

BUTTERFAI AND BUTTER STEADY POLI TRY FIRM

Portland (UP)—Very little change is noted in the general butter market situation. Prices are about steady in general and especially so for the better grades. Make of butter in Portland shows a fractional decrease for the week while country offerings here are showing an increase that more than makes up for this deficiency.

Butterfat values are steady to firm. Milk prices are not entirely uniform despite the agreement to abide by certain selling values to retailers. Reports in the trade indicate more or less secret shading. Independent operators report getting plenty of milk from the country.

Market for eggs continues to reflect strength with decreasing supplies and well maintained values. Considerable storage stock is being marketed as fresh goods.

Prices continue to show strength all through the live chicken trade with no further changes for the day. Demand is best for light weight broilers which are very scarce.

Quality light weight country-killed calves are moving out well with prices well sustained here. Hogs are a trifle slow and lambs are just about holding at late values.

With growers refusing to do business, there is no activity confirmed in new crop onion contracts here. Latest offers of $1.10 central and again not to growers are being generally refused. Walla Walla very firm.

There is no change in the potato trade. Speculative interest is missing in carlot shipping points. Locally the bulk of the trade is being supplied with home grown but some are offering No. 2 Yakima growth. There is no change in the general peach situation here for the day. Yakima Elbertas are moving out well at late prices but some of the Lewiston, section, less well colored, are dragging somewhat. J. H. Hales are meeting with favor; also the Muirs and early Crawford.

Another truck load of Ashland Elbertas was reported in. Some what firmer trading tone is reflected for head lettuce with an acute shortage of offerings and especially quality stuff. Prices are firm to higher in spots.

Medium to small oranges are slightly higher. No other changes in citrus fruits.

Watermelon market is a trifle slow at late prices. Huckleberries show a fair movement around 14c lb. Fancy chinook salmon is 16c lb, others down to 12c.

Celery market is steady locally, outside call fair. These sales are gaining at late prices.

DELICIOUS FREAK ON COTTAGE FARM

A freak fruit to which no horticultural expert has yet succeeded in giving a name is grown in the middle of an Italian prune orchard on the state cottage farm. It is delicious to the taste and has the appearance of a cross between a large grape and a prune, and is especially delectable because it is without seeds.

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the state hospital, said that when the tree was planted 15 years ago it was supposed to be an Italian prune tree and was planted along with the rest of the trees of that variety. But since the tree came into bearing it has always borne the fruit of a new variety.

Fruit men whose attention has been called to the fruit are baffled.
