COAST HELPED BY GRAIN SALE

Washington, May 12 (AP)—How the sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China benefitted growers and millers in the Pacific northwest was related today by Chairman Stone of the farm board. As a result of the large wheat government from that section, the chairman said prices there have averaged above Chicago quotations although ordinarily they are ten or fifteen cents below.

The last shipment to China was made April 18. Thirty-four mills participated in supplying the flour, those in the Columbia river section supplying 61 per cent and those around Puget Sound the remaining. Stone said 40 per cent of the wheat and flour was sent to China in ships flying the American flag.

He pointed out also that besides providing employment in the 34 mills, the wheat sale had involved the expenditure of $75,000 at Tacoma and Seattle for longshoremen and other expenses and about $112,500 was spent at Portland, Astoria and Longview.

The chairman said that a recent examination of all remaining stabilization wheat stocks showed that slightly more than 89 per cent was in good millable shape. The small fraction composing the remainder, Stone said, showed only a trace of an odor and could be used.

Mr. Cowart went a mile from home last night to receive the news, for at the Cowart farm there is no telephone. Then he hurried to tell Mrs. Cowart, mother of the 19-year-old son who now is perhaps the most widely known "guy" in the navy even though he has been in the service only two months.

Akron Accident Tragic for Parents

Elkhart, Ind., May 12 (AP)—"Boy! I hope we do get to help moor the Akron! That's something to write home about."

Mrs. Lottie Edsall read these words Tuesday, in a letter from her son, Robert, recently home from training quarters on the Pacific coast. He had written her the letter on Monday's day.

Last night, as she and the boy's father, Jay J. Edsall, returned home at 7 o'clock, they received a telegram from the naval authorities telling of his death while attempting to moor the giant airship at San Diego.

The parents said his body will be brought to Elkhart, accompanied by his "buddy" in the service, David Loose of Chicago, who enlisted in the navy the same day that young Edsall did, July 2, 1930, and had been with him, since they entered the Great Lakes naval training station together.

Pot Likker Heralded As Preventative Of Appendicitis Cases

New Orleans, La., May 12 (UP)—Pot likker to likker to prevent appendicitis was heralded today before the American Medical association. Dr. Frank K. Boland of Atlanta, addressing the annual convention of the nation's doctors here, paid tribute to the official state dish of Louisiana, now made famous in the United States senate cafeteria in Washington by Senator Huey P. Long.

He said few negroes have appendicitis and one reason is that they live quite extensively on "pot likker."

Dr. Boland urged a change in the American diet, to check the great increase in appendicitis in this country.

He said he found in a survey of 4,270 cases of acute appendicitis in Atlanta from 1927 to 1931, that only 286 of the cases were negroes.

"The reason was that most negroes of the south live on a natural diet of corn bread, peas, cabbage and pot likker, which is turnip green juice."

"Twenty years ago appendicitis was a novelty in this country. Now it is almost a plague. People eat what has been pickled, pickled, frozen, thawed and sterilized."

He said the death rate from appendicitis had advanced from 9.7 in 1900 to 15.3 in 1929.

TENDER NO BIDS ON POWER PLANT

As forecast by the Capital Journal yesterday there were no bids to open when 3 o'clock this afternoon, the time set by the board of control for receiving tenders on the construction of a state power plant here, rolled around.

Bids were called for on plans and specifications for a diesel generating plant at the state penitentiary prepared by a special committee composed of State Senator W. E. Burke, J. W. McArthur and M. H. McGuire.

In lieu of the bids called for the board did today receive three suggestions relative to the problem of supplying electric power for state purposes. One from the C. C. Moore company suggested that alternative bids be asked on steam and diesel plants. The Worthington company suggested that more time be given contractors to prepare their offers, suggested that separate bids be called for on the generators, transmission lines, buildings and other equipment. They also complained as to the uncertainty of payment and as to the amount of work and equipment involved under the specifications prepared by the special committee.

A. C. McMicken of the Portland General Electric company, suggested that new bids be called for supplying power to the state.

MERGER BILL FILED WITH HOSS

The proposed initiative measure to consolidate institutions of higher learning was filed with the secretary of state last night, and was sent to the attorney general for a title. Henry Zorn, representing the Marion County Tax Equalization league filed the preliminary petition.

The measure, which would join the two state colleges into one at Corvallis, make a teachers college at Eugene and Junior college at Ashland and LaGrande, eliminating the Monmouth normal school, will require 17,000 signatures to place the bill on the November ballot. Circulation of petitions will start immediately upon receipt of the title, Zorn said. The completed petitions must be filed with the secretary of state by July 7.

The preliminary petition states the act will provide for a "unified and more economical conduct, management, maintenance, operation and control of all institutions of higher learning publicly supported and conducted by the state." Under the provisions there would be one state university at Corvallis; all three normal schools consolidated into one teachers college at Eugene and the Ashland and LaGrande plants turned into junior colleges. The Monmouth plant would be disposed of.

Other provisions include plans for the placing of the University of Oregon law school at Salem, and the medical college at Portland. The government of the institutions would be under the single board of higher education created by the 1929 legislature, with headquarters at Corvallis. One president, who would also be ex-officio secretary of the board, would supervise all institutions.

Howard Cole, annual manager, Ben Thomas, forensic manager and Zollic Volchok, yell leader were declared elected.

REFERENDUM UPON NO-TOBACCO CLAUSE

The Dalles, Ore., May 12 (UP)—Members of the city school board, under heavy fire for including a no-tobacco clause in teacher contracts, have decided to put the issue before the people at the school election next month.

The contracts specify that teachers may not use tobacco, even in the privacy of their homes, without forfeiture of their jobs. Decision to place the issue on the school ballot came after recall threats had been made against the board by local business men.

get over there and are helpless until this case is decided. So Judge Lewelling will take over the case, as it is rightfully in his department, and go through with it to a decision."

Lewelling will have some other important matters before him which were undecided by the late Judge Hill.

Foremost among these is the intangibles tax case in which the validity of the intangibles tax law is attacked. This had been set for hearing for March 16 and 17 about the time Judge Hill went to the hospital and it was continued.

The cases of DeGrace and Johnson against Corporation Commissioner Mott were also set for hearing before Judge Hill on March 14 and these were continued. These were cases to restrain Mott from removing the plaintiffs as officers of certain savings and loan associations.

The divorce case of R. C. Kochar against Frances Kochar was about half completed by Judge Hill when he went to the hospital and it will be up to Judge Lewelling to complete it. A number of minor matters are also on the docket but in the main Judge Hill had his docket very closely cleaned up.
