Miss Schwab Bride Of Mr. Wachter

Mt. Angel—At a beautiful wedding ceremony performed in St. Mary's church Tuesday morning at 8:15 o'clock, Miss Rose Ann Schwab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwab, became the bride of Joseph L. Wachter, son of Mrs. Helena Wachter.

The nuptial vows were read by Rev. Father Norbert, O.S.B., before a large number of relatives and friends. The vestibule of the church was artistically decorated with palms and great baskets of white spring blooms and flower shrubs, effectively arranged with lattice arch.

Rev. Father Ambrose, O.S.B., played the processional and recessional wedding marches, and also presided at the pipe organ during the high mass. The church choir, of which the bride was a member, sang the nuptial high mass. At the offertory Miss Helen Keber and Miss Clara Keber sang the "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a beautiful gown of white satin, designed in empire style, self trimmed, with long sleeves, and the tiny belt, buckled with brilliant, and floor length skirt.

Her long veil of embroidered tulle, forming a train, was caught with tiny calla lilies in a small cap of net. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies, and a white pearl rosary.

Miss Amanda Schwab, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a charming green chiffon gown, made in matching style to that of the bride. Tiny ruffles formed short puffed sleeves, with matching ruffles at the neckline and hem. Her flowers were yellow snapdragons.

Paul Wachter attended his brother as best man.

The church ceremony was followed by a wedding dinner served at the Mt. Angel hotel. Miss Mary Louise LeDoux played the wedding march. Miss Helen Eberle, Miss Helen Fickler and Miss Mary Louise LeDoux assisted with the serving.

A reception was held during the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Flowers were used about the rooms to compliment the spring season.

The newlyweds left the same day on a trip to California and upon their return will live in their newly constructed home on South Oak street. For her going away outfit, the bride wore a green suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Wachter has been complimented with a number of attractive pre-nuptial affairs. She was associated with her father in business. Mr. Wachter is business manager of the Benedictine Press.

A resolution of protest to be sent to magazines against the advertisement of cigarettes, and preparations for the crusade anniversary in 1934 were among the special features of an all day institute held by the Salem W. C. T. U. in its hall. In the principal talk of the institute, made by Rev. P. W. Erikson, the press, radio and movies were accused of contributing to the delinquency of youth.

The institute opened with a talk by the Marion county W. C. T. U. president, Mrs. Helen Prescott. Rev. S. Darlow Johnson led the devotion. Rev. Quigley sang, with Mrs. Charles Fessenden at the piano. Dr. M. R. Rogers spoke on narcotics and alcoholic beverages. Medal contests were discussed by Mrs. Jessie H. Cole and arranged May 4 under the auspices of the North Salem W. C. T. U. Committee appointed were: Membership, Mrs. Beulah Ratliff, Mrs. Lena Lisle; literature, Mrs. S. Poole; Miss Jessie Martin was named to arrange for the bus to the Woodburn convention April 27.

Mrs. Sarah Oliver, for many years county president of the organization, led in the noontide prayer which was followed by a pot luck luncheon.

Mrs. Beulah Ratliff led in the devotion for the afternoon session. Mrs. J. J. Nunn discussed the Union Signal published by the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Jennie Presnall, state director of narcotics, spoke. It was reported that five new unions were organized in the county. Miss Daisy Frederick spoke on W. C. T. U. work in South Africa. The main address by Rev. Erikson followed.
