"How I Escaped An Operation for Varicose Veins"

By William Reaie

"I had a very bad leg caused by varicose veins. The doctors said the only thing was an operation. I used several bottles of Allen's—a sensible scientific formula free from opiates or nerve deadening drugs—it drives out all pain and agony in 48 hours—or money back."

Mr. Reaie, who has lived in New Castle, Pa., for over 40 years and is well-known there, is a naturally enthusiastic about his wonderful cure. His experience is by no means uncommon. Thousands of men and women everywhere have found Moore's Emerald Oil of marvelous benefit in cases of varicose veins, broken veins, and varicose ulcers.

It's the very same Moore's Emerald Oil that Capital drug store, Salem Drug Co. and Perry's drug store right here in town sell with a money-back guarantee of sure help. Get a bottle and know the joy of sound healthy legs again.

SPENCER HELD AS KIDNAPPER

Albany—Arthur Spencer is now in the Linn county jail where he is held on the charge of child stealing. It is alleged by Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce of Plainview that Spencer enticed their daughter, Ethel, from their home in Albany, who was 15 years old at the time, has not been heard from since.

Spencer returned to Albany last fall and on his arrival here was charged with child stealing. The young man was scheduled to stand trial at the December term of circuit court, but the district attorney moved that the case be dismissed when Spencer informed him he would plead guilty to the charge. Since then the district attorney has been waiting for Judge L. H. McMahon to return from Portland.

County authorities say that Spencer claims that the girl left him and ran away with a friend of his, when he left his home near Pendleton to go to Portland on a business trip. The complete name of the friend has not been learned here as Spencer has only given the first name.

As near as can be determined here, Spencer and the girl went to Vancouver, Wash., on leaving here, later they moved to Walla Walla, Wash., and then on to Pendleton. The girl never had had trouble with her parents, it is said.
