

GOINS URGED TO MAKE RACE; SERVING LINN

Scio—Scio and other Linn county friends of S. H. Goins, farmer, a few miles west of this city, have expressed a desire to have him file his petition for candidacy for the state legislature. While no definite statement in Goins' behalf has been authorized, so far as has been made public here, it is believed by those near him that he might be in a receptive mood in this matter if it is the will of sufficient number of electors that he make the race at the May primary election for one of the positions in the lower house of the state legislature. Goins was elected a member of the house at the election of 1922, along with A. K. McMahon, Albany attorney. E. M. Garland, Lebanon lawyer, was elected to the senate at the same time. All are democrats and were elected in a county normally considered strongly republican. Goins was born and reared in Linn county and still resides on the farm on which he was born, near Greens bridge, about five miles west of Scio. He is from pioneer stock and has spent his life as a farmer in the immediate vicinity of Scio. He is familiar with the needs of the farmer, having made special study and observation in that field. His record as a member of the house 10 years ago is that of a conscientious, hard worker and a square shooter, and friends are united in the belief that he should consent again to serve his constituency at the present time, they urge, when the sterling qualities he embodies are so much needed in public office.

ALL DAY AFFAIR HELD BY CHURCH FOR SILVERTON

Silverton—The Immanuel Lutheran congregation of which Rev. J. M. Jensen is pastor, sponsored an all-day patriotic session at the church Sunday with a sermon by Rev. Jensen at the morning service, a luncheon at noon and a less formal program in the afternoon under the auspices of the Young People's society.

The theme of the morning sermon was the life story of Washington, dealing with Washington as a man, his outstanding characteristics, and his life applied today in American life. Rev. Jensen emphasized six pivotal points of Washington as a moral and religious personality, and these included: His personal faith in God, his faith in God as a natural asset, his deep sense of justice, his executive ability to carry on, his grasp of international relations, and his deep sense of humility. The text of application to the sermon theme was Proverbs 14: 35. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Ben Furue, Mrs. H. B. Jensen, Miss Selma Jorgensen and Mrs. Oscar Lee. The afternoon program began at 1:30 o'clock. Ardis Aarhus was chairman of the entertainment committee. Rev. Jensen presided in the absence of the pastor. Thorkild Thorkildson who handed in his resignation, and Eleanor Furue acted as secretary. Rev. Jensen conducted the devotionals, and group singing by the audience; Edna Overlund and Ardis Aarhus were heard in a piano duet, Stars and Stripes Forever; patriotic vocal trio by Hildur and Alice Thorkildson and Alma Tostenesen; quartet, Edna Overlund, Inga and Myrtle Thorkildson and Louis Larson; a number of songs by the audience; talks on different phases of the life of Washington by Jonas Byberg, Mrs. Jonas Byberg, Rev. Jensen and Elmer Ellingson. A short prayer service closed the program. The Young People's society of the Immanuel group are responsible for an all-day service each month.

GASOLINE WARFARE FRONT IS EXTENDED

Independence—Gasoline war was waged in this city on Friday when the Standard oil stations and the Union Oil company put gas down to 10 cents. Delivery trucks for these companies were kept busy night and day keeping the storage tanks filled up to meet the demands of the city trade and farmers who came in with truck loads of cans for every description to be filled. Just how long this will continue was not known by the operators but the farmers were certainly making use of the time to get a good supply while it lasted. The Shell stations were meeting the competition as far as they were able to supply the demands of their distributors. It is thought this to be an echo of the war being waged in Portland and other cities.
