EGGS STRONGER BUTTER VALUES NEAR ADVANCE

Portland (UP)—Market for eggs continues to show increasing strength both locally and in a national way. Hot weather with decreasing current offerings as well as deteriorating quality are factors of most importance in the trade at the moment.

Receipts of eggs are not only showing a loss in the country generally but buyers are actually offering a premium for fancy stuff out of coolers because of the uncertain quality of current offerings. Local receipts are holding up somewhat better, in fact during the last few days have increased over the same period a week ago.

Demand for butter is so keen at this time that premiums reaching to ¼ cent above the established quotations on the produce exchange are being freely offered and paid. Normally the price offered is ¼ cent below the exchange.

Very good demand is reported in the market for live chickens and especially so for heavy hens. These are extremely scarce and killers are advising the country to unload before the stock gets too heavy.

With practically none now arriving, there is a very excellent call in sight for dressed hen turkeys in the local trade. Sales are reported around 28 cents pound.

While there are some offers of cheese from Idaho at prices below those generally established, the market in general appears to show more or less steadiness. Growing demand for storage is reflected.

While there is a slight showing of easiness in the trade for country killed calves, hogs are showing strength with general sales around 12 to 12½ cents for light blockers. Veal are around 13 to 14 cents for tops with lambs just holding around 11 cents pound.

Two carloads of J. H. Hale peaches, first of the season, are here from California. The quality is mixed, some of the fruit being very good and others bruised in ransit. Sales of the best are being made around $1.25.

Local early varieties of peaches are finding quite a fair call in the trade due to the extreme quality of present offerings, together with the recent lack of good Californian. Sales mostly 65 to 75 cents box.

Better feeling in tomato market with California cleaning up here. The Dalles stock is firmer and higher.

Corn market is badly glutted with sales generally down to $1.25 sack.

Further shipments of sweet potatoes are due from California.

New potatoes in increasing supply, are a trifle dull, but unchanged in price.

Apricot market is again easier and lower but the movement is increasing.

Walla Walla onions are reported steady at late prices but there are plenty in sight on the tracks.

BUILDING PERMITS DECREASE IN JUNE

Washington (UP)—The value of building construction undertaken in 344 cities decreased 19.2 per cent in June as compared with May, according to reports of the bureau of labor statistics.

Figures made public Tuesday showed permits issued in the reporting communities, with populations of 24,000 or more, totalled $105,444,130 for the month. The larger decrease was shown by commercial structures, whose value declined 28.7 per cent. The value of new dwellings authorized shrank only 16.1 per cent.

A comparison of permits issued in June with those of a year ago in 297 cities revealed a decrease of 35.9 per cent. Residential projects showed a decrease of 25.3 per cent while the value of non-residential projects shrank 46 per cent.

CLAIMS HE WAS CUSTER'S SCOUT

Okmulgee, Okla. (AP)—Historians have recorded that not a white man escaped alive from Custer's massacre, but "Billy the Kid" contends there was at least one—himself.

As he celebrated his 95th birthday here recently the veteran scout and pioneer, known in everyday life as J. B. Guntor, related how the color of his hair saved his scalp when the warring Sioux, led by Chief Sitting Bull, slew 300 United States cavalrymen on the Little Big Horn river in the Dakotas in 1876.

"I was wounded 14 times in that affair," he said, "and the Sioux threw me back into the maze of dead soldiers' bodies because they were scalping only black-haired men. I had dyed my hair with blood to make it red."

Guntor, or Billy the Kid, as he said he was known to General Custer, Buffalo Bill, Kit Carson, and other famous scouts and leaders, was born in Arkansas in 1836. He left that state in early manhood to become a "part of the west." Later he joined Custer's ill-fated band as a scout, he said.

As to Custer's fate he did not know. Older historians recorded that Custer died at the hands of the Sioux. Recent recorders say Custer died by his own hands rather than be captured by the Sioux.

Sitting Bull, so the recent accounts maintain, ordered his braves to capture Custer alive, and when the braves closed in on Custer he took his own life.

Billy the Kid claims he escaped the Sioux despite the fact that the United States government will not recognize his application for a pension as a scout to Custer because he has not proof other than his own word.

"Federal officers told me that history said every white man died that day, and, that since I have no discharge from General Custer they cannot recognize me as a member of the troop," Guntor said.

Safety for Divers

Tests have been made in Loch Long, Scotland, of a new safety dress for sailors employed in submarines. It is the invention of H. L. Davis, and is said to have been successful in bringing men up from a depth of 130 feet. The dress contains a breathing bag which is supplied by a small cylinder of oxygen fixed below it. Poisonous carbolic acid gas of the exhaled breath is absorbed by a cartridge of soda lime. Should the submarine sink, every man aboard would don an escape dress, which will keep him safe from the poisonous gases given with the accumulators. When the hull is flooded the crew escapes through the hatch of the running tower.

OIL SHARES AT TOP OF MARKET LIST TUESDAY

New York (UP)—Oil shares stood out in the late trading on the stock exchange Tuesday on advices from Oklahoma that operators there planned to raise prices in Oklahoma state, Kansas and north central Texas.

The market generally was firm with dealings above Monday's abnormal low level.

According to preliminary calculations the Dow, Jones and Co., industrial average advanced 2.22 points to 146.70, rail average rose 1.40 points to 80.99 and utility average was up 0.71 points to 29.28.

Sales totaled 1,100,000 shares, compared with 700,000 shares Monday.

Traders paid close attention to the foreign situation all day. But near the close the domestic news took on more significance marketwise.

In addition to the report of an oil increase, the Tulsa Oil and Gas Journal reported a drop of more than 108,000 barrels daily in crude oil production and reports of curtailment efforts came in from California where a drop was expected next week.

Dow, Jones & Co. estimated steel ingot production of the United States Steel corporation at 33 per cent of theoretical capacity, against 31 percent in the preceding week. The steel industry as a whole was only slightly above 31 percent, the figure of last week, because independent operators were down enough to make up the gain of the steel corporation.

Steel common was bolstered up by the rise of production of the corporation which encouraged traders in the belief the steel industry had turned up from its slump.

In this connection President Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem Steel corporation was quoted by Dow, Jones & Co., from Boston as saying:

"If business has not touched bottom it is close to it."

Grace say nothing on the business horizon that presages an immediate upturn beyond purely seasonal advances which he felt would appear in the fall.

Other leading industrial followed Steel common up. Toward the close a slight setback from the highs occurred, but the majority of issues closed higher.

Most consistent gains were recorded in the oils which were monopolizing the tape near the end of the day. Gains of about a point were recorded in General Asphalt, Texas Land Trust, Mexican Seaboard and Standard of New Jersey. Houston gained more than 2 points.

Utilities rose fractions to more than a point, while rails joined the remainder of the list into higher ground, Atchison gaining more than 4 points and New York Central 2. Coppers were firmer on firmer prices for the metal, General Motors and Chrysler were firm in the motor group.

Pierce Arrow A lost nearly a point following action of directors in omitting the dividend due at this time. Timken Roller Bearing was another issue to sell off, losing more than a point in anticipation of a decline in earnings for the first half.

Several favorable reports were among Tuesdays news items. International Business Machines showed net equivalent to $5.64 a share in the first half of 1930, against $2.01 and Congoleum earned 42 cents against 40 cents. Hershey Chocolate six months net amounted to $4,718,680 against $4,253,714 in the first six months of 1930.

DISCOVERS RACE OF PRIMITIVE CAVEMEN

"those primitive people who wandered into Europe and spread into the Himalayas."

Because the tribe was kept underground virtually in captivity of tribes of nomads hostile to white men, Dr. Torrance said, his party was unable to learn many of the secrets of the mysterious race. He expects to return and overcome the nomadic hostility and then study the life and habits of the underground tribe.

The explorer said a few of the underground men had escaped from their regular confines.

"They were once black, apparently," he said, "but are now a dusky gray from living for centuries underground. Their features, however, are Aryan, not Negroid, and they have the same facial characteristics as the inhabitants of northern India.

"Their spoken words have hardly developed to the stage where they can be called a language.

"One could say that they represented a race which might have lived twenty thousand years ago, perhaps much longer. Why they are so jealously guarded by the nomadic tribes which live on the fringe of their territory is another question. My guess it that it is the same impulse as that which leads civilized individuals to sequester and conceal idiots or persons with hideous deformities."

Dr. Torrance said the tribe was found by an expedition under the leadership of Sir William Simpson of the Royal society of tropical research. Dr. Torrance was assigned to an area near Lake Chad and through contact with the nomads learned of the underground tribe. He first located the tribe in 1923 but was unable to get near it because of the hostile nomads. He obtained his first definite evidence of the underground people this year.

(UP)—Stockholders of the Trans-America corporation at a special meeting Tuesday unanimously approved a recommendation of the board of directors, re-classifying the capital stock of the corporation by changing the heretofore authorized fifty million shares at $25 par value stock into the same number of shares without a par value. The vote represented 77 percent of the outstanding stock.

MEDFORD PEAR GROWERS SPURN SALEM OFFERS

Returning from several days spent in the Medford pear district a local fruit buyer reports that the pear growers of the Rogue are spurning all cannery offers except those from north California growers, a resume of whose purchases has recently been printed and as a result a number of the northern state canneries are so far taking in requirements from Yakima. Report is to the effect that a considerable tonnage from the Roseburg district is coming this way, but details of the deal are not available.

The buyers stated that Medford growers are showing interest in shipping posibilities but changing their ideas somewhat from last year by looking for f.o.b. sales and are not so interested in consignments as last year when many were made and many growers are said to have gone into the red on them. Up to date the f.o.b. sales are said to be virtually nil but growers believe that the market will open up some.

The buyers stated that this year the crop, while possibly not so large as in some years, is in beautiful shape. Growers have been very careful in thinning this year with the result that the crop possibly is presenting a higher average on size than in many years and with magnificent sizes the crop is also nice and clean throughout. He believes that because of the larger sizes brought on by thinning the final total tonnage may be brought up to nearly normal.

He reports that it has been extremely hot in Medford both night and day.

FINES LEVIED IN PETTY CASES

Charles Perrin, resident of California, was fined $15 and costs in justice court Tuesday for reckless driving to which he pleaded guilty. He collided with another automobile driven by T. C. Bettis, also of California, the latter charging that Perrin failed to give room for the two cars to pass.

John Marshall pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of liquor and was fined $25 which he paid. Jack Hanlen paid a fine of $50 assessed against him for possession to which he also pleaded guilty.

The most spirited case before Justice of the Peace Hayden in the last two days was the case of Arthur Little, accused by John Lane of assault and battery. It was found that Little used Lane up quite thoroughly with a two by four, but that Lane started the trouble. Justice Hayden found Little not guilty and dismissed thee ase.

Harry Walp Tuesday pleaded not guilty to a charge of robbery being armed with a dangerous weapon and his preliminary hearing was set for 2 o'clock Wednesday.

Rex Jones pleaded guilty to assault and battery on the person of Rex Cain, near Turner, and was fined $5 and costs. He was unable to pay the fine and is i njail.
