Gay Events Planned For Younger Set

Life for the members of the high school set is just one grand whirl these days with the activities preceding commencement in full sway, and the realization that graduation itself is not too far distant.

Picnics, teas, dances, and all that goes to make gaiety for the sub-debs keeps them busy glancing in their "date book" to see how many functions, to say nothing of classes, they have to attend before the graduation exercises at the Elsinore theater the third of June.

Saturday evening the Rainbow Girls will install Miss Alta Johnson as worthy advisor, and Miss Claudine Gueffroy, associate advisor, and officers will be installed for the coming year.

Monday the Snikpoh Dramatic society will give its annual picnic at Riverdale park. Miss Leila Johnson will act as chaperone for the event.

Sunday, May 29, Rev. Grover Birtchet will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the First Presbyterian church to the graduating class, and on Wednesday the senior class will enjoy a picnic, with Miss Mildred Christenson accompanying them as senior class advisor.

Graduation will be the highlight of all these festivities Friday morning, June 3, and that evening the junior-senior prom will be given at the high school in honor of the graduating class, and promises to be a gala climax for a memorable day. Miss Evelyn Haag will be in charge of the affair.

Independence Club Women Close Year

Independence—At the last meeting of the year for the Woman's club, considerable business came up for attention, in the way of reports of committees, appointments of new committees, presentations, and installation of officers for the new year. The meeting on Tuesday was well attended, Mrs. M. J. Butler, presiding.

A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed to examine and report any changes or corrections that might be necessary for the welfare of the organization. This committee is composed of Mrs. C. O. Sloper, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, and Mrs. D. P. McCarthy. A building committee to look after improvements to grounds and buildings was appointed. These committees are in addition to the regular committees appointed at the beginning of the year, such as program, finance, social, courtesy, civic, membership and committee on education.

Following the reports of committees for the past year, a representation was made to the club of a silver bell from a member of Mrs. P. M. Kirkland, of Portland, Mrs. Butler making the presentation. The club also made a presentation of a gift to Mrs. George Carbray, a member who is leaving for California. A certificate from the American Tree association at Washington , D. C., for observation of Washington's bi-centennial, was read.

Then followed the installation of officers, Mrs. M. J. Butler, retiring president, acting as installing officer. The following were the officers installed: president, Mrs. Elmer Barnart; first vice-president, Mrs. George F. Cohrs; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank E. Hennigan; secretary, Mrs. D. P. MacCarthy; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Thomas.

The building and grounds committee to look after the grounds for the summer, Mrs. Myra Montgomery, Mrs. R. M. Walker, Mrs. George F. Cohrs, Mrs. George C. Knott, Mrs. S. B. Walker.

A luncheon was served at the close to the members and a social hour enjoyed, bringing to a close a very successful year for the organization.

Emery Hobson in Interesting Recital

Approximately 150 guests, including several from Silverton, Albany, Woodburn and Portland, attended the recital Tuesday night at the Roberts studio when Miss Ruth Bedford presented Emery Stewart Hobson, youthful pianist.

The recital program was of more than usual interest for young Hobson's work has been followed closely by a number of friends and his poise, memory work, his growth in breadth of style, excellent technique and particularly his interpretations were highly commended. The program was entirely of Chopin compositions and the Schertzo, seldom played here, and the Polanaise were commented upon as masterful, and played with a delicacy of feeling and rich quality of tone that was outstanding. He has an unassuming stage presence combined with dignity of poise that is both appealing and refreshming.

Young Hobson has studied with Miss Bedford for the past three years. He is the son of Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Hobson and is a senior at Salem high school.

Conventions To Attract Club Women

Attention among local club women this coming week is being focused on two state-wide conventions being held at Portland.

The P.E.O. state convention at Portland Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be attended by Mrs. C. K. Logan, Mrs. Fred W. Lange and Mrs. C. A. Sprague as delegates of Chapter G and by Mrs. F. A. Elliott and Mrs. A. R. Hunter as delegates from Chapter AB. The B. I. L.-P. E. O. banquet Tuesday night at the Portland Masonic temple will be attended by other members of the local P. E. O. chapters and their husbands, and reservations for the banquet are being made with Mrs. Logan. Mrs. Zora Knight of Tecumseh, Okla., supreme president of the P. E. O. sisterhood, will attend the banquet. Convention sessions are being held at the First Congregational church and delegates' headquarters are at the Heathman hotel. The two Portland chapters, X and W, are acting as convention hosts.

The convention of the state federation of women's clubs will be held in the Multnomah hotel, Portland, from Wednesday to Saturday, inclusive. Mrs. Charles N. Bilyeu, of Dallas, federation president, will preside.

Salem women holding offices in the state federated women's clubs who will be in attendance are Mrs. Hannah Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Fordyce Fargo, poetry chairman and past president of the third district and director of the state federation; and Mrs. Mark McCallister, state music chairman.

Delegates from the Salem Woman's club who are planning to attend the convention sessions are Mrs. J. C. Tibbits, Mrs. Clifton Mudd, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. David Wright, Mrs. Frank M. Erickson and Mrs. F. H. Crosby. Miss Eula McCully and Mrs. Mary Bayne will serve as alternates. A number of the Salem club women are planning to motor to Portland Thursday afternoon to attend the silver tea at the Dornbecher hospital, which will be the special social event of the convention.

The convention will open informally Wednesday afternoon, following a morning board session and a luncheon given by the city federation honoring the state federation officers. All sessions will be held in the Multnomah hotel. Reports of officers and directors will be given Wednesday afternoon. The formal opening of the convention, with addresses of welcome, responses and speeches by the officers, will be held at the official banquet Wednesday night.

Special business coming up Thursday forenoon will be the revision of the constitution, and reports of the Doernbecher hospital and scholarship loan work. Thursday night, following the Doernbecher tea, a program will be given with William Kletzer speaking on the American Legion child welfare work.

Reports will continue throughout the Friday forenoon session. The different departments are presenting special features or programs during each session, and Friday afternoon the fine arts division will give a program in which Mrs. Fargo, Mrs. McCallister and Mrs. Harry Harms of Salem will take part. The departments also are holding luncheon conferences each day. Friday night the program will feature a talk by C. O. Rice, superintendent of Portland schools.

Nomination of officers will be held Friday afternoon and elections held Saturday morning. Resolutions, which will be introduced Thursday morning will be acted upon, and business concluded.

Because of the state federation session, the regular meeting of the Salem Woman's club has been postponed to Thursday, June 2.

Plan Modern Art Exhibit

Of interest to Salem art lovers is the news that Maurice Hudkins, young Salem artist, is to sponsor an exhibition of modern sculptoring here during the first week in June. The pieces are all products of students in the University of Oregon fine art department, and word comes from the critics who have viewed them in Portland, where they have been on exhibition in the Meier and Frank salon for the past month, that they are representative of the better modern pieces in granite and marble sculptoring.

Mr. Hudkins went to Portland Friday to confer with Mrs. Harold Dickson Marsh, who has sponsored the exhibition in Portland, and further details of the showing will be announced later.

Travellers Inspiration For Parties

Travellers are taking the center of the social spotlight at the present time. The late days of spring and the approach of summer seem to inspire a spirit of wanderlust that takes socially prominent folk from a jaunt to the beach or mountains to a trip across the continent or even abroad.

Mrs. H. J. Wiedmer is leaving Sunday by way of San Francisco for Omaha, Nebraska, where she will visit with relatives and friends near that city for several months. She will return to Salem by way of Kansas City and Los Angeles. A farewell party for Mrs. Wiedmer was given earlier this week by Mrs. Ray Hartman and Mrs. Fred Brock at the Hartman home. A few of the honor guest's most intimate friends were bidden for the afternoon of contract bridge which was followed by a handkerchief shower for Mrs. Weidmer.

Mrs. Grant Day, who is leaving Sunday for Nebraska accompanied by her daughter, Phyllis, for a stay of several months, was the inspiration for a charmingly informal tea Thursday afternoon with Mrs. E. B. Millard and Mrs. J. D. Foley hostesses at the Millard home. A handkerchief and gift shower for Mrs. Day were features of the afternoon.

* * *

Mrs. C. C. Poling will be honored on her 76th birthday anniversary Sunday with a dinner at the C. C. Poling home. Mrs. Poling has made her home in Salem and vicinity for almost 50 years, coming here as a bride. Dr. and Mrs. Poling will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in September.

Three of Mrs. Poling's daughters, Mrs. H. A. Good and Mrs. Walter Wood of Portland and Mrs. Ethel Poling Phelps of Salem will be present in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Poling and H. A. Good, Miss Mabel Irene Good, Walter Wood and Barbara Jane Wood. Telegrams will be received from her sons in the east.
