

News OF THE Day IN Pictures

FOUND—SOMETHING THAT CAN BEAT HELENE

Coach Ray Daughters of the Washington Athletic Club has fixed up a pace-setter to aid Helene Madison in her training for the pre-Olympic tryouts. Here we see the champion mermaid in the Seattle club's pool racing against the device which consists of a line stretched the length of the course with flag attached. The banner flies directly over the swimmer and operated at any speed by the coach.

MAXIE BACK TO DEFEND TITLE

Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, as he arrived in New York from Germany to begin an exhibition tour preparatory to a defense of his title against Jack Sharkey of Boston in New York June 16. With him is his manager, Joe Jacobs.

SWATH OF ROAD CUT THROUGH MOUNT RAINIER SNOW

Snow has piled up to a depth of 15 feet on Mt. Rainier in Washington and rangers have estimated that the district will not be open until June. This is a scene of the roadway which has been dug in the snow.

HUEY LONG'S POTLIKKER PARTY

Senator Huey Long of Louisiana, champion of the "dunking" plan of eating cornbread and potlikker, explains his method to Senator Joseph Robinson (right). The occasion was the formal introduction of "potlikker" to the senate restaurant. It was prepared under the direction of Long who sent his clerks scurrying around Washington for turnip greens and "four bits" worth of dry salt meat.

New Federal Warden

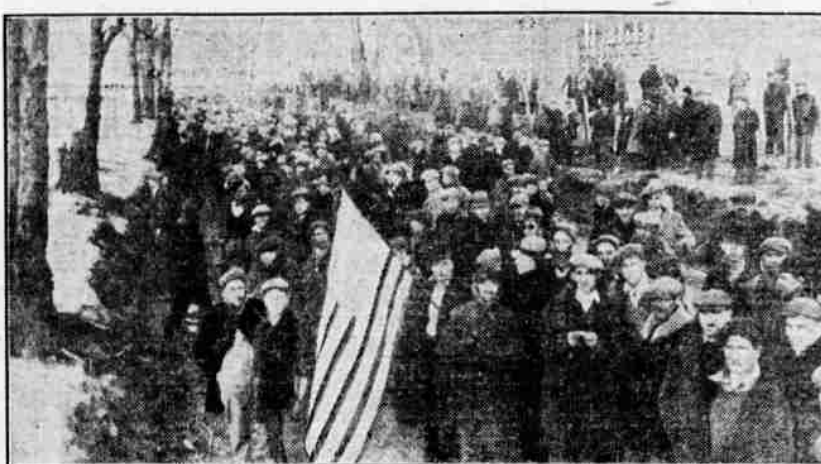

Henry C. Hill, warden of the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet, has been named warden of the northeastern federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa.

Arizona's Choice

Hamelia Fielder was chosen 1932 desert queen by male students of the University of Arizona.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS MARCH ON OHIO MINE

Hundreds of strike sympathizers marched on the Goodyear coal mine near Cadiz, Ohio, precipitating a riot in which one man was killed and scores hurt. Here is part of the crowd gathered on a road leading to the mine. A similar riot near the Harmon creek mine resulted in a second death.

DEFENSE LEADER TAKES CANOE RIDE

Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for Mrs. Granville Fortescue, Lt. Thomas H. Masie and two enlisted men, coming in from a ride in Hawaiian outrigger canoe at Honolulu with Russell Owen and members of the Kahanamokus family. Darrow is wrapped in white towel.

BRIBERY CHARGED TO OFFICIALS

City Commissioners R. Earl Riley, John M. Mann and Mayor George L. Baker (left to right) of Portland, Ore., were indicted by a grand jury accused of malfeasance in office and advocating the commission of a felony, namely bribery.

DEFENDANTS UNSMILING AFTER FIRST DAY IN COURT

The four persons who are on trial in Honolulu on charges of killing a native in front of the Judiciary Building waiting to enter automobiles to take them to Pearl Harbor navy yard. Left to right: Albert G. Jones, Edmund J. Lord, Lt. Thomas H. Masie, U.S.N., and Mrs. Granville Fortescue. In the background are Robert Bell and Mrs. Helen Ripley, brother and sister of Mrs. Fortescue.

SMALL TO BATTLE CHICAGOAN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Another political fight between Chicago and downstate Illinois was forecast by results of the state's primary vote, in which Len Small (right), former governor, again was chosen to head the state's republican ticket in the November election. Opposing him will be Judge Henry Horner (center in group at left) of Chicago, democratic nominee whose campaign was sponsored by political forces led by Chicago's mayor, Anton J. Cermak (phone in hand).

PLAYWRIGHT AND ARTIST MARRY

Hugo Rumbold, brother of the British ambassador to Berlin and an artist, and his bride, the former Zoe Atkins, playwright, after their wedding in Pasadena, Cal.

AWAY FROM COURT ANOTHER DAY

Three defendants in the Kahahawai second degree murder trial leaving court with their chief counsel, Clarence Darrow, in Honolulu. Left to right: Lt. Thomas H. Masie, Darrow, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and E. J. Lord. The fourth defendant, A. O. Jones, doesn't show in the picture.

'BREADLINE FROLICS' CAST SINGS THE BLUES AWAY

Part of the cast of the "Breadline Frolics," a unique revue to be staged by jobless men in Chicago, is shown rehearsing one of its anti-blues numbers. Sponsored by a society group, the show will contain none but jobless performers, and proceeds will go to unemployment relief. Nightshirts and overalls will be the only costumery.