

CIVIL SERVICE FOR POLICEMEN GOES ON BALLOT

Only Alderman A. S. Henderson voted against an ordinance bill last night referring to the people at the November election a bill to put the city police department under the civil service.

The move to give the department the privileges of civil service follows closely on the voting of civil service for the fire department at the election of May 20.

The council passed a bill amending the zoning ordinance so that apartment houses in class 2 residential districts may establish multiple garages and parking lots. It was believed the absence of this provision in the existing ordinance was due to error in the printing of the ordinance.

On recommendation of the committee on committees, Alderman Henderson was appointed chairman of the committee on ordinances and member of the ways and means, accounts and current expenses, and health and sanitation committees. These committee posts were vacated by the retirement of Alderman W. D. Evans.

The ordinance bill to provide a $100 annual license tax on wood dealers, for the benefit of the dealers operating plants in the city in competition with dealers from the outside, was killed by the adoption of an adverse committee report.

Sidewalk bids for the construction of a large number of walks, mostly within 12 blocks of the city center, were accepted. The names of contractors submitting the low bids were published several days ago.

Instructions were given City Engineer Rogers to extend the city sewer to the district bounded by Columbia, Pine, Front and Commercial streets.

The two-hour parking restriction was extended to High street between Ferry and Trade.

In response to a request from the local chapter of the Oregon Building Congress, made through Frank P. Marshall, the council gave the builders the privilege of roping off Church street from Court to Ferry for an exhibit of floats at next Saturday's building day celebration.

The floats on exhibition in the afternoon will be those appearing in the parade in the forenoon.

Failure of Salem property owners to cut weeds and grass from vacant lots and parking strips without such action being forced by the city was taken cognizance of last night, and a resolution covering the situation will be brought in at the next meeting.

NIGHT PASSENGER FLYING DEVELOPS
New York (UP)—One of the outstanding developments in commercial aviation in the United States last year was the rapid increase in night flying with passenger transports as well as mail express planes.

The figures on night flying are impressive. American air transport lines carrying on scheduled daily operations flew 17,158,191 miles in 1931 at night. About 40 per cent of the present daily scheduled mileage is flown at night. The total mileage flown in Europe (exclusive of Russia) in 1931 was 22,500,000 miles. Of this approximately 700,000 or 2.97 per cent was flown at night.

The largest night operator in the world is United Air Lines, which is flying 6,000,000 miles a year at night out of its total of 14,000,000 miles annually, and frequently has as many as 18 mail-passenger planes flying simultaneously at night in various parts of the country.

MILL CITY BEATEN
Mill City—Oregon City's town team came to Mill City Sunday and carried away the honors in both games against the Mill City town team. The first game was a full nine innings with Oregon City making all the scores, 7 to 0. The second game, seven innings, was also one-sided, the score being 11 to 0.

The pitcher for Mill City in the first game was Gore, and Murphy pitched for Oregon City. In the second game Huneford pitched for the visitors and Gore and Ivan Fink for the local team. Norman Tufford and C. Chance umpired the first game and O. Williams and C. Chance umpired the second game.

Council Hears Offer To Lease Airport For Use As Sheep Pasture

What is the city going to do with the municipal airport? That question is before the city council, and it seems to be a very troublesome question. There are four possible solutions, according to proposals heard at the city council meeting last night. They are:

- 1—Continue it as a municipal enterprise.
- 2—Lease it to the Eyerly Aircraft corporation at a small rental fee.
- 3—Lease it to Alderman Henry Vandevort for a sheep pasture.
- 4—Cut it up into lots and sell it to pay off the bonds.

Last night's argument arose over the reading of a proposed contract between the city and the Eyerly corporation.

VETERAN HIKER FOLLOWS RULES

Cleveland, O.—Donald Stewart's advice to prospective hitch hikers is "Don't." And he claims to be an authority on that matter of traveling, having just completed an 8,000-mile trip to the Pacific coast and return.

"The game isn't what it used to be," Stewart said. "There are too many hitch hikers on the road."

But for those who will disregard the advice of the veteran, Stewart offers the following suggestions for hitch hikers:

- One—Do not stand in the middle of the road and thumb. Instead, cultivate the friendship of a filling station operator, or a hotel man. Either might be able to arrange a ride for you.
- Two—Keep your clothing in the best possible shape. Shave every day.
- Three—Wear a light suit. Too many dark clothed fellows are responsible for lowering the standards of the hitch hikers.
- Four—Talk to drivers in a straight forward manner.
- Five—In dealing with dowagers, bow from the hips and smile. Crave her indulgence in the sweetest of tones and present your references.
- Six—Always carry your credentials.

BOATING RECIPE FOR LONG LIVING

Buffalo, N. Y. (UP)—The best recipe for a ripe old age is plenty of boating, according to Dr. Elish P. Hussey, 86.

An audience of 500 "landlubbers" heard Dr. Hussey give the initial lesson in a "ground school" course in yachting at the Buffalo Yacht club headquarters.

"Some landlubbers may get a thrill out of knocking a little ball into a hole in the ground," Dr. Hussey said. "But I don't want to even mention them. Let's talk about the yachting."

"There is something spiritual in every mood of the sea, from a dead calm to the heaviest gale. It takes you out of yourself. It builds the serenity and depth of character which is the basis of a long and happy life. There is something missing from the life of every man who has not held a tiller."

"If you would live deeply, live well, and live long, own a boat."

BUILDING TO SHELTER VETS TO BE OFFERED

Washington, June 21 (UP)—Apparently convinced that the bonus expeditionary force is here to stay, Police Superintendent Glassford is negotiating to rent a vacant building that would house 2,000 or 3,000 of the army of destitute World war veterans.

Authorities have hoped from day to day that the army would begin to dissolve. Instead, it is their hopes that have faded. Officials now hope the veterans may begin to leave when congress adjourns, perhaps late this week.

But leaders of the bonus army assert confidently that this will no more deplete the 18,000 now here than did the senate vote last Friday by which the bonus bill was killed.

The leaders have sent recruiting agents to all parts of the country and confidently expect to increase their forces here to 50,000. They plan also to build up a reserve strength of 150,000 veterans to campaign at home against Congressmen who opposed the bonus.

Meanwhile the veterans at their camps and billets throughout the city have settled down to a dull routine. Meals are regular though meagre. There are all the details they became accustomed to during the war—kitchen police, guard duty, minute-men, lectures.

Little attention is paid to the future. What determination exists is directed to hanging on from day to day.

Despite foul weather, the army has developed a degree of comfort. Sanitary conditions are improved. Trash is collected regularly.

A bulletin board announces under the caption "Attention Mothers" that fresh milk can be obtained for children at "the Toledo tent—follow the fence." Several families are still living at the camp despite authorities' efforts to move them to better quarters.

Night Patrolman Given To Yew Park

The Yew Park and South 12th street district of the city is to have a night police patrolman, and it won't be necessary to appoint an additional member of the force for the purpose, the police committee reported to the city council last night.

The report was in reply to a petition from the district asking for an officer to take the place of the late Officer O. F. Victor.

The officer will be on duty after July 1 when he returns from his vacation. In the meantime a special officer, who is being paid from the city emergency fund, is on duty in the district.

Gobbler On Job After Hen Gets Chased Off Nest

Independence—W. F. Ramey has a turkey gobbler that he claims is a descendant from "sittin' bull".

A few weeks ago he set a Rhode Island Red hen on a nest of eggs and after a week the gobbler in question, drove her from her nest and took up his abode there and has stayed by it.

He has been setting on the eggs for over a week now and doesn't seem disposed to give it up. Ramey is awaiting with curiosity to see whether he can count his chickens after three weeks, and what disposition the gobbler will make of them.

Ramey operates a city delivery here and has a small acreage west of town, where his family farms on a small scale.

EVANGEL KNOWN AS SIN KILLER

Springfield, Mo. (UP)—Just who had the empery to apply it publicly no one seems to know, but, at any rate, he's known hereabouts as "Sin Killer."

Far more simple is the reason therefor. The Rev. J. S. Butler, colored, is an exponent of the typical southern negro "camp meetin' gospel doctor."

During the three weeks he presided over and exhorted in a recent revival, "Sin Killer" received many invitations to preach at various places. He had to turn them down, for his meetings here, where he "concentrates and consecrates," occupy all his time.

He's confronted now with the problem of finding a tent that will accommodate his followers.

"When I get me a tent, a real big tent," the negro preacher promised, "I'll sure turn this town topsyturvy. It's old-time religion we need. That's what we're going to get."

Off for Quindaro, Kan., to deliver a commencement sermon to students of Quindaro university, "Sin Killer" wasn't just sure how to spell the name of the town. But he disposed of that problem without a quail.

"The conductor man," he shrugged, "will know where I wants to go."

ROTARY HEAD FROM LONDON STIRS SESSION

Seattle, June 21 (UP)—A ringing speech for aid in bringing order out of chaos in strife torn India was fresh in the memory of about 5,000 delegates as they swung into the first active business session of Rotary International's 23rd annual convention at civic auditorium today.

Rotary's distinguished president, Sydney W. Pascall of London, outlined observations of a world tour that touched many lands and climes and urged Rotary to join in a policy of mutual understanding to build up the social fabric of a new India.

He suggested Rotary establish a branch secretariat of headquarters in the middle east, preferably Bangalore. He urged a conference of Rotary clubs in India and Ceylon to consider establishing a district magazine in India extension.

The globe-girdling address of President Pascall was the striking feature of formal opening of the convention last night, before a cosmopolitan audience representing nearly 70 nations.

The international aspect of Rotary was exemplified by his citing of the personnel of the Bombay club, which included seven Hindus, four Mohammedans, 11 Parsians, five Jews, five Swis, 69 British, two Americans, one Japanese and two Swedes.

There were many addresses of welcome at the formal opening, including Governor Hartley of Washington, Mayor Dore of Seattle, Almon E. Roth, past president, Palo Alto, Cal. and Morgan Eastman, governor of the first district, embracing British Columbia.

The convention was called to order today by R. L. Hill, Columbia, Mo., chairman of the convention committee. Adoption of a program, reports of officers and nominations for officers and directors were included.

Outstanding addresses scheduled were Louis E. Steinmann, Antwerp, Belgium, chairman of the vocational service committee; Ernst Prinzhorn, Vienna, Austria, member of the community service committee; Glyndon H. Crocker, Corland, N. Y., on "stamping out illiteracy"; Henry G. Bennett, governor 12th district, Ullwater, Okla., and Edward B. Degroot, Los Angeles, chairman of boys' work committee.

Take heart—lively activity will come again after the wonderful benefit Allenuri brings has made you cheerful and happy.

And remember this, Allenuri is just as effective for neuritis, sciatica and lumbago.

FRENCH POLICE LEARN ENGLISH

Paris (UP)—Teaching English by electricity is the latest innovation inaugurated by the Paris Prefecture of Police, the method being not only painless but also apparently permanent.

M. Confida, employed by the Police department, has one hundred pupils, whom he instructs in a large open air court. His schoolroom blackboard consists of a large electric sign board about the size of a baseball scoreboard, upon which are some eighty pockets of rectangular shape containing the 80 key-words to English, German, Italian and Spanish. Professor Confida believes that a stranger can get himself about in any country if he is perfectly familiar with the meanings and uses of these eighty key-words.

The class is making rapid progress, according to the instructor. The class numbers two hundred and there rarely is an absence.

Do you inhale?

The tobacco trade is at "sixes and sevens" on this embarrassing question

Do you inhale? This simple question caught the cigarette trade by surprise! "Why bring that up?" they asked. "Why don't you let well-enough alone?"

But "well-enough" is not enough for Lucky Strike! The subject of inhaling is vitally important... for every smoker inhales knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike dares to raise this vital question... because Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf! Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes!
