

SENATORS OUT OF RACE FOR BASEBALL HONORS

SOUTHEAST PORTLAND TEAM DEFEATS SALEM

The Salem Senators dropped out of the race for baseball supremacy of the state league Sunday at Olinger field when they were beaten, 9 to 7, by the Southeast club of Portland. Andy Peterson, heretofore, virtually unbeatable, had an off day and was forced to abandon the mound in the fifth in favor of Gardner. The latter, going into the game without much chance to warm up, yielded two runs in the sixth. After that the visitors failed to get a hit.

It wasn't all Peterson's fault that the Senators lost the contest, a lot of indecision during the fourth inning when the bases were loaded proving costly. Southeast scored four runs on one hit in that terrible session, and the queer part of it was that but one error was made and that one was entirely questionable. It happened like this: Calkins drew a base on balls when Clark hit for two bases, bringing in two runners. Brauer was given a base on balls while Peterson bore down to fan Stump. All runners were safe on Cox's attempted sacrifice while the bases were full once more. The side was finally retired when Peterson caught F. LeMear's pop fly when he attempted to sacrifice and doubled C. LeMear off third.

After Peterson had issued two walks and yielded two hits in the fifth for two scores, Peterson walked from the diamond. Gardner hit Stump but fanned Cox for the third out.

A hit batter, two singles and a sacrifice gave the Southeasters their final two scores in the sixth. After that they failed to get a hit off the youthful Gresham twirler.

After Messenger had driven one of Brauer's offerings in the first inning nearly to the footbridge over Mill creek for a home run, the Senators were held safely in check by the big southpaw until the eighth. In that session the Senators scored five runs on six hits, including a triple by Zeke Girod and doubles by T. Girod and Adolph. With three runs needed to tie the score and with two men on base, P. Girod came to bat. He connected all right and for a moment it appeared the necessary runs were on 1/2 road but Buono dashed the hopes of the locals when he made a brilliant one hand catch of the ball.

The ninth inning started suspiciously when Messenger again hit for a circuit of the sacks. However the next three men went out in order.

The game brought down the baseball curtain locally. Olinger field will be converted into a football gridiron this week. Baseball has not proven a success in Salem this season. Poor attendance has been the rule almost invariably despite the fact that the Senators were out in front most of the time. Sunday there were almost as many fans rooting on the Southern Pacific right of way as there were cash customers.

ANGELS, SEALS TIED FOR FIRST; DUCKS SPLIT 2

It looked Sunday as if the play-off between the first and second half winners in the Coast league would be an all-California series. The San Francisco and Los Angeles clubs were deadlocked for first place—thanks to 10 to 1 and 6 to 3 victories of the Angels over the Seals, Sunday. The Seals took the series, 5 to 2. Jimmie Zinn easily beat the Angels with 6 hits in the morning game while his mates shackled Shealey and Stitzel. The Seals appeared licked in the afternoon but a three-run rally of southpaw Moss in the ninth won the game. Henderson got the victory after relieving Willoughby.

Portland was three and a half games behind the leaders by virtue of losing the odd game of the series to Seattle. Orwoll plastered the Indians 8 to 6 in the first game. The Beavers got 13 hits off McGraw and Hartwig, including homers by Monroe and Fenton. Orwoll gave but 7 hits.

In the final, Seattle beat Junk Walters, 4 to 3. It went seven innings by agreement. Phil Page, who relieved Ray Keating, took the win. Oakland was within easy striking distance of the Seals and Angels by virtue of splitting a double bill with Sacramento. The Oaks won the morning game at Stockton, 4 to 3 but in the afternoon they fell before Pitcher Ed Bryan, 10 to 3. Ludolph took the afternoon defeat.

The Missions took the series from Hollywood by dividing a double bill. The Missions won the first game, 2 to 1 with Norman Briggs, Tuscan recruit, giving but five hits. Hollywood took the nightcap, 4 to 0, when Emil Yde allowed but 2 hits.

This week will be a split week, with Sacramento opening Monday night at Portland. The final series of the season will be played in California parks next week.

OREGON STATE WILL MEET STRONG TEAM

Boulder City, Colo. (AP)—Colorado U. with what is touted as the most promising team of the last five years meets Oregon State at Portland Saturday with high hopes. Those gentlemen who practice prognostication pronounce the coming Silver and Gold squad the probable contender with Utah university on Nov. 14, when the championship of the conference is decided.

Myron Witham has much of his 1930 material in uniform again this year, and with it has an almost intact 1930 freshman team which is causing the variety to lose sleep at night. Bob Nelson, a former Denver high school boy, appears as the probable star of Witham's aggregation. Nelson, at full-back, has proven himself adept at pushing through the line, or at holding it up, as may be required.

LUKATS INJURED
 South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Nick Lukats, Notre Dame fullback who was injured in Saturday's scrimmage, may not be able to play in the opening game against Indiana October 3. The loss of Lukats has convinced Coaches Hearty Anderson and Jack Chevigny that the fullback position is injured. Lukats is the seventh fullback lost to the Notre Dame squad since Joe Savoldi withdrew from school last year before the Northwestern game.

U. S. TAKES CUP
 Venice (AP)—The Daniell cup, one of Italy's most prized motorboat trophies, Monday was headed for the United States in the possession of Fred Gilbert. Gilbert, piloting his outboard racer, California, won the third and final race of the Daniell cup series Sunday, averaging 66.34 miles per hour. He previously had won the second race.

Football coaches, particularly in the south, who are planning extensive experiments this fall with the new type of pigskin can go ahead without worrying over possible action this year by the rules committee.

Of course this matter of a football made of eight sections instead of four hasn't as yet become an official fact, so far as the game is concerned. It will not until the season is started and the first new pigskin is booted into play.

An official of the rules committee, who for that very reason does not want to be quoted officially, has this to say about the matter:

"Naturally the new football has come to the attention of the committee but there has been no official discussion. There will not be, either, until teams have had a chance to play with the ball and we have had an opportunity to weigh the results of actual play.

"But of course there have been informal discussions and some of the faults of the new ball have come to the surface.

"The chief complaint of those who have tried the new pigskin seems to be that it does not rebound as the old one does when dropped to the ground for a drop kick.

"The chief advantage held forth is that a ball of eight sections, with eight seams binding the sections together instead of four, is easier to pass.

"Most passers, though, lay their fingers on the laces of the ball and grip one seam with the thumb. No matter how many seams there are to grip there will still remain only one thumb to grip with and only one set of laces for the fingers.

"The new ball does seem to have more accuracy because of the increased wind resistance against the added four seams.

"One possibility that seems to have been overlooked, however, is the chance that inferior leather will creep into the manufacture of the ball.

"The present ball, with four sections, requires the use of fairly large pieces of leather and fine quality is necessary. The smaller strips can be cut from inferior leather."

STANFORD AND BEAVERS ROLL OUT BIG SCORES

Portland (AP)—Smashing victories by Oregon State college and Stanford were features of pre-season football over the week-end in coast conference circles as every team prepared to swing into action next Saturday.

Powered by Johnny Biancone, Frank Little and Bill Head, Oregon State easily beat Willamette, 76 to 0 on Bell field at Corvallis Saturday night. The Beavers started slowly and were held to 30 points in the first half. When Spec Keene, Willamette coach, sent in a third string lineup in the second half the Beavers ran wild. Bergerson, Schwammel and Hammer stood out on the Oregon State line while Jones at right tackle was one of Willamette luminaries.

Stanford used six full teams in rolling West Coast Army, 46 to 0, at Palo Alto. Coach Warner's new lateral shift bothered the army eleven.

Outstanding games next Saturday will be the classic St. Mary's-Southern California game at Los Angeles and the Oregon State-Colo- rado university Shrine benefit game in Portland. Southern California is the favorite but St. Mary's has many supporters.

Oregon will play Monmouth at Eugene Friday night and Willamette the following night.

Other games next Saturday include Santa Clara vs. California at Berkeley; Olympic Club vs. Stanford at Palo Alto; Utah vs. Washington at Seattle; College of Idaho vs. Washington State college at Pullman; Whitman vs. Idaho at Moscow; Mount St. Charles vs. Montana at Missoula; West Coast Army vs. Nevada at Reno; Pacific Lutheran vs. College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, and Pacific vs. Linfield at McMinnville.

Timber Sales Drop From Previous Total
 The federal policy of restricting timber sales in national forests last year prevented to some extent a worse depression than now experienced by Oregon lumbermen. Owing chiefly to declines in timber sales, national forest receipts declined $1,758,979 from the $6,751,553 total of last year.

BOSTON BRAVES DROP TO 7TH; RED SOX CLIMB

New York (AP)—Boston's two major league clubs are having contrasting experiences in the late season competition.

Judge Emil Puchs' Braves, who played an important part in the National league's early competition and who, at one time, appeared headed for a first division berth, are finding rough going and have dropped to seventh place. The Red Sox, regarded as the door mat of the American league now are in a fair way to take fifth place.

At present the Red Sox are tied with Detroit for the top second division berth.

The Braves dropped to seventh place Sunday when they lost a double header to Cincinnati, 5 to 2 and 14 to 5.

The Chicago Cubs also won two games as the result of concerted attacks, defeating the New York Giants, 16 to 6 and 7 to 6.

Double headers between New York and Cleveland and Washington and Chicago were the only American league competition. New York won both of its games, 7 to 0 and 10 to 4 to maintain a one-game lead over Washington in the fight for second place. Lou Gehrig hit his 45th homer of the season in the first game and Babe Ruth kept pace by hitting his 44th in the second.

Washington also won twice 4 to 3 and 6 to 4.

KEENE SATISFIED WITH SQUAD; TO DEVELOP TEAM

The first casualty of the 1931 football season struck Coach Keene's Bearcat squad Sunday, when Eugene Ferguson, backfield candidate was taken to a local hospital, suffering from acute appendicitis. Ferguson, who has been showing up exceptionally well in early practice sessions will likely be out of the game until the first conference contest.

Not an injury was reported as the result of the 76 to 0 beating Willamette took at the hands of Oregon State Saturday night, consequently the squad was prepared Monday to settle down to preparing for the game with Oregon at Eugene next Saturday night without delay.

Coach Keene and his assistant, Howard Maple, stated Monday they were well pleased with the performance of their men Saturday night. "We learned what they would do under fire," the Willamette mentor added.

This week will see the formation of three or four teams at the Bearcat school, Keene states. It is likely that when the Webfoots are taken on, substitutions will be made by whole teams rather than by piecemeal as was the case against the Orangers. The contest with Oregon will give the local coaches further opportunity to judge the abilities of the men in their charge and with this game out of the way work of building a winning machine can proceed without further delay.

QUARTER FINALS REACHED SALEM GOLF TOURNEY

The quarter finals in the championship and the first flight of the President's cup tournament now under way at the Salem Golf club will be played during the present week. The preliminary rounds were run off last week with few upsets being staged.

In the championship flight which will be concluded next Sunday evening, Frank Lortie will meet Ted Chambers, Fred Anunson plays Frank Lynch, Walt Cline plays Henry Thielsen and R. I. McLaughlin plays Don Hendrie.

First flight pairings are: Glen Lengren vs. Curtis Cross, Judge Belt vs. Chas. Wiper, Vic McNamara vs. Dave Eyre, Roy Simmons vs. Harry Willett.

Frank Lortie beat Tad Shelton, 3 up in the first match last week. The men were all square at the end of the first eight holes and had Shelton played as consistent golf during the second nine as he did during the first the result might have been different. Other results in the championship flight were: Chambers beat Walker, 3 and 1; Anunson won from Mert Hemmenway, 3 up; Lynch beat Guy Smith, 1 up; Cline won from Don Young, 4 and 2; Russ Bonesteels defaulted to Thielsen; McLaughlin beat Scott Page by default; Hendrie beat Fred Ritter, 2 and 1.

First flight results were: Glen Lengren won by default from Dr. Prime; Judge Belt beat Arthur Rahm by default; Wiper beat Ralph Kietzing, 4 and 3; McNamara beat Bert Victor, 1 up; Dave Eyre beat Jack Elliott, 2 and 1; Simmons beat Chester Cox, 1 up; Willett beat Frank Spears by default; Cross beat Wan, McGilchrist, Jr., 1 up.

After the opening series, Oregon will start on a schedule of five matches for games in as many weeks, all away from home. The Webfoots will meet Idaho at Portland, October 3, and on ensuing Saturdays will tackle Washington, Southern California, North Dakota, and New York university.

"They speak my language!"

... and it's no "namby-pamby" talk, —either!

Words can mean lots of things—but you can always trust your taste. If a cigarette tastes right, if it satisfies you right down to the ground, then it is right.

There are all kinds of tobaccos—some good, some not so good. And there's the Chesterfield kind—the best Turkish and the best Domestic that grows. Full-ripe, sun-cured, aged in Nature's thoroughgoing way—and as mild and smooth and sweet as sun-ripened fruit. Chesterfields taste right —because they are right. And something you can't taste—that's important too! The finest cigarette paper—so pure it burns without taste or odor!

And behind this unchanging good taste, all the resources of a great organization—men, money, science, experience. It takes them all to make a great cigarette, and they're all behind Chesterfield.

Your taste is dead right. Chesterfields do satisfy.

GOOD . . . they've got to be good!
