

FOOD PRODUCTS BANQUET GIVEN AT SILVERTON

Silverton—Members and officials of the Silverton Food Products company held an all day session Saturday at the W. O. Hall in their annual business meeting. Members of the board elected to serve for the period of a year were: Walter Green, Scott Mills; George Benson, Silverton Hills; Joe McCracken, Scott Mills; and Morris Ames, Silverton.

During the morning session Walter Green presided with M. C. Storvick, general superintendent of the Silverton cannery, acting as secretary. Open floor discussions of the benefits of the cooperative organization for the marketing of their products was the principal feature of the forenoon program. More than 125 people were served a banquet at noon. Products of the Silverton cannery consisting of canned vegetables and their new specialty, frozen strawberries, were the menu for the meal. In charge of the dining room were Mrs. Ed Lytle, Mrs. Joe Goyette, Mrs. Edith Barstad, Mrs. Alvin Henjum, Mrs. Ed Nelson, Mrs. Ed Holden, Mrs. Frieda Harber, Mrs. J. M. Peterson, Mrs. Ethel Peterson, Miss Vera Ottoway.

Speakers for the afternoon were Alfred O. Nelson, who discussed the benefits of diversified farming; John Goplerud, past president of the Cooperative Cannery association, discussed the financial benefits of the organization; Morris Ames, president, gave a brief resume of the work and complimented the board on the progress made in the last seven years since the inception of the cannery cooperation; Ed Nelson, manager of the cannery, spoke of the work done last year; and June Drake reviewed the marketing situation.

The group was well satisfied with their democratic management and liked the idea of walking into their own home "when going to the Silverton cannery."

VETS TO VOICE IDEA OF BONUS

Silverton—L. C. Eastman, mayor of Silverton, will be unable to appear before Delbert Reeves post No. 7, American Legion, at the regular meeting Monday night, at which time Mayor Eastman was scheduled to give an address on that portion of the American Legion constitution which reads, "To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation." J. E. Hosmer, local attorney, will talk on the same subject as a substitute.

A special feature of the Monday evening meeting is a "showing of hands" on the arguments concerning the adjusted compensation certificates. The executive committee has pronounced itself in favor of allowing Silverton's ex-service men an opportunity to voice their opinion which might not prove popular with the policy of the Detroit convention. This action of the officers is taken as a means of being of practical service to every ex-service man in the community, and is awaited with interest as to the stand taken by the local group.

E. A. Sewell is chairman of a committee sponsoring a program Friday, January 22, under the auspices of the post, in which Silverton's home talent will be assisted by a number of the Detroit convention. This program will be open to the public.

DELUGE TAKES ALL SNOW FROM DALLAS

Dallas—This city has been subjected during the past few days to an unusual variety of weather conditions. Wednesday morning a four-inch mantle of snow covered the streets and sidewalks. The snow was succeeded by rain, occasional flurries of snow, mild freezing weather, which made the pavement slick and treacherous at times, and culminated in a perfect downpour of rain all day Saturday and Sunday. The rain showed no signs of letting up late Sunday afternoon and the heavy downpour had cleared the court-house lawn of the last vestige of its white covering which it had retained during the past few days.
