If anyone found a fireman's cap with the number 12 on it, the cap belongs to Bill Bechtel of the central fire station at the city hall. The cap was lost off one of the city fire pumps Friday night on a run to fire on Maple avenue. Bechtel values that number more than the cap for the reason that it costs a fireman good money to replace a lost numeral.

President In Fine Fettle After Trip

Washington (AP)—President Hoover returned to the White House shortly after 9 o'clock Monday greatly refreshed by two nights and a day spent in the Virginia mountains.

The chief executive left his camp after an early breakfast. Mark Sullivan, Henry Robinson, Los Angeles banker, and Postmaster General Brown accompanied him on the motor trip.

Mrs. Hoover did not return and probably will remain at the mountain retreat for the next week.

COUNTY PAVING NEARLY ENDED

Next week will probably see the close of Marion county's paving work for the season. In fact paving operation, strictly speaking have been shut down, what work remains to be done being that of widening several stretches of nine foot pavement on hills between the Pine Tree corner and Silverton and the hard surfacing of a few corners. Patching work will wind up the season, Frank Johnson, county road master stated Monday.

A crew of men is working on the Pine Tree-Silverton highway eliminating the narrow pavement strips this week. The county will pave a short strip within the northeast city limits of Silverton. When this is completed a few corners on the road between Silverton and Salem and Mt. Angel and Woodburn will be hard-surfaced.

Virtually all of the narrow strips on hills throughout the county have been widened to the full width Jackson states. During early paving operations on several of the steeper hills, strips were left unpaved in order that farmers might have no difficulty in driving their teams over them. However, most farmers have trailers to their automobiles now and horses are seldom used.

INSURANCE OFFICIALS MEET AT PORTLAND

Portland (AP)—Insurance commissioners from 35 states and officials of the largest insurance companies in the nation met here Monday to place at the disposal of the entire group the fruit of individual experience.

The 62nd annual convention of the insurance commissioners opened Monday morning. About 400 delegates and visitors were in the city.

Jess G. Read, commissioner for Oklahoma, is president; Charles D. Livingston, commissioner for Michigan, is first vice president; William A. Farver, Texas, second vice president, and A. S. Caldwell, Tennessee, secretary-treasurer.

GOLF STARS FAVOR CHANGES IN BALL

Providence, R. I. (AP)—Such professional golf stars as Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel, Frank Walsh and Al Watrous, at the Wannamoisett, R. I. Country club Monday playing for the 1931 national P. G. A. championship, hailed with delight the projected change in the golf ball announced by the U. S. G. A.

Farrell declared that a combination of the size of the current ball and the weight of the old ball would be ideal for all classes of players.

30 CANDIDATES TURN OUT FOR FIRST PRACTICE

The first workout of the season for the 1931 Willamette university grid machine was held Monday morning on Sweetland field with approximately 30 candidates participating. A big majority of those on the field were freshmen coming from Washington, Oregon, California and Idaho. Such veterans as Howard Maple, Oregon State quarterback of a few seasons ago, who arrived here Sunday from Illinois, was directing the players Monday morning in a light workout consisting of forward passing and receiving, kicking and running the ball.

Included in the list of first year candidates are:

Gus Lorenz, 190 pounds, all conference tackle from Kent, Wash. high school.

Gordon Williams, 190, Oakland, Cal., fullback, and an excellent ball passer.

Clas Ingersoll, 170, Oakland, Cal., fullback.

Jack O'Conner, 205, Ballard high, Seattle, center.

Orin Orr, 180, Boise, Idaho, guard.

Walter Yenny, 195, Idaho, guard.

Pete Arena, 180, Minneapolis, all city high school guard.

PARALYSIS AT WEST POINT

West Point, N. Y. (AP)—A one-way quarantine has been established at the military academy as a result of the finding of one case of infantile paralysis among the cadet body.

Cadet Waldemar J. Thinner, 247 West Park street, St. Paul, Minn., is in the cadet hospital. Authorities said Monday his condition was improved and as the 14-day period of incubation had passed there was little likelihood of additional cases.

Visitors have been barred from the post, but those on the post are permitted to sit freely. The visitation is barred to prevent anyone bringing infantile paralysis germs into the academy. The cadet hop was cancelled Saturday night and chapel service was held in the open Sunday.

TEACHERS TOLD TO SEND CREDENTIALS

Teachers in Marion county will be required to register their credentials before stepping to school all day in registering teachers. There is a rush on at present as the Salem city schools and a number of rural schools open next Monday.

All teachers in Englewood school completed registering their credentials late last week, the first Salem school to finish. Grant school teachers completed their registration early Monday, and other Salem schools have only one or two more teachers left to register with the county school superintendent.

HOP-PICKERS BADLY INJURED IN CRASH

Lila Abrams, transient hop picker, was in the Salem General hospital Monday critically injured as the result of an automobile accident Sunday night. Two other young people, Cleo Martin and Roy DeMain were discharged from the hospital after having their wounds dressed.

The three were hurt when their car swerved off the road about six miles north of Salem on the River road to Portland. They did not give any addresses, saying they had been working in hopyards around Salem. The condition of Miss Abrams was announced as serious, and injuries may prove fatal.

OVERTIME PERMITS TO BE CANCELLED

Special overtime permits for women working in mercantile stores may be cancelled by the state welfare commission at its meeting in Portland next Friday, it was announced here Monday by Charles Gram, state labor commissioner.

Consideration of such a move to afford some relief in the unemployment situation will be given, Gram said. The session has been called for that purpose, the mercantile representatives will be heard on the issue.

Gram is executive secretary of the commission. The meeting has been set for Friday afternoon in the Multnomah county courthouse.

Pershing Observes His 71st Birthday

Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing, who was commandant of University of Nebraska cadets for 25 years ago, Monday rested up after a busy day spent in Lincoln Sunday celebrating his 71st birthday.

The general here for a three weeks' visit with his sister, Miss May Pershing, and his son, Warren, chatted with old friends and became merely an ordinary citizen. He declined appearances, statements and interviews.

HUG REQUESTS DONATIONS OF SCHOOL BOOKS

Further donations of school text books to the local school system is being invited by George Hug, city school superintendent, and the cooperation of mothers of school children in picking up the discarded books about the home and turning them in at the closing grade or junior high school building during the week is being welcomed. Offices at the grade schools will be opened from 9 to 12 o'clock each afternoon this week with the exception of Saturday morning to receive the books.

Junior high school books are in active demand, especially seventh and eighth grade Barber's junior high school mathematics; the junior high school geography, Brigham and McFarland, book two; and the two history books, Gordy's American Beginnings in Europe and Growth of a Nation.

The first six grades in the public school are fairly well supplied with the text books, which include readers, arithmetic, spellers, health books, histories, English books, geographies, music readers and penmanship books.

All text books in usable condition will be covered with the new paper covers provided by the school district and will be distributed to the various schools in proportion to the need shown.

A rental book plan has been proposed for the high school, similar to that used in the high school English department last year, but will be up to the heads of the various departments. The high school has an excellent book exchange managed by the Girls' League. Superintendent Hug said, and students may secure their books there. The free text book law does not apply to ninth grade and senior high schools.

It is anticipated that all classes in both grade and junior high schools will be provided with free text books when classes open Monday, September 21, if the text book donations continue to come in as they have throughout the summer.

DOCTORS SENDING WEEKLY REPORTS

Marion county physicians are reporting almost 100 per cent to the recent move of the county department of health for weekly reports. The move was made at the request of the state department of health which has required weekly reports from physicians in other counties whether or not they had a case of communicable disease among their patients.

Serious diseases, such as diphtheria, epidemic meningitis, infantile paralysis, scarlet fever, smallpox, typhoid and paratyphoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, chickenpox and ophthalmia neonatorum, are required to be reported immediately, either by telephone or postcard. Other reportable diseases are dysentery, epidemic influenza, pneumonia, malaria, pellagra, all forms of tuberculosis, whooping cough, sleeping sickness, mumps, erysipelas, trachoma, favus, pericarpal septicemia, impetigo, scabies and Vincent's angina.

There are 67 listed physicians in Marion county, including those serving at state institutions. Under the old system, where physicians reported only when they had cases of communicable diseases under their care, a tendency to laxity crept in but the new system is proving very satisfactory in the promptness and accuracy of reports, according to Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer.

NEW MURDER CASE IN BAY DISTRICT

Redwood City, Cal. (AP)—The young woman whose mutilated body was found near Rockaway beach Sunday was identified Monday as Mrs. Anita Lund, a nurse at the Laguna Honda home in San Francisco, by Mrs. E. West of San Francisco, her mother.

Mrs. Lund's body was found, partially dressed, with superficial facial bruises and cuts. An autopsy showed she was an expectant mother and had died after an illegal operation.

The coroner's office was seeking Norman Lund, husband of the dead woman.

San Mateo, Calif. (AP)—The nude body of a young expectant mother, found beside the highway near Rockaway beach, provided the San Francisco Bay district with a new death mystery Monday.

San Francisco and San Mateo authorities who investigated said the body of a young woman, who had been beaten to death, "could find no marks on identification."

It was estimated that the victim was about 30 years old and that she had been dead 48 hours when found Sunday.

N. D. Austin, a federal prohibition agent whose 30 year old daughter, Mildred Austin, has been the subject of a week's search, failed to identify the body.

EXTENSION CLASSES ENROLLMENT OPENS

Enrollment for the University of Oregon extension classes at the high school is opening for the fall term. Classes will start September 28 and continue until December 19. The winter term will open on January 4 and continue until March 19. Classes for the fall term will be conducted in education, English, economics and sociology.

The courses outlined are: Monday, school organization and administration, by George W. Hug, Salem city superintendent of schools; Tuesday, education for citizenship, by W. G. Beattie, extension lecturer; Wednesday, associate professor of education; Wednesday, the short story, by Alexander Hull, instructor in English at the Portland center; Thursday, principles of economics, by Victor P. Morris, professor economics; Thursday, Modern social problems, by Margaret D. Creech, associate professor of applied sociology. All classes will meet in the high school building at 7:15 p. m. of the day indicated in the schedule. The university is reserving the right to discontinue any announced course because of inadequate enrollment or for any other sufficient reason.

Mechanic's Pipe Is Left in Auto Tire

An auto owner drove up to a garage to have a tire repaired. After fixing it, he drove away only to find that after a short time the same tire was flat again. Removing the casing discovered an old fashioned pipe between the tube and tire. Returning to the garage he found the mechanic hunting for his lost pipe.

HOUSE LEVELLED

Athena (AP)—Earth shocks destroyed a number of houses on the island Eubea Monday but no casualties were reported.

Laurence D'Orsay, Veteran Actor, Dead

London (AP)—Lawrence D'Orsay, a veteran of 34 years' experience on the stage, died Sunday after an illness of several months. He was 78 years old.

D'Orsay spent most of his career in the United States and became a great favorite of American audiences for his impersonations of the Englishman as the American conceived him. He played the title role in "The Earl of Pavlovsky" and made his last stand in "Othello" with Paul Robeson, American negro actor.

DRASTIC CUT IN RAILWAY FARES

Drastic reductions in roundtrip railroad fares between all main line points, Eugene to Portland, inclusive, were announced by A. A. Mickel, district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, Monday, to be in effect from September 15 to October 15.

These reductions amount to round trip for 70 per cent of the regular one way fare, Mickel said. The fares will be on sale daily and will carry a final return limit of 14 days. Stopovers will be permitted within the limits.

Some idea of the extent to which the fares have been reduced can be gained from the fact that the round trip between here and Portland, for example, will be $1.05, Eugene, $1.80, Corvallis 89 cents.

Institution of the fares is in line with the company's program of offering low fares as an experiment to attract travel to its trains as against other means of travel, Mickel said.

FINE WATER FLOW M'CLELLAND WELL

A remarkable flow of water was reported Monday from the C. R. McClelland farm southwest of Salem where a 75-foot well only 5 1/2 inches in diameter was drilled a few days ago. A centrifugal pump was installed in the well Monday and a water flow resulted at the rate of 3000 gallons an hour, and this lowered the water to a point only 14 feet below the surface of the ground. This is the same well in which it was believed traces of oil were found, but R. A. West, driller of the well, said that no further showing of oil has appeared. He advances the opinion that the possibility of wells showing this flow of water is significant in view of the present municipal water situation in Salem.

SANTIAM FOREST RAILROAD PROPOSED

The Dalles, Ore. (AP)—The land office here has received from the department of Interior, Washington, D. C., a copy of specifications showing the proposed construction through the Santiam national forest, contemplated by the Portland & Southeastern Railroad company. The right-of-way was given the approval of the department of Interior.

The office here was unable to determine the point of origin of the proposed road or its terminal points from the specifications. The line is shown as starting in Section 35, Township 13, Range 7 E, East, crossing the Cascade mountains and ending in Section 36, Township 14, Range 9 East.

The president of the road is A. C. Burroughs, and H. L. Gilbert is chief engineer.

M. F. DeNeff of Portland is listed as attorney for the road.

MOUNTAIN PEAKS WHITENED BY SNOW

The Dalles (AP)—While rains prevailed over the lowlands of Oregon last week, new snows have whitened Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams, both of which had become more bare than at any time in the memory of pioneer residents.

It was seen Monday that the new fall of snow on Mt. Hood has obliterated a barred portion of an overhang on Elliot glacier on the north side of the mountain which revealed 210 annual snow rings. This phenomenon, according to Mark Weygandt, veteran Hood guide, was never viewed before by those of his generation and may never be seen again in the lifetime of those now living.

Some of the ancient rings were made plainly visible because of the deposit of dust on each year's layer of snow, now compressed into ice strata by the action of the glacier throughout two centuries.

Nineteen Hurt In Communists' Attack

Hamburg, Germany (AP)—Nineteen persons, including a small girl, were wounded by knives and bullets Sunday as a result of attempts by communists to break up a republican Reichsbanner meetings.

Seventeen republicans were sent to the hospital with dagger wounds when they were attacked by radicals. The girl and one communist were struck by bullets when police fired on the aggressors.

Autoists Hurl Stones Thru Store Windows

Portland (AP)—Police Monday were searching for two men in a large maroon sedan who during the night created a near riot by cruising through the east side section hurling rocks through plate glass windows.

Several large windows were shattered by the missiles. Riot calls were answered by police from several sections but the men escaped.

Was It Hot? Here's Idaho Weather Yarn

Burert, Idaho (AP)—It has been rather hot in this vicinity of late—so hot, in fact, that corn has popped on the cob.

Fay Champion, Rupert farmer, declares that when he inspected a patch of corn on his farm, he discovered one-third of the kernels already puffed out.

A hot, dry wind was the cause.

Myriads of Trout Dying In Streams

Marshfield, Ore. (AP)—Game deputies said Monday hundreds of thousands of small trout, as well as some larger ones, are dying in pools along Sines river in Curry county where the water holes are drying up.

CLOSED FOREST AREAS BARRED FROM HUNTERS

Many deer hunters are under the erroneous impression, says State Forester Lynn P. Cronmiller, that it is still possible for the governor by executive proclamation to defer the hunting season. This is not true. Cronmiller says, the law giving the governor that authority having been repealed by the 1921 legislature. Numerous letters of inquiry are reaching the forester's office asking if the season will open on schedule.

With the repeal of that act another was passed empowering the governor to close particular areas of forest lands to entry, or to close them to entry except on permit. Of course, it is explained, it would be possible for the governor to close the entire forest area to entry, but that is beyond the realm of probability.

Under the new law about 5 per cent of the forest area of 30,000,000 acres is now totally closed, no one being allowed to enter for any reason whatever. Another 2 per cent is under restriction, entry being allowed only on permit.

The main total closures are the south end of the Mount Hood national forest and about 300,000 acres in western Coos and eastern Douglas counties.

Cronmiller says that no further closures will be imposed if the present weather continues, but that the closures will not be lifted unless there is a heavy rain. Temporary relief from an exceedingly dry condition, he says, is not sufficient to eliminate fire hazards.

CARPENTERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Resolutions dealing with various phases of the labor situation and the election of officers wound up the business on the two-day meeting of the State Council of Carpenters Saturday afternoon. Approval was given unemployment insurance, maintenance of the prevailing wage scale on all government construction work, old age pensions, the five-day job and the six-hour day.

Working of the dole system in England were presented the group of 19 by B. S. Sleeman, Portland, who recently returned from abroad. Leo Flynn, Seattle president of the Washington Federation of Labor pointed out that machinery is displacing thousands of men formerly employed, citing several instances. Ben T. Caborn, executive secretary of the State Federation of Labor, also spoke.

Officers elected were F. H. Allen, Portland, (re-elected) president; G. H. Baker, Bend, vice president; David Duff Portland re-elected secretary-treasurer. District representatives are L. Peterson Astoria; Edward Kammerer of Corvallis; C. D. Long of Astoria; F. A. Soules of Portland and Alex Manning, Pendleton.

BOGARD RESIDENCE WOODBURN BURNS

Woodburn—The home of Mrs. Ollie Bogard, one of the largest houses in Woodburn, situated on North First street, was destroyed by fire Monday noon. The flames which destroyed the roof and back part of the house, were stubborn and all fire equipment in town was called out. Most of the furniture was saved, but damage from smoke and water was considerable. It is fully covered by insurance.

Mrs. Bogard had just finished washing clothes at the time, but did not have a fire in the stove. She was in the yard hanging out clothes when she noticed smoke pouring from around the chimney. Source of the fire was unknown.
