DECREASE SEEN IN ANNUAL POLK COUNTY BUDGET

CUTS IN WAGES AUTHORIZED BY BOARD ACTION

Dallas—The Thursday afternoon session of the county budget meeting attracted a larger crowd than it did in the morning. R. M. Walker, chairman of the budget committee was unable to attend and his place was taken by E. C. Kirkpatrick on motion of James Imlah.

A motion to reconsider the salary of the deputy in the county school superintendent's office resulted in the reconsideration of all the deputies' salaries in the courthouse. Members of the sheriff's office and county clerk's office had already received a cut, but a motion to cut the salaries of all deputies 10 per cent carried and went into effect. The county court had $400 lopped off and the $150 for scalp bounties in the county also went in the discard, followed in short order by a similar amount for the Armistice day celebration.

When the matter of the courthouse janitor's salary came up three applications were received for the position, two of the applicants offering to work for $65 and one for $60. The salary of the janitor had already been cut 10 per cent and had been set at -1080. A motion that his salary be $65 was defeated although it had a substantial backing. After some discussion it was finally set at $900, making a cut of $180.

The appropriation of $600 for the county health nurse had a narrow escape, the motion that it be allowed being carried only after a standing vote showed a slight majority. The general road fund and the market road fund were given hard jolts, $12,000 being lopped off the latter and $5000 off the former. After a lengthy session the budget was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

Changes were made in the estimated receipts other than taxes for 1932 when it was revealed that an additional amount of $11,000 would be forthcoming from the O. C. land grant, the sum of $10,000 delinquent taxes (bringing that entry up to $65,531.76) and the further sum of $3,400 in cash which had not been shown in the budget, bringing the total for estimated receipts up to $135,952.33.

With the salary cuts and other items amounting to $18,734.60 deducted from the estimated budget requirements that total of $330,569 becomes $311,834.40. Taking the estimated receipts from above total leaves the sum of $175,881.07 to be raised by tax levy, or a decrease of $43,134.40 from the budget as presented for the taxpayers' consideration. A compartson with the tax levy of a year ago shows a decrease of $82,506.93.

OLD OFFICERS AT WEST SALEM ARE RETAINED

West Salem—The city council met Wednesday evening in adjourned session. All member were present.

The annual reports of all officers were given.

The auditor's report showed all books in fine condition and the different funds in good shape; the street fund being the only one overdrawn. The sanitar yand health committee reported that a number of undesirable residents had moved out of town.

Charles Ruge reported that a walk on Edgewater street between Gerth and Kingwood avenues was badly in need of attention. The recorder was ordered to notify the owner to have the said walk put into good condition at once. Other bad places in streets were referred to street committee.

The water board's report showed a saving of a little over $600 over that of 1930. The report was accepted and the board congratulated.

Mayor Neugent read his message to the council. It was accepted and placed on file. A letter written by the mayor to Major Oscar O. Kuentz, government officer in Portland, concerning a gravel digger's work in southwestern part of the city resulted in a personal inspection of said digger's work by Kuentz who gave orders to have a certain excavation filled immediately and that there must be no more holes dug in the bank.

A motion prevailed that the council's attitude be declared to conform to the mayor's letter.

An ordinance asking for a bus franchise by Edwin Sink was given first and second readings. An application for bus franchise from Robert Clark was also read and recorder instructed to notify him that if he wished a franchise to appear before the council.

A motion prevailed that all appointive offices of the city be declared vacant and that new appointments be made. Elmer D. Cook was suggested for city attorney; J. L. Darby, city auditor; J. C. Simpson, police traffic officer; W. L. LaDue, water and street superintendent; L. M. Hill and Walter B. Gerth, members of the water board. These nominations were confirmed.

A motion prevailed that the council present Charles Ruge, the retiring water and street superintendent with a month's salary for a vacation and also thank him for his long and faithful services to the city.

The nominees confirmed by the council were all duly sworn in by the recorder, Mrs. J. I. Miller.

The next regular meeting of the council will be on Monday evening, January 4.

FAITH SHOWN IN SILVERTON

Silverton—In reviewing the improvements in building and business progress for the past year, Silverton seems to be more than holding her own, considering the talk of depression. At least a satisfactory number of people are expressing confidence in Silverton's future.

Among those who have invested heavily are Larson and Son, funeral directors, who have recently opened their new chapel for use; Lee Inman has repaired the Inman building by adding a top story to the building and finishing eight new apartments with the latest modern equipment; a branch office of the Portland General Electric company with S. P. Rose as local manager; Jenkins' grocery market; the roller skating rink; the Winlock Handle factory; Richfield service station; R. Huddleston, manager; Silverton box works, E. R. Francis, proprietor; Noftsker's new garage and repair shop; Olson's garage; Crowder's tonsorial parlors, and among the eating places are Peniede's "Duck and Swallow," Nichols "Silverton Grille," and Messmer's "Silverton Rooms and Coffee Shop."

HOBART CELEBRATES ON 86TH BIRTHDAY

Silverton—The birthday anniversary of Scott Hobart, who was 86 December 26, has been celebrated during the week with numerous social observances. On his birthday open house was held and scores of his old-time friends called at the Hobart home to express greetings. The first of the week Mrs. Hobart had as special dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dickey of Deming, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Brandt of Gresham and from Silverton Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Langley, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brandt, Ted Hobart and Arthur Hobart. Hobart was born December 26, 1845, at Carthage, Ill., and came to the Oregon country when he was eight years old. He was actively engaged in farming up to eleven years ago when he moved into Silverton to reside. He enjoys exceptional health for one of his years.

Coming for the later program are Betty Francis, Barbara Jean Palmer, Clarene Reed, Eileen Rahn and Maurice Davis. Games will be played and refreshments served.

WILLAMINA COUPLE HIT BY HIGH TIDE

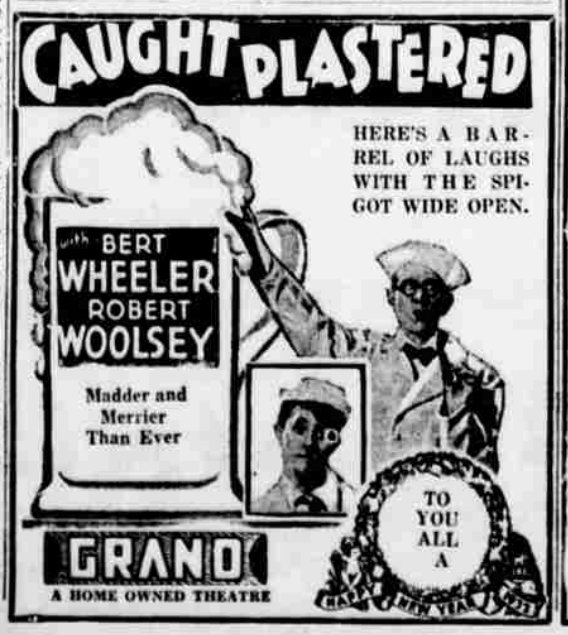
Willamina—Among those caught in the high tide at the coast Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blanchard who were on a week-end fishing trip.

They had rented one of a group of four cottages at Winema Beach and at about 12 o'clock were awakened by the noise of rending timbers as the two end cottages were demolished by the heavy seas coming in on an exceptionally high tide. The water was washing into their cabin so they took their clothing and what bedding they could, and went to the cottage of the owner of the cabins, where they remained until morning, although the water came through onto the floor occasionally.

Blanchard's coupe was in the shed next to their cabin, and during the night the seas threw the cabin onto the car, doing considerable damage besides the havoc wrought by the sand. The cabin they occupied was fully 500 feet from the high water mark.

ARGUMENT STARTED OVER SLIDE DEBRIS

Albany—The Linn county court members and attorneys of the Oregon Electric railroad locked horns on who is to clear the 1000 foot slide which covers the county road and railroad a short distance beyond the upper Calapooya bridge beyond Holley. The slide occurred in early fall at a point where the Calapooya river hugs close to a clay bank which projects almost to the water's edge. The railroad dug away the bank, set the county road farther inland and then built its grade between the river and the county road.

EGGLER AT SPRINGS


Fruitland—Frank Eggler has left for Hot Lake in eastern Oregon to seek relief from his rheumatism at the Hot Lake Sanitorium. He left Wednesday and will be gone for three weeks.
