Washington (UP)—America's employer should spend money in order to give work to those now unemployed, Walter S. Gifford, director of the president's organization on unemployment, urged in the program for local relief he has placed before the nation.

Speaking over nation-wide radio hookups Sunday night, Gifford urged:

1. That a state-wide committee of leading citizens be appointed by the governor of each state.
2. That an emergency committee be organized in every community where there is an unemployment problem.
3. That this local committee inform itself as to the probable unemployment load this winter and develop ways and means for meeting it through providing employment or relief.
4. That each local committee inform its state committee as to its organization and plans.

Gifford assured his audience that the period of economic distress is but temporary and can be met effectively with emergency measures. He urged the employed to spend money in order to aid those out of work.

DRUM CORPS ARRIVES HOME FROM DETROIT

Salem received more real advertising through the visit of the Salem drum corps to Detroit than any other similar expedition, in the opinion of H. R. White, tenor drum player, who has accompanied the corps on virtually every one of its trips. The corps worked hard, being in formation virtually all the time while in Detroit, playing in many of the large buildings including the General Motors corporation.

The corps remained in competition until 5 o'clock on the day of the big contest, White states, and despite the fact it was docked a point and a half because a vagrant wind blew the cap off the head of Drummer Ted DeTennecourt, it registered a total of 96.20 points. The judges did not see DeTennecourt's hat blew his head, White states, but slapped on the fine when they observed him without his head covering.

Railroad accommodations were at the finest both ways, those making the trip state. The private cars of the local corps were attached to the Milwaukee's Olympic train out of Chicago Thursday. The engine became disabled a few hundred miles out and a delay of 4 1/2 hours was occasioned. A special train was made up for the corps and Spokane was reached on time and Spokane was reached on time and Spokane was reached on time.

Salem was reached Sunday forenoon. A group of relatives and friends were at the station to greet the Legionnaires.

D. B. Smith, one of the tenor drummers, was taken to the state hospital upon his arrival here. He was suffering from a mental disorder.

POLING CONCLUDES PROHIBITION TALKS

Racketeering is not a development of the 18th amendment to the constitution, declared Daniel H. Poling, one of the group of Allied Campaign speakers Saturday night in bringing the three day local campaign to a close. In an endeavor to prove his contention, Poling showed that racketeers were in business long before the prohibition law was enacted.

There were 62,950 distributors of liquor in New York in 1916 who were not licensed Poling stated, adding that Canada has not found its system of handling the liquor problem a satisfactory one.

Poling spoke on "Give Youth A Square Deal," at the afternoon session. Oliver W. Stewart, another of the allied campaigners shared the platform both afternoon and night with Poling. He spoke in the afternoon on "Wet Inconstancy" and at night on the need of prohibition in the present industrial order.

Russians Shiver As First Snow Comes

Moscow (P)—The first snow of the winter fell Monday and householders in overcoats and galoshes found in the morning paper a decree forbidding all citizens to heat their homes without special authorization by the municipal government.

WETS ASSAILED BY DR. WILSON

Kansas City, Mo. (UP)—Charges that he is a "professional racketeer like Al Capone" fell Monday to the Methodist Dr. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal church in his attack upon the American Legion's anti-prohibition resolution and national wet leaders.

"Let anyone call me anything and I won't care," said Dr. Wilson. "I maintain that the American Legion's recent convention in Detroit was a drunken orgy and that the anti-prohibition resolution was passed by soldiers who insulted their own uniforms by drinking," he continued.

"Dr. Wilson's opinion means not a thing," answered Dr. Neal Williams, of Excelsior Springs, chairman of the Legion resolutions committee.

"I'm a propagandist for prohibition," countered the denominational leader. "Our government employed propagandists during the war to further the cause of the allies. That's what I'm doing for the drys."

Dr. Wilson, speaking before a church congregation of 1,500 expressed contempt for Senator Dwight Morrow, John Raskob and Mrs. Ruth McCormick.

"Take these so-called 'honest wets,'" he shouted. "Look behind them. 'Raskob urges legalization of beer with a tax of six cents a quart. Why? So he can have his taxes reduced. He's a millionaire. Senator Morrow won't elect from New Jersey because of his wet views. He was elected because he's the father-in-law of Charles A. Lindbergh."

"And Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick. She's a woman Judas Iscariot. She preached in her campaign speeches the gospel of prohibition—and she's a wet."

HUNTER LOST IN OCHOCO RESCUED

Roney, who had been lost 36 hours, were found Sunday on Stevenson mountain.

Jessup was found by A. E. Schumann of Bend. He was making his way back towards a road when found and was favoring an injured leg. While following a wounded deer Sunday, Jessup fell and sprained his knee, he told the rescue party.

ST. LOUIS STARS OUT OF THE SERIES

St. Louis (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals may go into the world series Thursday without two of their regulars, Pitcher Jess Haines and Center Fielder John "Pepper" Martin.

Haines, who injured a muscle in his throwing arm pitching in Pittsburgh, appears to be definitely out of the series. His arm has not responded to treatment and he has sustained a bad injury in three weeks. He won two games of the 1928 series and last year score one of the team's two victories over the Athletics, beating Lefty Grove in St. Louis to square the series.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician, said Monday it was doubtful whether Martin, who suffered a badly wrenched left knee in Cincinnati Saturday, would be able to play.

SPEED UP WORK OF ROCKING OF GRADED ROADS

With approach of the rainy season the county court Monday was making preparations to speed up the work in county rock crushing plants and see that the 18 miles of new graded market road now finished but unrocked be rocked sufficiently to be passable at least during the rainy season and it is hoped, if the rainy season does not deluge the county too soon to have these 18 miles all completely rocked.

Each of the 18 miles of road require 1500 yards of rock for surfacing. This is a total of 27,000 yards of rock needed and with some other surfaces to rock it is expected the plants furnishing the county rock will have to turn out 30,000 yards of rock or more in the 30 days and it is expected they will have a chance to operate or fully 1000 yards of rock a day.

In parts of the county the facilities now operating are furnishing sufficient rock so if they are able to keep on at present speed the jobs they have to supply will be done in plenty of time for the rainy season.

In a few places the work must be very materially speeded up and some additional crushers are to be put in to take care of the situation. An extra crusher is expected to be added to help out on the rocking of the Aumsville-Cottage farm road and where 200 yards a day are to be delivered the deliveries will be speeded up to 400 yards a day. In some other places crushers will be added and some new gravel pits opened up.

On all of the graded work a single string of rock will be put through first so as to insure passable roads during the winter season and these will be augmented in all cases by the second string unless the rain descends and holds up the work. Roadmaster Johnson feels confident plans will work out so no roads will be left in a condition where heavy rains would make them impassable.

SEEKS REGULATION OF MOTOR BUSES

Atlantic City, N. J. (UP)—Passage of an act by the next congress conferring on the interstate commerce commission power to regulate interstate motor transportation just as it regulates the railroads was advocated by United States Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, in an address at the annual convention of the National Association of Motor Bus operators Monday.

Lack of regulation of interstate buses, Senator Barkley said, is a manifest injustice, not only to the people, but to every form of transportation, whether state or interstate, which now is subject to regulation by either the state commissions or by the interstate commerce commission.

Senator Barkley termed the motor bus a public utility "in the true sense of the word."

ANDREWS SEARCH BLOCKED BY CHINESE

Victoria, B. C. (UP)—Roy Chapman Andrews, American explorer, was on the verge of making "important discoveries" when he was barred from the Gobi desert, he said Monday.

Andrews returned from the Orient Sunday aboard the steamer Empress of Russia. He was bitter in denouncing the Peiping society for the preservation of ancient objects for the sake of their efforts to continue hunting the "cradle of mankind" in the Gobi.

"They are obstructionists and bitterly anti-foreign," Andrews said. "They barred me on the flimsy pretext I was a spy seeking oil grounds."

Andrews said he would report to the American Museum of Natural History in New York that he was on the verge of important discoveries concerning primitive man.

BURDICK HELD ON DRUNK CHARGE

Portland (UP)—Denton G. Burdick, for many years a member of the legislature from Redmond, but now a Portland attorney, was at liberty under bail Monday on a charge of drunkenness.

Burdick was arrested Saturday night after his automobile had struck a car driven by Mrs. Robert P. Johnson, at East Broadway and Union avenue. Burdick allegedly failed to heed the stop light at Union avenue and did not stop after the accident. He was followed and arrested five blocks down Broadway. With him was Mrs. F. B. Keith, who was also arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

ADAM GIFFORD PASSES AWAY

San Francisco (UP)—Commissioner Adam Gifford, veteran territorial commander of the Salvation Army, was mourned by thousands of his workers throughout the west Monday. The 60-year-old executive died of heart disease here Sunday after an illness of three days.

Two of his sons, Major Edward R. Gifford, director of Salvation Army young people's work, and Ensign Hanson Gifford, head of the Evangelical league in Los Angeles, were at his bedside when he died.

Gifford's health was impaired by the strain of the army's extensive relief program for unemployed, of which he was in charge in the west. He became seriously ill Friday and little hope was held for his recovery.

Commissioner William McIntyre of Chicago and R. E. Foltz of New York will be in charge of funeral services to be held here Tuesday.

JOSEPH AND MORO BANKS CLOSE DOORS

Two bank failures, the Joseph state bank at Joseph and the Moro state bank at Moro were announced Monday by the state banking department.

The state institutions at those towns failed to open their doors Friday, September 25.

A. A. Schramm, state banking superintendent, was at Joseph Monday investigating conditions. He spent the week end at Moro.

Both banks were listed as having capital of $50,000.

A shortage in the reserve fund forced the officials to close the Moro bank, according to word received at state headquarters from Schramm.

The Moro charter was issued February 1929 after a consolidation of two banks. R. H. Coppock is president and cashier, and the directors are W. H. Ragdale, J. C. McKee, P. C. Axell and W. S. Jackson.

Edgar Marvin is president. E. G. Tucker, vice president and Cecil Childers cashier of the Joseph bank. Marvin, Tucker, Childers, C. T. McDaniels, E. D. Phala and L. E. Thornber are directors.

The defunct bank formerly was situated at Lostine. It was transferred to Joseph in 1927, following failure of the town's only bank.

LOAN COMPANIES DECLARED UNFAIR

In resolutions passed by the Salem Insurance Agents Union protest is made and emphatic objection entered by the union to what the resolutions declare to be an unfair and unethical practice they allege is being pursued by certain savings and loan associations in "compelling their borrowing clients to renew their collateral fire insurance with said loan associations or their subsidiary agencies."

"We deem this" continues the resolutions, "to be taking an unfair advantage of the borrower as it deprives him of the privilege of freely fulfilling his desires and obligations to his friends and business associates. And at the same time it robs the legitimate insurance agency of its established business. It is the object and purpose of our organization to support right principles and oppose bad practices in the underwriting industry; to maintain the high standards of ethics and integrity and to promote harmony in the business life of our community and cooperate with the insurance and corporation commissioners of our state to that end."

The resolutions are signed by J. M. Rupert, retiring president, and Winnie Pettyjohn, secretary of the association. At a meeting last week the union selected new officers with J. D. Foley as president; Merrill Ohling, vice-president and Winnie Pettyjohn as secretary-treasurer.

PRIZE PHOTOS SENT TO FAIR FROM GOTHAM

A collection of 100 pictures from the New York Pictorial Photographers' association picked from the best of all photographs made by prominent New York amateur photographers and sent direct to the Oregon state fair is a featured attraction of the photographic and art section of the state fair. This is the first time that the New York society has sent a collection away from their own city, although many of the prints have been reproduced in magazines and books.

The center tables at the photographic section are devoted to prints winning salon honors at the Pacific International Photographers' association at Sacramento, with the salon picture taken by the Gunnell and Robb studio of Salem showing pictures from the Ohio state photographers' convention.

The largest convention of photographers held east of the Rocky mountains this year, also is displayed.

Oregon commercial and amateur photographers have a number of entries in this department, but a showing of historical photographs and an illustrated history of the development of photography planned for the department was abandoned when the booth in the department was reserved for the section not connected with this section.

The art exhibit is noticeable for a diversity of exhibits. In addition to both amateur and professional oils, pastels and water-colors, pictures made from sea-weeds, painting on ceramics, wood-carving, gewgaw work, painting on silk and all types of art craft are on display.

The Salem Woman's club has an exhibit of 50 pictures from the picture library which they loan to the schools. Mrs. William Bell of Roseburg, in charge of the art department, said the entries were up to their usual high standard and that some exceptionally interesting pieces of art-craft work was being shown.

Several shelves in the art department have been devoted to book written by Oregon authors and assistants from the state library and the Salem writers' section are in charge.
