Centralia Barbers Have Happy Time

Centralia, Wash. (UP)—Pale faces and tender skin replaced withers Thursday, and barbers whistled and chatted happily as they handled the most rushing business they ever had.

Centralia's pioneer celebration has ended, the ban on shaving has been lifted, and the men citizens have started getting rid of the heavy crops they sprouted during the five weeks ended Wednesday.

Barber shops, which did not sell a shave and whose haircutting business fell off considerably during the five weeks, were crowded with customers. Shears were used to trim down the beards close to the face before the stubble was attacked by razors. The process was hard on razors, but the barbers smiled as they worked rapidly.

HOOVER PAYS TRIBUTE TO LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

Philadelphia (AP)—President Hoover, in a message to the United States Building and Loan League and the international congress of building societies and building and loan associations, in convention here, Thursday paid tribute to the pioneers of the home-ownership movement.

"The men who have shaped the building and loan plan have been pioneers in moulding a most important economic characteristic of new world civilization," the message said.

The centennial convention of the building societies is an occasion of unusual historical and business significance. It marks a century of cooperative finance and individual self-help home ownership initiated in this country in the village of Frankford, Pennsylvania, in 1831. Helping to finance the building of over eight million American homes in the intervening century is an achievement of financial importance, but of even more significant social implications.

"Home owning is more than the provision of dwellings; it goes to the roots of family life, public morals and standards of living. The men who have shaped the building and loan plan have been pioneers in moulding a most important economic characteristic of new world civilization. The national administration has recognized the importance of home ownership by calling a conference on home building and home ownership this autumn further to promote this phase of our country life in the light of a careful study of current conditions. The interest and cooperation of members of the building and loan associations in this enterprise is cordially invited."

"The savings accumulated by some twelve millions of investors in membership in building and loan associations in this country have acted as a stabilizing force and have illustrated the self reliance of our citizenry."

COTTON OFFER SPLITS SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga. (UP)—Leaders of the south are not in agreement on the wisdom of the farm board plan to hold its surplus cotton for a year if cotton producing states agree to destroying a third of the current crop. Reactions range all the way from "great idea" to "just so much bunk."

Governors and cotton manufacturers are split by the proposal and state officials are not in agreement. Planters are inclined to favor some form of storage of this year's surplus with stringent reduction of acreage next year.

The destruction of a portion of the present crop is an old proposal, raised in many sections throughout the cotton belt by recognized leaders of the industry, who have urged that it be placed under or just not picked at all, when arbitrary reduction of acreage appeared slight.

The plan received little major public attention until Governor Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi formally urged planters of his state to leave every third row of cotton unpicked, last Wednesday. Dr. A. Jewell, president of a cotton company at Chickamauga, Ga., launched a similar plan under the slogan "one out of three."

Belfast, Northern Ireland (UP)—Nothing has so agitated the northern counties of Ireland as Wednesday's events at Coochill, Irish Free State, where Orangemen were prevented from holding a meeting.

Members of the "Irish republican army" blocked the visitors out of the town and were held in check only by the vigil of Free State guards.

Roads and railroads were considerable area. A youth and a prominent citizen were manhandled for taking sides.

The fear is widely expressed that reprisals will take place Saturday, Day of Our Lady, when the Ancient Order of Hibernians holds its annual demonstrations. There have been but few clashes in recent years between the Hibernians and the Orangemen but the feeling aroused on the border may have wide repercussions.

The county Cavan brigade headquarters of the republican army has issued a proclamation describing the Orangemen as "imperialist agents of Great Britain whose purpose it is to perpetuate a sectarian division among the mass of common people in this area."

"There is no religious conflict here and the republicans stand for freedom of religious belief exercise. There is a conflict between the Irish republic and British imperialism and imperialist displays will not be tolerated."

Hibernians from county Monaghan and county Louth decided Thursday that they would not cross the borders to take part in the demonstration at Armagh Saturday, lest their presence lead to further trouble. Neither of these counties was represented among Wednesday's combatants.

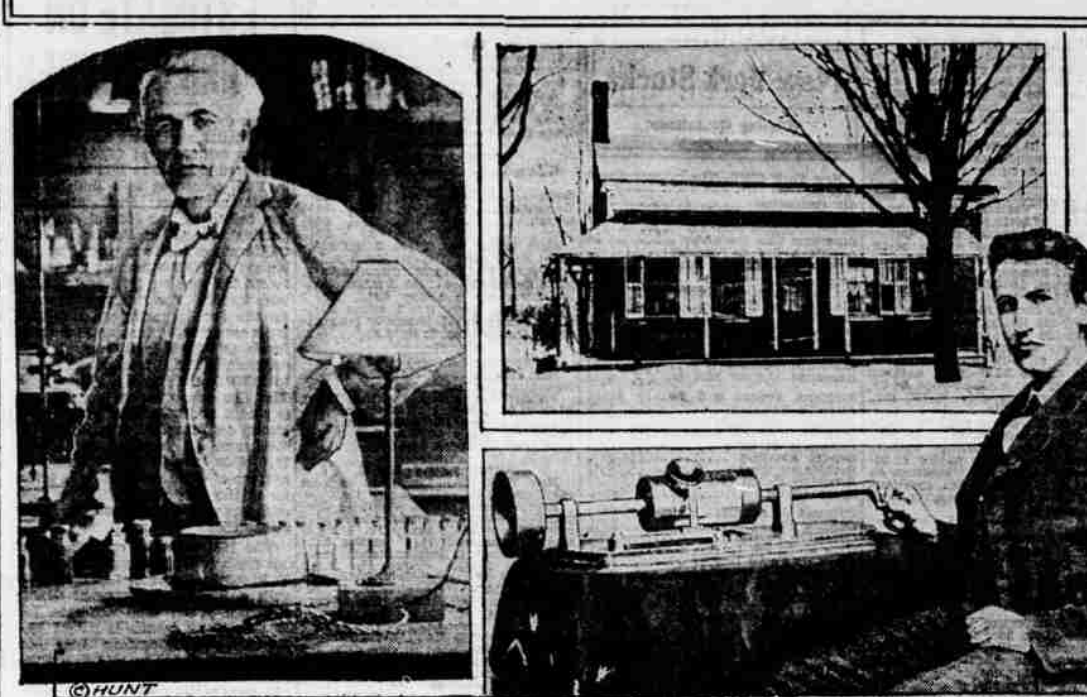

Coochill, Irish Free State (UP)—The "Irish republican army" which gave this Cavan town the most exciting day in its history Wednesday, has retreated to the fastness of the Leitrim hills and left the villagers in peace again.

The inhabitants gathered in knots Thursday to discuss the incidents attendant on the breaking up of the Orangemen's celebration but there was no further sign of trouble.

Traders here estimate that Wednesday's disturbances cost them $5000 for they had to buy special supplies for the Orange demonstration.

SQUATTER IN BATTLE WITH CATTLEMAN

Roseburg, Ore. (UP)—A pitched battle between Roy M. Foster, North Umpqua rancher, and Emory Davis, who for several years has been the principal figure in an attempt to colonize the Fish Creek burn district, was reported Thursday to Vernon Harpman, supervisor of the Umpqua national forest.

Foster was said to have made a written report to Ranger Charles Thurston at the Big Camas ranger station, who telephoned the contents to Harpman.

Foster, running cattle and horses in the Fish Creek district, said he went to the Cedar Springs camp Wednesday to salt his stock, made a camp and went to a creek to get water.

His path was blocked by Davis who, he said, leveled a pistol at him and ordered him to take his horses and cattle and leave the country.

Foster said he rushed Davis, attempting to draw his own revolver at the same time, but the sidearm struck in the holster and accidentally discharged without injury to either man.

The rancher said he threw his revolver away when the two reached close quarters, and fought Davis hand to hand, over powering and disarming him and driving him away.

The report said Foster is on his way to Roseburg to deliver Davis' pistol to the sheriff. Davis, too, is said to be on his way to Roseburg from Diamond lake.

Davis recently was convicted in federal court on a charge on interfering with forest service employees, and was sentenced to a six month term and paroled. Previously, he had been convicted three times for squatting and trespassing.

About 27 tons of loganberries from the current season's crop were dried, according to an estimate by Jory, who dried a considerable tonnage himself in his drive south of Salem. Frank Hrubetz dried a quantity for the association also and some were dried at Dundee and Sherwood.

Jory states that the dried tonnage has practically all been sold and at a price which netted approximately as much to the grower as the fresh fruit, possible a small fraction less.

Contract Kept by Sick Ball Player

Kansas City, Kan. (UP)—A contract to play baseball is a contract to play and doesn't give the player the right to loaf around suffering from appendicitis, according to Paul O'Boyle, semi-pro pitcher.

Paul had a pain in his side on a Saturday afternoon. His doctor pronounced it acute appendicitis and told him to go to bed, getting ready for an operation the next day.

But Paul was to pitch that afternoon. So he did, for 12 innings, and then won the game by sliding home on a steal. They took him to the hospital on a stretcher that afternoon.

Red Sox Outfielder Chases Double Mark

Boston—Earl Webb, Boston Red Sox outfielder who seems likely to break the big league record for two-base hits this season, hits to all angles of the field and it is futile to attempt to guess where he'll drive the ball, according to opposing fielders.

Webb got a break one day recently when his hand grounded out his own glove, lying out in right field, and careened off sharply from the spot where the outfielder was waiting it. The normal single went for two bases.

TO BEAUTIFY CITY SCHOOLS

The process of beautification of the older type of Salem school buildings which was started with the repainting and redecorating of the Grant school last year, will be continued, Superintendent George Hug stated Thursday.

"There is no doubt that the work we did at Grant has increased the morale of the students and teachers there at least 25 percent," Superintendent Hug stated Thursday. "Despite the fact that some of our buildings are of the older type, I am satisfied that they are better kept up and look better than in the majority of cities, including California."

Hug gives credit to George Smalley, custodian of buildings, for the appearance of the schools, saying he is a most valuable man to have on the job. It was through his efforts that shrubbery was purchased at bargain prices as a start for beautification of school building surroundings. Others will be purchased later to fill in.

Y. M. PLANS FALL FUND CAMPAIGN

Plans for raising funds with which to carry on the work during the next year, reports of leaders of various activities and matters concerning virtually every department, were discussed during the noon hour Thursday when the board of directors of the Y. M. C. met in the association building dining room.

The fall campaign for funds will probably take place the first or second week in October. Some preliminary work has been done on this project. The physical department planning conference will be some time during the week following Labor day while problems concerning the association will be discussed when directors and their wives meet at the Paul Wallace home, the date to be announced later.

Unemployment always increases the demands upon the Y. M. C. A. and every effort to give the maximum service during the coming winter should be taken, G. A. Kells, secretary points out in his report.

BOMB FOUND IN OIL TANK

La Junta, Colo. (AP)—A wooden box from which emanated a ticking sound, and which was believed to contain a bomb, was discovered Thursday beneath the center tank of the Shell Oil company's storage tank farm along the Santa Fe trail.

Fourteen thousand gallons of gasoline were in the tank, and nearby were many other tanks, not only those of the Shell company but Texaco and White Eagle tanks.

Authorities snipped electric wires leading to the tank and the box, but the ticking sound continued and they were afraid to try to remove the box.

Bomb and fingerprint experts were summoned from Colorado Springs. It was expected it would require them three hours to reach La Junta, and meantime the ominous ticking went on.

The box was placed in a hole leading beneath the tank. The city power lines had been tapped and electric wires stretched from those lines to the tank and to the box.

The tank was charged, and when Fred Fidler, manager of the Shell company, touched the tank, he received a shock that almost knocked him to the ground. George Cook, Southern Colorado Power company electrician, rushed to the scene and snipped the wires, but that failed to stop the ticking sound from the box.

SEEK PARENTS OF ABANDONED BABE

Eugene (UP)—Red Cross officials and city police Wednesday started a search for the parents of an infant which was abandoned here recently. The case was reported by the Red Cross.

Three weeks ago a couple of hitchhikers left the infant at a local residence, telling the housewife they would return later with clothing and money. They have not returned and the case was turned over to the Red Cross.

Officials said the mother stayed with the baby at a hotel here for a week or so and tried to give the child away.

Pendleton, Ore. (UP)—Police here Wednesday night arrested Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hartwig who were in the company of Ed McCoy, and were holding them, officers announced, after they admitted having left a baby at a Eugene residence. They are said to have further admitted leaving a year-old girl in Eureka, Calif.

Hartwig had a loaded automatic pistol in his possession, and McCoy had a set of license plates said by police to have been taken from a Pendleton automobile.

John, it was said, struck Stone with a piece of stove wood just before the Tennessean pulled an old fashioned .44-40 revolver from his pocket and started shooting.

Willards Make Call

WATER PLANS TO BE STATED

Representatives of Salem cannerymen will attend the meeting called by the utilities committee of the city council Thursday night for discussion of the water situation, Alderman Chris Kowitz, chairman of the committee, said Thursday.

The matter for discussion will be the report prepared by Baar & Cunningham, engineers, on the feasibility and cost of obtaining a municipal water supply from the North Fork of the Santiam river and the alternate proposal of a municipal supply from the Willamette river. J. C. Baar, who prepared the report, will attend the meeting.

Among others who will attend are members of the former city water commission, Mayor P. M. Gregory and City Attorney Trindle. The public is invited to attend and it is probably that there will be some discussion of the subject outside of official sources.

Cannerymen of the locality were particularly interested in the water question early in the year because of the necessity of an adequate supply of pure water in the cannery business. They are reported to be watching with considerable interest the disposal to be made of the Baar & Cunningham report.
