MRS. CHAPMAN PIONEER, DEAD

The ranks of pioneers who were actively associated with the early development of Salem were lessened by one when death called Mrs. M. N. Chapman, 80, at her home on North Church street early Thursday morning. Mrs. Chapman was a charter member of Chadwick chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, when it was organized here April 9, 1893, and had been a member of the First Congregational church for more than 60 years. She was prominent in church and club circles until but a few years ago when her health failed. This past winter she suffered an attack of influenza from which pleurisy developed and which was the main cause of her death.

Mrs. Chapman was Jennie Thatcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thatcher, was born in Iowa May 26, 1852, in a covered wagon as her parents were crossing the plains to the Pacific coast. The family settled for a brief while in California, and later came to the Siletz country in Oregon, 75 years ago. When but 15 years of age, she was married to Memory M. Chapman. ## CHICAGO TAX BILL PASSES

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21 (AP)—The first victory in Chicago's fight for financial rehabilitation was celebrated today with passage by the state representatives of a bill to reform Cook county tax machinery. By a vote of 114 to 31 the representatives approved the emergency decree.

Today the senate, which passed the bill 46-1 received the measure for reconsideration. The house added two minor amendments but passage of these by the senate was regarded by Governor Louis L. Emerson, Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, and civic leaders who have labored for weeks for the reorganization as a foregone conclusion.

The measure provides for replacement of the present tax bodies of Cook county by a committee of three men appointed by the governor and president of the Cook county board to assess and review taxes.

It was learned authoritatively today. The president feels no large scale naval building should be authorized under present economic conditions.

YACHT SEIZED IN SMUGGLER DRIVE

Hongkong, Jan. 21 (AP)—The yacht Merbella, flying the Panama flag, was seized outside of Macao by customs officers Tuesday in a drive against alleged smuggling of Chinese and opium into the United States.

Several Americans were members of the Merbella's crew. The ship was returning from a voyage to Mexico when it was seized. Authorities claimed they had received information that immigrants and narcotics were taken from the ship after wireless messages had been exchanged with a confederate on the Mexican coast.

It was believed here that the Merbella had been under observation of American planes and a warship off Mexico, but that it had evaded the search.

The yacht was commanded by Capt. Yapsa, a Dutch subject. He commanded the steamer Hedwig at the time it was lost off the Pratas islands while allegedly engaged in similar traffic, officers said.

Heart Paralysis Causes Death of Bellingham Boxer

Bellingham, Jan. 21 (AP)—George Bell, 29-year-old Bellingham boxer, died here last night less than seven minutes after he had climbed through the ropes for one of his few professional appearances.

An autopsy performed shortly after disclosed, physicians said, that "death was due to paralysis of the heart caused by a direct blow."

Bell's opponent, Richard Howard, 16, was placed under technical arrest, after firemen with a lungmaster worked over Bell for more than an hour in the dressing room in an effort to revive him.

Hundreds of spectators who attended the American Legion card, cheered other fighters, unaware that Bell had died.

RESERVE FUNDS FOR INDUSTRY

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—The American society of civil engineers has accepted for study a plan to protect not only labor, but also management and stockholders, during depressions by the legal establishment of a compulsory reserve fund in each business.

While the plan has not been given official sanction or approval by the society, it has been deemed worthy of further consideration by the engineering economic committee and by the engineering economic committee which presented the plan, also without approval or disapproval. Several individual members have taken it in principle.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad, is chairman of the engineering economic committee, and Frederick H. McDonald, consulting engineer of Atlanta, Ga., is secretary. Mr. McDonald drafted and wrote the plan.

The plan proposes a form of business insurance whereby each state would require every corporation to put aside in a reserve fund earnings in excess of a percentage prescribed by the state up to a total sufficient to pay labor, while collar workers and dividends for one year.

Mr. McDonald explains that the plan is subject to change and that considerable research is required.

TO ENTER SMITH IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Concord, N. H., Jan. 21 (AP)—Steps to place the name of Alfred E. Smith before the democrats of New Hampshire in the first state presidential primary in the country, March 6, were taken today.

Thomas F. Sheehan, Manchester, secured papers from the secretary of state to file petitions for a slate of delegates to the democratic national convention, which would be pledged to Smith.

Democratic leaders here feared the entrance of a slate pledged to Smith into the field would split the party. While Smith received the support of the leaders here four years ago many recently have expressed a preference for Franklin D. Roosevelt to be the democratic standard bearer.

Pupils of private schools in Bellingham are taking up hockey.

WASHINGTON TO STAGE PROGRAM

Students in the third grade at Washington school, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Rose Gibson, will close their project on American citizenship with a program Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to which they have invited parents, neighbors, school officials and friends.

The project is one which has attracted much interest in educational circles for it was worked out by the children upon their own suggestions and is correlated with all studies except mathematics drill work. The students have painted a large size frieze, showing a city street and the problem both of art and mathematics which it provided proved of interest to the entire roomful of youngsters. Safety first in traffic problems, city, state and national government, the relation of the individual to the community and the importance of different trades was unconsciously studied by the children in completing the project.

For the program Friday afternoon, every child has a part in a play which was written by them during their English classes and later memorized. The students are dressed to represent the part they take, such as nurse, doctor, veterinarian, fireman, postman, grocer, etc. and the play contains a song on health a "postman's song" and songs by "firemen" and cobblers. The program will open with the salute to the flag and a patriotic song and will close with the class recitation of "You're America's Creed" and a second patriotic song.

HOOVER STOPS WAGE SLASHING

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Hoover moved today to keep contractors on government buildings from paying lower wages than other employers in the same community.

By an executive order, it was decreed that stipulations of the Davis-Bond prevailing wage scale shall be written into all public building contracts, along with a clause permitting cancellation of the contracts if the prevailing wage is not paid.

Existing contracts do not include the cancellation stipulation or the prohibition of rebates, as will the new agreements.

Secretary Doak analyzed the new executive order for the house labor committee. He argued against passing new laws, holding the executive order would be satisfactory.

Chairman Connelly, however, insisted the prevailing wage provision should extend to all other forms of government work given to contractors, such as that on river levees and flood control projects.

"I will introduce a separate bill to do that," he said after hearing Doak.

PUBLIC UTILITIES HEARING UNDERWAY

Hearing before the public utilities commission on accounting practices of the public utilities companies in Oregon was started today, with more than 50 merchants and utility officials present. Claude R. Lester was representing Charles M. Thomas, utilities commissioner, in conducting the hearing.

The hearing resulted from protest of the Oregon Merchants Utility bureau against the alleged practices of utility companies in merchandising and jobbing sales. The petition contended utility firms were unfair competitors to merchants in electrical and gas appliances, because of purchasing advantages and sales advantages.

The bureau, represented by Fred Williams, is petitioning that the utility companies be placed on the same competitive basis as other merchants. It is expected the hearing will take several days.

ANOTHER ASSAULT EXCITES HONOLULU

Honolulu, Jan. 21 (AP)—Another case of criminal assault upon a woman arrested Honolulu today when medical authorities, after investigating the story of Mrs. Toka Okazaki, 29, and making varying reports as to its accuracy, concluded she had been assaulted.

Mrs. Toka Okazaki, 29, mother of two children, complained to police she had been assaulted near John Rodgers airport by a man she identified through a photograph as Daniel Lyman, escaped Portuguese-Hawaiian murderer.

This assault occurred as authorities were preparing to place before the grand jury evidence in the lynching of Joseph Kahuahawai, Hawaiian alleged attacker of a navy officer's wife, and as the territorial legislature, in special session, was seeking a formula for better law enforcement to overcome hoodlumism in Honolulu.

The British ministry of health has just estimated that to provide pensions of $3.50 a week for wives of old-pensioners would cost $13,000,000 the first year, rising to over $20,000,000 in 10 years.

Soldier Believed Victim of Murder

San Francisco, Jan. 21 (AP)—Evidences of foul play were investigated by police today after the discovery of a soldier's charred body in his smoke filled hotel room here.

The victim, identified as Thomas Earl, 25, of Fort Stephens, Ore., was found about through the head. A rifle lay beside him amid burning bedclothes.

Guests said they heard several sharp explosions before the fire alarm sounded, indicating, police believed, that cartridges remaining in the gun were discharged by flames.

CROWLEY DIES CHAIR TONIGHT

Quaining, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—Francis Crowley, 36-year-old youth who lived all his 36 years in New York and can scarcely write his name, came out the last of his paper toys today and stole glances at a picture of the electric chair posted on his wall.

He dies in the chair at Sing Sing tonight for murdering a policeman.

"I didn't want to forget it," said Crowley, explaining with a leer why he peered up the picture of the chair when they put him in the death house.

Experts tried to find in his past, the reasons why the twisted youth raced through the series of crimes that brought him the nickname "Two-Gun."

He was the son, his attorney said, of Dora Dietz, a servant girl, and a private policeman who never married her. Shortly after birth he was sent to the baby farm of Mrs. Anna Crowley, his lawyer said.

Growing into adolescence with a mind retarded, he turned from school to lawdy dance places and shady resorts.

His name was linked with a series of holdups. Then came an alarm for him in the killing of Virginia Brannan, dime-a-dance girl who was shot and tossed from an automobile into the Yonkers hedge.

One night Patrolman Frederick Hirsch of Nassau county, thinking to stop a peeing party, approached a parked automobile. Its occupants were Crowley and his sweetheart, Helen Walsh. Crowley shot him dead and sped away.

A few days later detectives cornered him, the girl and Rudolph Durringer, truckman, in an apartment house on the upper West side. Bullets and tear gas were poured into the place for two hours before Crowley, wounded and his ammunition exhausted, let the police enter.

Durringer was executed for killing Miss Brannan.

STATE CAFETERIA DAMAGED BY FIRE

The State Cafeteria was closed Thursday because of damage to the heating apparatus done by fire in the Schreiber building Wednesday night. The cafeteria and the Hogan cigar store and pool hall are both in that building. Aside from smoke damage and burning connections damage was not great.

The fire was noticed about 9:30, and prompt response by the fire department prevented the fire gaining much headway. The fire was discovered by R. D. Counts and C. C. Van Vleet, employees of the cigar store. Morris Klortien operates the cafeteria. The cause of the fire was not known.

Two years ago the same building suffered a fire that caused about $7000 damage to the cafeteria and the cigar store.

MEIER PUTS OFF VAULT DECISION

Decision of Governor Meier concerning construction of the $25,000 vault at the capitol will be withheld until after his return from Washington, the executive announced to the Salem delegation Wednesday night. The delegation requested immediate construction of the vault to aid unemployment. The governor previously vetoed the expenditure of the money for this purpose. The 1931 legislature authorized construction and appropriated the money for the fire-proof vault.

The governor announced he would confer with Senator Charles L. McNary at Washington relative to land grant money available. A new capitol building would be constructed, he said, if funds are found available from land grants. The governor further said he believed the basement of the capitol could be made fire-proof for less money than necessary for a vault.
