital City Trans. Co., 226 State St., Salem, Ore. 141

In the case of Intermountain Building & Loan association against B. S. Rice a decree of foreclosure has been granted in circuit court.

Husky higrade chicks will pay next winter, both for eggs and meat. Started and day old $10 per hundred. Salem's Petland, Phone 6767. 141

Order of sale of real property has been filed in circuit court in the case of George W. Lamberson against the unknown heirs of Alonzo Gesner.

Dance, Mellow Moon every Sat. & Wed. Admission only 25c. 141

We wish to correct the erroneous report that we are not having the regular church services at Emmanuel Baptist church. Services each Lord's day—Bible school 10 o'clock. Preaching services 11 a.m., and 7:45 p.m. We invite you to come.

Order of dismissal has been filed with the county clerk in the case of Intermountain Building & Loan association against Maurice N. Wagner.

Storage Auction Sale, Monday a.m. June 15, 1931, 11 a.m. sharp. Capital City Trans. Co., 226 State St., Salem, Ore. 141

Cherry pickers wanted. Men only. K. B. Kugel, Phone 11662. 141

Percy J. Kleemann of route 8 was arrested Friday night for speeding and having no driver's license. S. Duncan was arrested for failure to stop at a through street intersection.

You get complete balanced Electric Refrigeration in the New Westinghouse at Gahldorf's, 325 Court St. 141

Dance, Mellow Moon every Sat. & Wed. Admission only 25c. 141

O. A. Looney was fined $250 in police court Saturday for failure to stop at a through street intersection.

July 4-5 celebration concession for rent. Phone 5854. 141

A marriage license has been issued to Sherman Chapin, 22, route 4, Salem, and Bessie Rose Richards, 22, Stanfield.

E. Itchner, rock crusher man on the Crooked Finger road, was in Salem Saturday and reported that the rock work would be finished up that day on both the mile of road extending from the end of the market road and some other district road work as well.

July 4-5 celebration concession for rent. Phone 5854. 141

Dr. C. B. O'Neill, optometrist, 401 First National Bldg. Eyes examined, glasses fitted. 141

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Matthews of Kansas City, Mo., are expected to arrive in Salem Tuesday night to spend the coming month with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Brown, and her sister, Mrs. H. O. Olinger.

Work may be scarce now—it is, all will admit, but that is no reason for young people to put off preparation for the opportunities which are sure to come with the return of business to normal. The wise young person will enroll Monday at the Capital Business College and improve the coming summer months wisely. 141

Announcement: We take pleasure in announcing a new price on the Block Electric Aluminum Washer. The price now is $120 delivered to your home. Visit us and examine this wonderful machine that makes Wash Day a pleasure. Phone 4903. Charles R. Archer Implement Co., Salem, Ore. 210 State St. 141

Mr. and Mrs. Jan O. M. Brook (Ruth Heinicke) who were recently married at her home in Washington, left Salem Saturday morning for Berkeley, Calif., where Mr. Brook will take three months extension work for the Rockefeller foundation. From there they will drive to New York City and sail to Holland to make their home. Mrs. Brook is well known here and was a former student at Willamette university. They were accompanied to Salem Friday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Blatchford (Evangeline Heinicke) late of Athens. Dr. R. D. Blatchford will go into business here with his father, Dr. B. Blatchford.

Stop at Mehana Hotel Sundays for fried chicken dinners. 141

G. A. Neymeyer of Stayton is in the county jail on a charge of failing to support his wife and children. His bond was fixed at $500 by Justice of the Peace Hayden Saturday which he was unable to furnish. He will appear Monday to enter a plea.

Free dance at Kent hall Sat. night. Everybody welcome. 141

Motor vehicle accidents reported over night were: E. W. Patton, 185 North High street, and Lowell Kubler, route 3, at Court and High streets, W. Earl Cochran, 1498 Court street, and H. C. Kelley, 650 South 18th, at Court and High. E. N. Bussing, route 3, and Mrs. F. M. Peyton, 1006 Commercial, accident at latter address. E. T. Hartwell, 1235 North 10th, and Dave Williams, Portland, at Capitol and D streets. I. M. Doughton, 651 North Winter, and E. A. Stewart, Portland, at former address. J. W. Buller, route 5, and D. M. Fitzgerald, Turner, a mile east of Salem on Garden road. W. H. Olden, route 4, and S. H. Francisco, Chemawa, two miles north of Salem on Pacific highway.

WOMAN PEACE BODY TO MEET

Hollywood (UP)—The women's international league, one of the most active organizations for world peace in the United States, will hold its national convention here June 17 to 21.

Jane Adams is honorary international president of the league. Education along lines of international goodwill and disarmament is one of the chief aims of the organization.

Members of the league announced that efforts would be made at the convention to organize an automobile caravan to journey to Washington and present a petition for general disarmament to President Hoover. It is planned to have members of the caravan obtain thousands of signatures to the petition while en route to Washington.

The committee on arrangements for the convention announced that the following persons were scheduled to speak here: Hanna Clothier Hull, Mabel Vernon, Dorothy Deter, Clara S. Ladd, Amy Woods, Dr. D. S. Sand, Prof. Esther I. Crooks, Emily Green Balch, Mrs. J. H. Griswell, Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle, H. E. Miles, Prof. Constantine Panunzio and Katherine D. Blake.

The convention will be brought to a close with a special outdoor demonstration in the new Green theater in Griffith park on Sunday afternoon, June 21.

Former service men who were late in taking out their certificates have been wondering whether congress in raising the loan value to fifty per cent had not waived the provision requiring the expiration of two years before any borrowing may be done from the government.

Veterans Administrator Hines Saturday put an end to the speculation by announcing that the attorney general had rendered an opinion that the two year limitation still held.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

The women were knocked down. Their clothing and hair caught fire. Anthony Graciano, a gardener, ran to the basement, beat out the fire, and drove the victims in Miss Le Gallienne's automobile to the North walk hospital ten miles away.

Dr. William W. Tracey said Miss Gallienne was the most seriously burned. She suffered severe burns on the arms, face and body. Most of her hair was burned off. She is expected to recover.

Corvallis, Ore. (UP)—Boys and girls will be happier and safer if their summer wardrobes are made from some of the gayest, more cheerful colors.

They will be safer because children dressed in pink, yellow, blue and other bright shades are more readily seen by motorists than those garbed in brown or similar dull drabs, according to Mrs. Sara Prentiss, professor of child development at Oregon state college.

The happiness comes because gayer clothes tend to make the wearer feel gay and cheerful, while dull, drab colors are depressing to many children.

Mrs. Prentiss added a word of caution, however, against getting plain colors that are too intense, or prints that are too large and spotty, as they tend to blot out the small personality.

"A child reacts to his clothing quite as much as grown up," Mrs. Prentiss said. "A sensitive child whose appearance is the object of ridicule from his or her playmates may become painfully shy and unhappy. This is a serious problem for parents to meet, because it may carry over and hamper the child's future happiness and success."

LONG-DELAYED FINE IMPOSED. Chemawa, Ore. (UP)—Mrs. Goldie Mahoney was fined $10 in court here for speeding. The complaining officer explained that the offense occurred September 27, 1927, and that he had been looking for the defendant ever since.

$10 TRIAL COSTS $300. Onas, Wash. (UP)—Don Woods, shooting a 20-year old hare, valued at $10. The trial cost $300, and Woods was freed when the jury disagreed.

RAYON YARN PRODUCED IN JAPAN. Last year weighed 35,000,000 pounds, or 8,000,000 more than the 1929 output.

GOLD FOUND IN CHICKENS. Union, Ore. (UP)—Mrs. Mary Sturgill found several gold nuggets in the craw of a chicken that she was dressing.

WORKING PACT WITH U. S. MOVIE FIRMS SOUGHT

London (UP)—The allegedly low mentality of the average American film fan must be taken into consideration if Great Britain is to save the United States from a movie famine, leaders of the industry here have been warned.

Their advisor, one of London's best known film critics, in discussing a reciprocity scheme with Hollywood and American theater owners, wrote:

"There are two 'snags' in the outlook for reciprocity films. The first is that the average mentality in this country is more educated than it is in America, and British films intended for America must be pitched a little lower on that account."

A movement is on foot here now to more than double the firm output of British, British Hollywood. The leaders in the industry here have had one answer to criticisms from all sides on the quantity, quality and general inferiority of their product as compared with that of Hollywood. It has always been that their films did not have the large circulation of Hollywood offerings and therefore the sum of money that could be spent in their production was of necessity limited.

Experts, however, now point out that the Gaumont-British Pictures corporation and British International Pictures who control more than 500 theaters in Great Britain are in a position to demand that Hollywood producers take an increased number of British films.

It is reported that a definite "reciprocity" scheme with the United States has already been worked out, sponsored by Isidore Ostrer, brilliant financier and organizer, and sent to Hollywood for consideration.

It is felt that if the plan is successful, the British producer having access to the American market, it is said, will be able to untie the purse strings and produce on a more lavish scale than would be possible if he were assured of only a limited income provided by the British theaters alone.

Such an arrangement, it is believed, also would have the effect of encouraging Hollywood producers to establish studios in Great Britain and produce films which would rank as British films, giving employment to many and increasing the prestige abroad of the local industry.

Washington (UP)—Veterans whose adjusted compensation certificates have been issued less than two years can borrow no money on them.

Former service men who were late in taking out their certificates have been wondering whether congress in raising the loan value to fifty per cent had not waived the provision requiring the expiration of two years before any borrowing may be done from the government.

Veterans Administrator Hines Saturday put an end to the speculation by announcing that the attorney general had rendered an opinion that the two year limitation still held.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

There are outstanding 120,273 compensation certificates less than two years old on which loans may not be made under the attorney general's decision.

The total face value of these certificates is approximately $90,000,000 or an average of slightly over $750, compared to the average face value of $1,000 shown by all the certificates more than two years old. This difference was explained by the less than average military service applicants.

AH HA! THERE'S MONKEY BUSINESS GOING ON HERE

Mickey, nurse to the 30 cat cubs at Fleishacker Zoo, San Francisco, has his "four hands" full in attending the playful lion kittens when it's time to feed them. The leopard in the foreground doesn't seem to be pleased with the attention.

CORNSTALK GAS TO LIGHT FARMS

Topeka, Kan. (UP)—Gas from cornstalks and sewage to light farms and cities and turn the wheels of commerce "sounds like a wild dream but perhaps after all it will really work," the June issue of Capper's Farmer says.

Details are set forth in an article by Lionel K. Arnold of Iowa state college outlining experimentation of Dr. A. M. Buswell, University of Illinois scientist.

The article says Dr. Buswell has proved conclusively that gas can be generated in sizeable proportions from these substances. Dieting of billions of bacteria is the basis for the operation.

"He (Dr. Buswell) took some shredded cornstalks in the laboratory," Arnold relates, "flavored them with sewage and fed them to bacteria. That had established a reputation for making methane, or marsh gas. He was not disappointed for they made great quantities of the gas."

"Sometimes these things that work so well in the laboratory fail miserably when tried on a large scale. So Dr. Buswell tried out the bacteria feeding program on a larger scale in a wooden tank in his laboratory. He had billions upon billions of bacteria eating up cornstalks and sewage and sending up gas which he burned in his laboratory burners."

"To show that it would really heat and boil water over the flame," the writer presented the rhetorical question if enough gas could be produced to supply cities. The following computations were given as an answer:

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

From the results in the laboratory a ton of cornstalks will produce from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas equal to natural gas for cooking.

The average amount of gas used for cooking purposes for one person is 25 cubic feet a day. With an average yield of 15 tons per acre, enough cornstalks would be produced within an 8-mile radius to supply a city of 80,000 with gas.

BASEBALL

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn 7 1 0
Cincinnati 6 10 1
Philadelphia 6 10 0
Pittsburgh 4 8 2
St. Louis 3 8 1
Washington 5 6 1
New York 6 10 0
Chicago 6 13 2
Cleveland 0 4 1
Detroit 1 8 2
Boston 7 1 1
Philadelphia 10 9 1
St. Louis 3 8 1
Washington 5 6 1
New York 6 10 0
Chicago 6 13 2
Cleveland 0 4 1